INTRODUCTION

Michael Rua (1837-1910) was a pupil, then the lifetime collaborator and finally, the first successor of St John Bosco as Rector Major of the Salesian Society (1888-1910). During his Rectorate the Salesians grew from 1030 members in 64 houses to 4420 confreres scattered across the globe. These letters offer the reader a glimpse of the character of their writer and of the pastoral care he took of a small group of relatively insignificant Salesians in what was very often the inhospitable atmosphere of the British Empire at the height of its power.

Although Don Rua's virtues and life have been critically analysed and written about during the process of his beatification, there still remains much to be discovered of the man who by inclination and deliberate choice, was largely overshadowed (at least in the minds of most Salesians) by the towering charismatic figure of Don Bosco. What is presented here is a collection of 238 letters that Don Rua sent to the confreres of the English Province in the twenty years of his Rectorate. They represent only a tiny fragment of what must have been the unrelenting and massive correspondence that he carried on with the confreres in every mission right across the world.

While we must be very careful not to draw any general conclusions from this tiny sample and while this correspondence evidently focuses on the immediate problems of a particular historical and geographical situation, nonetheless, the personality of the writer, his outlook, his spirituality and style of governance and his underlying concerns do clearly emerge from even a cursory reading of these letters.

The fact that so much of this correspondence survives despite there being no copies kept for reference by the sender is largely the result of the devotion and care taken by some of the early confreres of the English Province. Frs. Macey, Bonavia, Rabagliati and Tozzi were among the first recipients. Fr James Simonetti who served as Novice Master for 53 years and Fr Angelo Franco were also aware of the letters and the desire to preserve them. In an age that was more concerned with making Salesian history than recording it, they recognised the importance of these letters as testimony to the sanctity of Don Rua and as a precious source for the heritage of the province.

Fr Martin McPake, who served as both novice master and Regional Councillor for the English Speaking Salesian Region, took a strong interest in collecting Don Rua's letters not only from England but also from other parts of the region such as South Africa, Malta, and from the central archives in Rome. This book stands as his testament and memorial.

In the main they are addressed to Fr Charles Macey who was sent to England in 1887 and became the Superior the following year on the unfortunate death of Fr McKiernan from tuberculosis. Fr Macey remained effectively in charge until 1919. Don Rua corresponded with Fr Macey for twenty years and his patience and perseverance with the problems involved are worthy of comment. Other correspondents frequently addressed by Don Rua were Fr Enea Tozzi, who was sent to England as Novice Master before he was ordained and then went to Cape Town to extract the foundation there from the bankruptcy into which it had fallen, and also Fr Rabagliati who was one of the original pioneer group who went to Battersea in 1887 and who succeeded Fr Macey as Rector of Battersea when he became Provincial. Some of the letters are addressed to other correspondents but are set in the same context of the English province.

What we have are 238 personal letters, which range from short notes scribbled on the backs of visiting cards, to two – and three – page letters. All are hand-written, most in the Secretary's hand, though Don Rua usually took the trouble to fill in the names and places and sign them personally. If these letters to the confreres of the English province are in any way typical then, given that the province consisted of effectively a couple of houses in England and a house in Cape Town, Don Rua's correspondence must have been immense. He himself remarked on Don Bosco's extraordinary and laborious correspondence, but this comment might well apply to Don Rua himself. What touches the reader more than anything else is Don Rua's deep personal concern for young people and Salesians themselves to which these letters bear witness. The person of Don Rua as Rector Major that these letters reveal is far different from the ascetic and somewhat remote figure that his portraits convey but rather of a man who brought deeply human gifts of a heart and soul to the ministry of guiding the Society.

The writer

Michael Rua was born in Turin on the 9th June 1837, the last of nine children of John Rua and his second wife Joanna Maria Ferrera Rua. The death of his father when Michael was eight must have left its mark and it was in September 1845 that he first began to attend the Oratory (at that time in the Rifugio)¹. In 1848, while he was attending the Christian Brothers school in Turin, he met Don Bosco (who used to come to hear confessions) and began to attend the Oratory more regularly. In 1850, when he had finished school, his obvious intelligence made Don Bosco suggest that he begin the study of Latin along with Felix Reviglio, first with Fr Merla and then at the school of Professor Bonzanino. While engaged in his studies, Michael also helped with teaching catechism to the younger boys at the Oratory.

In 1852, he was invited by Don Bosco to receive the cassock as a sign of his serious desire to study for the priesthood and he began his studies of Philosophy and Theology at the diocesan Seminary. While he was thus occupied he took a more and more active role in the running of the Oratory itself, gradually assuming the duties of General Assistant for discipline, in charge of the dining room and eventually Director of the school programme as well as running the Oratory of St Aloysius Gonzaga.

On January 26th 1854 Don Bosco first introduced to his helpers the idea of founding a religious order and the chronicle records that the cleric Rua accepted this proposal with a lively sense of joy and offered himself with four other companions to Don Bosco for consideration. In the following year Don Bosco accepted the private vows of Michael Rua and in 1860 Michael was ordained priest. Fr Francesia recalled that after his first Mass at the Oratory (at the celebration that followed) Michael thanked them all for the kind tributes, etc. and solemnly promised that he would dedicate his whole life to the Christian education of poor youngsters. Fr Francesia remarked: I am delighted to be able to say that he was faithful to his promises².

After his ordination, Don Bosco encouraged Michael in good preaching by inviting him to preach at the Oratory and to various religious communities. He also continued to study Moral Theology with Canon Zappata, and he completed his Teachers Diploma at the University of Turin in 1863.

Don Bosco then sent him to be the Rector of the first Salesian foundation outside Turin, at Mirabello where he stayed for two years. According to Ruffino's chronicle, he behaved just like Don Bosco: he was always with the youngsters, attracting them by his amiable character and because he was always telling them new things.

On the death of Fr Victor Alosonatti in 1865 he was recalled to Turin to become the Prefect and General Administrator of the Oratory, and on the 15th November he made his perpetual vows as a Salesian. The responsibilities that he exercised, especially during the absences of Don Bosco, undoubtedly weighed on him. He worked so hard that Don Bosco once commented that “there is only one person here who might, but for the grace of God, die of work... and that is Don Rua who is always working more than the others”.

In 1869 the Society received its Decree of Approval and in 1874 the Rule was approved and Don Rua was appointed as Prefect General, first in place after the Rector Major. By a decree of the Congregation for Bishops and Regulars, in 1884 he was appointed Vicar General of the Society and in 1888 on the death of Don Bosco became the Rector Major of the Salesians.

For the next 22 years Don Rua was to guide the growth of the society. At Don Bosco's death there were 64 houses in 6 countries, while during Don Rua's period in office he made 341 new foundations. The Salesians found themselves in 29 new countries, including North and South Africa, the United States, India and China.

He encouraged the development of the work of the Oratories by introducing Social Circles, he developed the theoretical and technical programmes in the Trades schools and introduced technical and commercial subjects into Grammar school curriculum. He also promoted the work of the Missions among the Kivaros in Ecuador and the Bororos in Brazil. During his period of office the decisions of the various General Chapters were incorporated into the Revised Constitutions as the Organic Articles, which were later to become the definitive Regulations of the Salesian Society.

It has to be said that physically and temperamentally he was completely different from Don Bosco. He was slightly built and much less of an extrovert than the founder. His task of taking on the expansion of the work of the Society after Don Bosco's death (which depended almost completely on the charitable donations of the friends of Don Bosco) meant an enormous personal outreach to contact, persuade and encourage their charity. In the Church at large, many found it impossible to believe that the Salesians could survive without Don Bosco. Some suggested that the Salesians should be amalgamated with another more stable order. Only with the resolute intervention of Mgr Manacorda, Bishop of Fossano, was Don Rua nominated as Rector Major for 12 years³. Among the Salesians themselves, even some of the most prominent members like Don Barberis⁴ found themselves reluctant to accept Don Rua's leadership in place of their beloved Father and Founder.

In 1899 and in 1901 when the Holy Office forbade the Rectors to hear the confessions of any of their dependants, despite Don Rua's efforts to reach an understanding, a number of them knelt outside his room in protest, because he refused to hear their confessions⁵. His reputation as the 'living rule' and the severity of his iconography have not helped to endear him to a new generation today, even more conscious, perhaps, of the visual image and unaware of the difficulties he faced in taking over from such an evidently charismatic leader. His latter years as Rector Major were not without their trials. Rome's decision to separate the Salesian Sisters from the Congregation in 1906, the suppression of the houses of Ecuador 1896, France in 1902 and the loss of 9 confreres and 39 pupils in the Sicilian earthquake all touched his heart. More painful still was the so called Varazze Affair when in July 1907 two Salesians were accused of indecent acts with minors and of saying 'Black Masses'. Two confreres were imprisoned pending investigation and the anti-clerical press whipped up the crowds who attacked other Salesian schools in the area. Eventually the charges were traced to the heated imagination of one of the pupils and his imaginary diary⁶. In the meantime Don Rua was devastated and suffered till the trial found the Salesians not guilty.

Writing in a circular letter in 1907 Don Rua recalled that after Don Bosco died, he solemnly promised, kneeling beside the corpse of our good Father, that he would do everything in his power, in so far as he could, to preserve his spirit, his teaching and the minutest traditions of Don Bosco's family⁷. That he took his promises seriously is abundantly evident from the letters that follow. He spent himself unstintingly in an enormous work of correspondence and visitation that is now difficult to imagine. He died on April 6th 1910, as the whole society was preparing to celebrate his Golden Jubilee of Ordination.

Don Rua's correspondents

The vast majority of the letters are addressed to Charles Bernard Macey who was Superior of the Salesians in England from 1889, after the death of Fr Edward McKiernan, till 1909 when he was replaced by Fr Francis Scaloni.

⁵ See William John DICKSON, The dynamics of growth. The foundation and development of the Salesians in England. (= ISS – Studi, 8). Roma, LAS 1991, p. 151. Holy Office decrees of 1899 and 1901 in M. WIRTH, Don Bosco...

Charles Bernard Macey was born in Salisbury, Wiltshire, on December 28th 1854, to a Protestant family with 12 children. He worked in a men's outfitters and came to the notice of one of the leading Catholic lay women of the age, Lady Herbert of Lea, because of his attendance at the Catholic Church where she worshipped. He became a Catholic at the age of 16 and spent some time as a pupil at Downside Abbey, near Bath, probably at her instigation. Wanting to become a priest, he was advised to go to Don Bosco in Turin (again by Lady Herbert) who had written an appreciation of Don Bosco for the Jesuit periodical The Month. In 1880, at the age of 25, he entered the Oratory and was the first Englishman to receive the cassock from Don Bosco. He professed at San Benigno Canavese on 4th October 1882 and spent some time working in the Salesian House in Nice before he was ordained in Turin on Sept 24th 1887, just before joining the first group of Salesians who arrived at Battersea on Nov. 16th 1887, welcomed by Fr Francis Bourne. When Fr McKiernan died on 30th December 1888, Fr Macey was asked by Don Rua to take over⁸.

For the next 20 years Don Rua corresponded regularly with Fr Macey. Much of the correspondence is taken up by the financial problems of buying property and building the Sacred Heart Church in Battersea and the other houses in England. More significant, perhaps, was the encouragement that Don Rua always offered to a Superior who, in many ways, was far from ideal. What Fr Macey seems to have been able to do best was to inspire a number of young men to join the Salesian Society. During his period of office, the number of Salesians (including novices) rose from 4 to 75, and his kindly manner and his gentlemanly ways won him immense affection and lasting loyalty from many of his subjects.

However, his relatively short experience of Salesian life at the source and his tendency to adopt prevailing English 'clerical' models of priesthood and religious life had serious consequences for the development of the work in England. The fact that the coadjutor brothers often felt like second-class members of the community and that the Irish also felt unappreciated, marked the weaknesses of a man who was often accused of having favourites⁹. The adoption of clerical dress for the coadjutor brothers and the use of religious titles such as Brother and the use of religious names, all come from Fr Macey's own particular background¹⁰. The extraordinary Visitation by Fr Virion in 1908, highlighted the problems involved in Macey's personal style of regime¹¹. As a result Fr Macey was replaced as Provincial by Fr Francis Scaloni, the Provincial of Belgium on 31.8.1909.

The absence of Fr Scaloni during the First World War from 1915, left Fr Macey in charge again, till he finally retired to Chertsey in 1919 (with some of his favourite disciples) where he died on August 4th 1928.

A second large group of letters were addressed to Fr Eugenio Rabagliati. He was born into an extraordinary 'Salesian' family at Occimiano, near Casale, in the Monferrato region just outside Turin. His older brother Evasio joined the Salesians in 1875 and become one of the pioneers of work for the lepers in Columbia. Eugenio entered the Salesian school at Borgo San Martino and made his first vows in 1885. As a sub-deacon he came to England in 1889 and was ordained priest later the same year. He acted as the Choir Master at Battersea till Fr Barni came in 1893 (and for many years after he left in 1896). He became Rector there from 1904-5 and went to Chertsey where he died in 1928. His family contacts with Turin, his personal relationship with Don Rua, as well as the ease with which he wrote Italian, meant that he was a frequent correspondent of Don Rua and the other superiors including Frs. Albera and Rinaldi. Yet, while he played what might be termed a very secondary role, both Fr Macey and Fr Rua trusted him implicitly. He seems to have had a somewhat anxious and timorous nature and found the job of Rector very unpalatable. That the school at Chertsey ever got off the ground can be attributed (at least in part) to his zeal in contacting Italian families and persuading them to send their sons to the new boarding school there.

Fr Enea Tozzi was the other most significant correspondent. He was born in Lugo near Ravenna in Italy on April 7th 1875. While he was a student at the Salesian school in Faenza he had the chance to spend three days at the Oratory in Turin. When he went to greet Don Bosco, the saint drew him aside and said: "We aren't friends", which the young Tozzi took as a sign that Don Bosco knew that he had promised his mother not to fall into Don Bosco's net. After a couple of days when Tozzi had changed his mind and went to say goodbye, Don Bosco replied: "See! Now we are friends and you will never ever abandon Don Bosco". He made his novitiate at Foglizzo and his final vows at Turin on 23rd Nov and completed his studies of philosophy at the Gregorian University in Rome. He was ordained in Turin in 1897 and came to England in 1898. He worked at Burwash in 1898, where he taught philosophy and was Novice Master for the coadjutor candidates. In 1902, he was sent to Cape Town to take Fr Barni's place after the bankruptcy and remained there till 1926 when he was appointed as Provincial of the English Province till ¹¹ Ibid., pp. 166ff.

1940, when he was moved to the USA as Extraordinary Visitor and the Rector Major's Special Representative for the Allied Countries and Central America and later as Provincial. He returned to England to the House of Theology at Melchet Court and died at Sherfield English on 26th February 1959. Most of the letters refer to his time as Rector of Cape Town and they involved the problems of a lack of personnel and of trying to build a new Institute. Perhaps, above all, it was the personal support that Don Rua gave to Fr Tozzi that was the most important feature of the correspondence.

Fr Tozzi's piety and zeal were undoubted, even by his critics, as was his business sense and capacity for detailed administration. Writing in 1914, Fr Scaloni commented: It is certain that this house finds itself in a very difficult situation. The virtue and the capabilities of the Rector are unquestionable, but his health is deeply compromised. It really seems that his back and (even more) his heart are affected, which results in a nervous excitability from which he suffers and which at the same time alienates the hearts of his less virtuous confreres. Furthermore, his temperament (which is not very expansive, rather timid, and quite austere) does not allow him to let people forget the just reprimands he gives, in which there is a certain excess of formality (notwithstanding a smiling face and an amiable manner)¹².

Don Rua's personal encouragement and genuine care, evident in his letters, were aimed at building up the quality of the direction of the Salesian work right across the world.

Don Rua's style of pastoral care

The care Don Rua took to reply to each of his correspondents was proverbial¹³ and his sensitivity to their feelings is shown in this reply he wrote to a group of Battersea pupils who had sent him Feast Day Greetings:

"My dear Sons of the House of London, Many thanks for your letters and good wishes for the feast of our revered patron St Francis de Sales. I wanted to read through them all, each in turn, and this explains why only now am I in a position to reply and thank you, something I do from the heart, for the kind feelings you expressed and for the good dispositions you show. May the Lord bless your good intentions and grant you always to persevere in them. My special and cordial congratulations to those who wrote in Italian and I urge them to keep up their study of this language. For the rest I look forward to hearing from them in Italian at some future date"¹⁴.

Writing to Fr Giovanni Cerutti in South Africa, Don Rua shows a level of personal feeling for the plight of two orphaned boys which probably reflects his own personal experience of losing his father at eight years of age:

“I am sure that you must know by now, the misfortune that has overtaken the young Weglia brothers: they have lost both their parents through mushroom poisoning. I have been asked to look after them in their sad plight and so I earnestly commend them to your care, asking you to give them board and lodging and find a guardian for them in agreement with the authorities. Since this is such a clear case of charity, I trust you will do everything you can to see this matter through and make holy and generous provision for these orphans”¹⁵

For Don Rua, who was clearly aware of the financial problems of the Cape Town house, to ask for this generous provision is indeed, an act of charity, which he could appropriately call ‘holy’.

Obviously, as Rector Major, his more normal area of direct pastoral concern was that of the Salesians themselves. When Fr Bonavia died, Rua wrote to Fr Charles B. Macey with warmth that comes across as both deeply felt and generous:

“No sooner had I received Fr Rabagliati’s letter and your card with the disturbing news of Fr Bonavia’s grave condition than a telegram arrived announcing his death! The sorrow it caused me was as deep as your own, and I offer you my heartfelt sympathy – I know you will pray much in suffrage for his soul: we shall do the same. We entertain the hope that the Lord will welcome him soon into his everlasting embrace, if he has not yet done so. I cannot praise you too highly for all the attentions you showered on him in the effort to stave off the catastrophe. God will reward you... Be brave in the meantime, don’t lose heart, but keep on working with zeal and constancy. God will assist you. You will also have the help of my prayers. Greetings to all and heartfelt blessing. Goodbye dear friend, on your part pray for yours affectionately in J and M”¹⁶.

Don Rua’s pastoral concern is also shown in a letter to Fr McCarthy about his return to New York:

“However, when you go there, you must make up your mind to work like a good Salesian. As you know, we were invited over there to look after the Italians and so we must devote our attention to them. We have an obligation of charity towards them and must take care of them kindly and graciously without distinction: the poor, the uncouth and the ignorant and not simply the rich. Our work is to win souls for God. As our patron St Francis de Sales said: you catch more flies with a spoonful of honey than with a barrel of vinegar. May the Lord bless you and help you to be an apostle among the poor Italians. To that end I shall pray for you and you must pray for yours aff. in J and M”¹⁷.

Don Rua was fond of Francis de Sales’ famous metaphor of the honey and, writing to Fr Macey, he used it as a way of describing the kindness that would attract vocations:

“Your dear house will have to find us a good supply of men, and you and the rest of the superiors will have to be the honey to attract many, very many dear young coadjutors to our Pious Society”¹⁸.

He was likewise keen that members of the society should keep up the natural family ties of love and affection that would sustain them in their work:

“From a letter written to me a few days ago by your mother, I have learned, with sorrow, that you have not written to your family since you left Turin for your present house. Your mother is waiting anxiously to hear how you are keeping and, as soon as possible, you should satisfy her desire. You will please me greatly if you do”¹⁹.

Don Rua was quite happy to use his personal friendship for the confrere to secure his willing assent. He finishes the letter in a warm and friendly fashion:

“Pray a little for the scribe of this present letter for he will not forget you in the holy Mass nor in his prayers to our Holy Mother, the Help of Christians”²⁰.

Don Rua clearly took a personal interest in the individual confreres, especially those experiencing difficulties. Writing about Fr Blackborrow he says:

“I had invited him to come out here; however, if he is happy in his vocation without this help, all the better. Cheer him up and try to rekindle his zeal and love for the congregation, and give him my best regards”²¹.

Unfortunately, he still felt unsettled and eventually left the Congregation. Don Rua’s care still reached out to him:

“I received your welcome letter of the 24th April concerning our poor confrere Blackborrow. I had two letters from him as well, but only today have I been able to reply. Read my letter if you wish, and kindly send it on to him, as I do not know his present address”²².

His concern for confreres who were sick often clearly motivated his correspondence:

“I am distressed about poor Franceschi. Take good care of him even though he is out of the house”²³.

He wrote three months later:

“With great sorrow we received news of the death of our confrere Luigi Franceschi and we have recommended him to the prayers of the retreatants at Valsalice. I hope you will be able to prepare and send us the obituary notice, in keeping with our traditions when any of our confreres dies”²⁴.

Elsewhere he enquired about a cleric with diabetes:

“Can you let me have some news about the cleric who was suffering from diabetes? Were you able to get the medicine sold by Don Bologna as I suggested? Did it do any good?”²⁵.

Don Rua shows particular care, too, for the French confreres exiled from their homeland by the anticlerical laws:

“I think you will be receiving a small group of confreres from France in a few days time... we must be very kind to our dear confreres in exile, away from their homeland”²⁶.

In a very different context, in the field of Canon Law where Don Rua had himself suffered considerable embarrassment his attitude is instructive:

“As far as the cleric Brownrigg is concerned (the one who made the perpetual vows although he had only been admitted to triennials), I do not think you need to worry. With knowledge and commitment he has made his perpetual vows, and so on his side he is bound to the Salesian society for all his life: but since, on our side, we admitted him only to triennial vows, we are obliged to keep him for only three years. But if he turns out well, the last thing we should dream of doing is to send him away; and when his three years are drawing to a close, if you let us have a favourable opinion of him, we shall admit him to perpetual profession; and so without disturbing him, either now or later, the simple renewal of vows made at the end of the retreat will set everything right”²⁷.

Don Rua’s concern not to disturb the young confrere’s commitment is touching and his capacity to deal with canonical points with a great personal compassion instead of the rather rigid, legalistic view which had become fashionable in reaction to the 'modernist' movement at this period, shows him as a wise and moderate leader.

Overall, his pastoral zeal and compassion emerge quite strongly from these letters and should stand first in any attempt to draw a portrait from them.

Don Rua's style of governance and obedience

From the Reformation to the French Revolution and more so in the century that followed, the ideal of human liberty and the importance of individual conscience had become one of the keystones of modern western thought and democracy. The latter-half of the 19th century was clearly marked by the rise of the nation state and the predominance of the liberal ideology that prompted it since 1848.

The Catholic Church however, under Pius IX, had notably dissociated itself from both these developments, both in its official pronouncements (in the Syllabus of Errors, 1864 and the Decree of Papal Infallibility, 1870) and its practical piety which encouraged a religious devotion to the person and office of the Pope. Although his successor, Leo XIII, had initially moderated the Church's intransigent outlook by, for instance, encouraging the 'Ralliement movement' in France, and opening the Papal Archives to historians, yet the condemnation of 'Americanism' in 1899 and the subsequent election of Pius X were, in fact, the prelude to a full blown intransigent reaction. This led to the excommunication of leading modernists like Loisy and the imposition of the Anti-Modernist Oath on all office holders in the Church in 1908.

All this led to an increasing stress on uniformity and religious obedience of an unquestioning variety and the practice of 'creeping infallibility', which endowed clergy and religious superiors, male and female alike, with an authority of almost papal proportions.

In these letters, in striking contrast to his context, Don Rua shows a refreshingly open attitude to religious obedience which encouraged the local superiors to consult their communities, to inform him of what was happening and to take responsibility for their local situation.

It has to be recognised that already in the chapter on Obedience in the Salesian Constitutions, Don Bosco had softened the current canonical tone of Obedience by insisting that the confreres should consider 'the superior, in everything, to be a loving father'... 'in whom he should have every confidence'. Further, he emphasised the benefit of a 'rendiconto' or friendly chat at regular intervals between the superior and the confrere, sharing his daily life step by step'²⁸. 'Let no one be anxious to ask for any particular thing or to refuse it; but on perceiving that such and such a thing is either harmful or needful to him, let him respectfully mention the fact to his superior who will prudently make the provision that his needs require'²⁹.

In these letters, perhaps the most notable evidence of Don Rua's attitude came in the year after the tragic death of Fr McKiernan when he replied to Fr Macey's letter:

"You are left somewhat frightened of having the title Parish Priest, even though you've been discharging all the duties for some months. Let us put our trust in the Lord and in the protection of Mary Help of Christians. They will not abandon us. If it is the responsibility of having the direction of the house that makes you frightened, it would be easy to arrange matters, leaving to you the office of Parish Priest and to Don Bonavia [scored out were the words 'that of Director' and written in stead, the words] to help you in the matters regarding the house. Do me the favour of thinking these things over in front of Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament and then write to me letting me know what you think before I write my letter to the bishop"³⁰.

This style of non-directive obedience was clearly called for in the new and difficult situation in which the Salesians found themselves, in a new culture, in a desperately poor parish in a part of London well known for poverty and vice³¹. However the tone and style went clearly against the current integrist thinking which dictated that 'superiors always knew best'. Moreover, Fr Bonavia was well-known at the Oratory in Turin and also had the traditional background of studies and formation for superiors, but clearly Don Rua had decided that, whatever the drawbacks, the opportunity of having a Englishman as superior could not be missed; given how different the English culture was. Furthermore, Don Rua was prepared to live with the consequences of his decisions and his 20 years of correspondence bears eloquent testimony to how much that cost him.

The same style is evident nearly ten years later when deciding on the printing of appeals:

"Have a look at it; if you wish to add to it or subtract you may do so; then if you think it is wise, you can have the English translation lithographed and send it whenever you think the moment is right. And after you have thought through this, tell me frankly whether it would be better if it carry your signature, in which case it would be well to make some small changes..."³².

In much more significant matters Don Rua was quite prepared to bow to local knowledge and custom, however foreign it might seem to the Salesian tradition, for instance, in the question of the lay brothers wearing clerical dress. Don Rua was prepared (on Fr Macey's recommendation) to allow the lay brothers to wear clerical dress, uniquely in the Salesian world, despite other arguments to the contrary³³:

"You may hold on to this letter in view of the permission it contains to confer a religious habit on our coadjutors - a permission which, up to now, is wholly exceptional. The results may have consequences for coadjutors in other countries"³⁴.

Fr Rua, however, expected the local superiors to report back their experiences regularly to Turin and, given the number of reminders evident in the correspondence, Fr Macey did not often comply:

"As I looked through the annual reports from the Provincial to the Rector Major, I did not notice yours for this last year. Try to push yourself a little and let me have it, for I am anxious to have news of all your houses: I should like every house to become seedbeds of good Christians and honest citizens and, above all, of zealous Church students and fervent missionaries"³⁵.

His personal concern for local Rectors is clearly illustrated in his enquiries about Fr Rabagliati who had taken over as Rector of Battersea when Fr Macey was made Provincial:

"In the meantime, if you have the chance to do so, let me have some news about your Rector. Tell me how he is getting on and whether he is coping in the midst of all his business. Is he managing to keep cheerful and serene in spirit and outlook? I recommend him to your care. I know how much good will he has. If you can ease his position by your kindness, you will make his job lighter. May Christ rise in your heart! Happy feast-day to you all"³⁶.

One suspects that part of this care was to try to avoid the difficulties that can easily ensue when a new superior takes over while his predecessor is still in the house. Fr Macey had asked whether he was still a member of the local house council and was told 'no'. In his next letter Don Rua recommended more encouragement of the new Rector:

"You must encourage him by your kind ways and introduce him to his role as Rector, just as a Master would guide his disciple. You can also let him know about the new tasks he will have to take on, telling him that if he meets any difficulties he can make a note of them and consult you later on how to surmount them kindly and calmly. You can help him to do so”³⁷.

Writing to Fr Rabagliati himself, Don Rua offers encouragement to someone who seems tempted to lose heart:

“My dear Fr Rabagliati, Thank you for all the news, although it wasn’t of the cheerful kind. Don’t be alarmed, however! With patience, charity and prudence you will win through. Providing the house is running well, as long as God is being served and sin kept out, we have reason to be glad; even if it means some suffering on our part, of opposition or even humiliations. Be of good heart and stay cheerful in the Lord”³⁸.

As well as advice and concern for the Superiors, Don Rua shows a real concern for those confreres in vocational difficulties:

“We are grieved to hear about the cleric Ready. I had such great affection for him and hold him in such high regard. If you could persuade him to come out here you would do me a great favour. Who knows; if we were able to talk things over he might change his mind about the very serious decision he is on the point of making”³⁹.

On the other hand Don Rua can be decisive when the end of the road has been reached:

“It would be better to get O’Connor to lay aside the clerical habit. With all the weaknesses that cling to him already, we now have disobedience: he could never be admitted to Holy Orders. Make it your concern to get him to take this step”⁴⁰.

Clearly, many of these letters from the Rector Major to the Provincial and local superior are concerned with the organisation and administration of personnel. Yet Don Rua reveals himself in them as being warm-hearted, concerned and anxious to adapt to the needs of a situation he did not know personally. Rather than issue ‘diktats’ he is anxious to encourage the local Salesians to take responsibility, while at the same time offering deeply personal support and encouragement. His approach to obedience and the governance of the Congregation must rank highly among his strengths.

Don Rua and poverty, finance and property

Much space in Don Rua's letters was devoted to questions of finance, which form part of the history of the Salesians in England and South Africa (See Dickson, op.cit.). The parlous state of the Battersea finances and the bankruptcy that occurred in Cape Town in the early years were heavy burdens that the Salesians had to bear. As Don Rua reminded Fr Tozzi:

"At this point, I want to add a word about your request that we help you to settle your account with the Oratory. Believe me, we would do so willingly were it possible but we are so hard up that at times we do not know how we can carry on with so many creditors who never give us a moment's peace. Very often, one of them threatens to take us to court"⁴¹.

Constant worries about how to finance the rapid development of Salesian work across the world was clearly one of the major preoccupations of Don Rua in those early years. This meant that naturally, aesthetics had sometimes to take second place. With regard to the newly-painted school chapel at Battersea, designed and painted in the lavish style of the pre-Raphaelite painters by Fr Fayers, Don Rua commented:

"I have seen the photo of the interior of your chapel. It looks really good and from what you tell me it cost virtually nothing! Deo Gratias"⁴².

Clearly though, the problems of the central administration was the result of the local inability to pay. Hence one is not surprised to see a letter acknowledging that fact and wiping the slate clean:

"You must have noticed from the latest balance sheet that because of your financial difficulties the Superior Chapter paid off your outstanding debt to the oratory itself"⁴³.

Don Rua showed a touching concern, however, in the midst of his pressing financial worries for the needs of confreres who were travelling to work in South Africa:

"The three confreres who are bearing this letter, are on their way to the Cape of Good Hope. Do what you can to tell them all they need to know for the journey and while you are at it, it would be good if you could get them a reduction on the journey. We have given them a little money, but it is not enough. Try to make good the deficit to save them from embarrassment on the voyage. Fr Tozzi sent me a 'wire' to say he is unwell; so the sooner they can leave the better"⁴⁴.

On the other hand, he is anxious that Fr McCarthy should be reminded of the poverty from which he came and the poverty to which he is committed by vow:

"As for Fr McCarthy, it would be helpful if, like a good brother, you were to remind him of the poverty he came from before entering the Society, pointing out (at the same time) that he ought to live the poverty he has promised by vow"⁴⁵.

In all of these letters there is nothing of the grimness to which poverty had been reduced in the reputation Don Rua sometimes had at the hands of his hagiographers who depicted him eating the crusts of bread left by the Oratory boys.

Don Rua's spirituality

Though these letters are focused on business and administration, Don Rua's own spiritual outlook emerges somewhere in almost every letter, if only as a farewell thought. What becomes clear, though, is his complete confidence in God and a very deep sense of the Communion of Saints. Praying for one another, asking the intercession of Mary and the saints are all fundamental aspects of his everyday spiritual outlook and practice. For Don Rua, his daily Mass, his prayers and the prayers of other members of the Society play their part in deepening our communion and our trust in the God who creates and saves us. God and the world of the Spirit are not 'out there' or removed from our real concerns, but his kindly Providence provides for us:

"As for the expenses incurred maintaining your novices at Burwash, have great trust in Divine Providence, commend yourself to Mary, Help of Christians and to St Joseph and you will find the means forthcoming"⁴⁶.

But this trust does not imply foolish over-confidence in expanding the work beyond the means:

"You will have to be patient and limit your field of action, unless the Lord sends you some extraordinary mark of his Providence. It took Don Bosco 16 years to have a house like yours and 27 before he had a chapel like yours. We must not be rash in our undertakings. We must pray and be patient.

May the Lord bless you all and grant you that, through the intercession of St Francis de Sales and Don Bosco, you may be able to make your Institute a true sowing ground for good and holy Salesians⁴⁷.

For Don Rua the Communion of Saints offered a deep mutual support, not just from those heavenly patrons but also from one Salesian to another:

“Pray a little for the soul of this priest writer, for he will not forget you in his Holy Mass nor in his prayers to our Blessed Lady, the Help of Christians”⁴⁸.

Don Rua’s piety was centred on the prayer of thanksgiving and the uniqueness of Christ as our Saviour:

“Splendid! We must thank God for having enabled you to extend your work steadily for the good of so many souls who must go to the feet of Jesus if they are to have eternal salvation. Let Jesus be your Master, help and consolation in this great work and Mary, Help of Christians, will never fail to shield you with the mantle of her protection”⁴⁹.

For Don Rua the virtues of courage and patience are the practical outcome of this trust in Divine Providence. To Fr Tozzi, who often needed encouragement, he wrote:

“I am very pleased at the zeal which you certainly display to improve the situation gradually. God willing, you will see your hopes fulfilled and the holy purposes you have in mind. Don’t lose heart: I have written again to the Provincial asking him to visit you when he can and to give you light and guidance in your holy endeavours, but, sadly, I see he has not granted your desires in this respect. Be patient”⁵⁰.

Again to Fr Tozzi, he wrote:

“I can understand and sympathise with you in your present anxieties, but you must pluck up courage. At this end, we will do everything we can to give you reason for joy... respice stellam, voca Mariam. Recommend devotion to the Sacred Heart, to Mary most holy and to St Joseph”⁵¹.

Don Rua’s respice stellam seems to recall God’s word to Abraham ‘Look up at the stars, count them if you can... I will make you the father of many nations'. Coupled with the constant reference to Mary's intercession, this clearly forms the pattern of his piety. Don Rua's faith led him to believe that there was a genuine communion between God and man, where we are invited to collaborate in his saving mission:

"Well may you say: 'the Poor Lord!' We superiors must do all we can to make him loved and served with greater fervour and fidelity and bring our subjects to understand the importance of the bonds we have forged with God"⁵².

One of Don Rua's most affectionate correspondents was Fr Rabagliati whose family was well known to Don Rua and who found the office of Rector at Battersea something of a struggle. Don Rua's words of encouragement show his ideal of a fraternal community on mission, rich in piety, works of charity and hope of eternal glory:

"Well done, Deo Gratias! Continue in your fervour, all of you united in the bond of charity, constant in piety, in work, in good example: God will bless you, you will do much good and you will grow rich in merits and eventually in heavenly glory. Greetings and, from the depth of my heart, my blessing. Farewell, farewell, pray for me"⁵³.

Conclusion

While in retrospect, one might argue that Don Rua made an error in appointing Fr Macey as the Rector and first Provincial of the English Province and, as the special Visitation Report of Fr Virion in 1908 showed there were considerable difficulties as a result, nevertheless, Don Rua never ceased to try to support and advise Fr Macey for twenty years that followed. Don Rua was not infallible but his perseverance, deep humanity and warmth and a willingness to share his own deep faith enabled the English province to grow despite the problems. The person these letters reveal is not one that I suspect many readers will be familiar with and this offers us the impetus to publish and offer them to a wider readership.

Criteria used in editing these letters

The criteria used in editing these letters are those indicated in Fr Francesco Motto's Norme per l'edizione degli scritti di Don Bosco e delle fonti salesiane in Ricerche Storiche Salesiane 1 (1982) pp. 81-92 (Roma, 1982).

In particular the following points should be noted:

Every time there is any modification of the text written by Don Rua or his secretaries this is noted in the textual notes which immediately follow the Italian text numbered according to the line of the particular letter.

This is especially true in giving the dates of the various letters which appear in the originals in varying forms. In the edited version these have been harmonised and the changes indicated in the textual notes.

Occasionally all that exists for a particular letter is a typed script of the original letter whose whereabouts is unknown. This is clearly indicated.

Normally the original text is prefaced by a note of its whereabouts in the archives, the size and state of the manuscript, and an indication of the contents of the letter. The original text is then followed by the textual notes and then the historical notes which are numbered as indicated in the text. These are then followed by the translation into English. There is of course, one exception where the original manuscript is written in English where no translation is required.

Don Rua and his secretaries, not unnaturally, had some difficulty with spelling English proper names. These are retained as they are found in the original texts but corrected in the translations where the common English spelling is used.

A circular letter written in the secretary's hand is duplicated among the originals, one addressed to the Rector of Battersea and an exact copy to the Rector of Cape of Good Hope. Only one is reproduced among the letters but this is noted in the text.

One letter was written in haste by Don Rua on the original letter he received from Fr Macey so the text of both is included.

Where possible the background of persons mentioned in the letters is indicated in the historical footnotes the first time they appear, but most often they also appear in the Biographical notes at the beginning of this volume.

The letters are arranged in chronological order where that can be established and numbered sequentially.

Archival Sources and a note on the editor

Fr Martin McPake devoted much of whatever spare time he had in the last decade of his life to working on the letters of Don Rua to the confreres of the English Province. His collection was based, first of all, on the letters already collected which were held in the Provincial Archives of the Province of Great Britain (SDB-GBR) but are now conserved on loan in the central Salesian Archives (ASC) in Rome. These included:

- The Macey collection marked merely by a number in pencil, nos. 1-166, numbered without regard for their chronological sequence by Fr A. Franco, to judge by the handwriting. These were used in the production of The dynamics of Growth - The foundation and development of the Salesians in England (LAS-Roma, 1991) chapters 2-7. See also footnote 9, pg.133, but especially pgs.138-141 for the significance of the correspondence.
- The Rabagliati collection contains a number of letters from Don Rua who knew the family well.
- The Tozzi collection nos. 1-45 which Fr McPake had collected from the Economer Generals's Archives in Rome but which were kept in the Provincial Office in England.

All three collections were kept in Box file no. 57 - Don Rua's Letters at the Provincial Office Archives (GBR) Salesian House, Sharples Park, Bolton, Lancs, BL1 6PQ but are now on loan to the Central Archives in Rome (Direzione Generale Opere Don Bosco, Via della Pisana 1111, 00163 Roma)

- The other letters included in this book are one from the chapel of St Patrick's School, Sliema, Malta and
- One to Fr Cerutti kept in the archives (CTA) of the Salesian Institute, Somerset Rd, Cape Town, South Africa.
- As published they are numbered in chronological order as far as that can be established.

Fr Martin McPake's work in collecting, transcribing, translating these letters, and providing footnotes was still unfinished when he died. I have tried to complete them following, as far as possible, the indications that he left, completing the footnotes and offering an introduction and translation for the last few letters. The major part of the work was done by Fr Martin and it stands as his 'memorial' or 'testament' in the deepest sense of those words, sharing in the values and tradition of humanity, scholarship and spirituality that he himself so accurately reflected. Don Rua as he emerges here from Fr Martin's study reminds me very much of the Salesian that I knew as Novice Master, spiritual guide and friend. In this way, I hope to have honoured his memory and shared his spirit.

My deepest thanks go to all who have helped me complete this work including Fr Michael Winstanley who encouraged me to finish it, Fr Ivor Netto who acted as copy editor, Signora Cinzia Angelucci who revised the Italian text and Sister Mary Tracey who helped with the translation of some of the letters. May God reward them for their generous kindness and hard work. Any errors of interpretation or judgement remain my own.

One of only two letters to McKiernan in the Bolton archives, but the first of a whole series of letters from Don Rua to the Salesians in England

Four months have gone by since the arrival of the Salesians in London - Don Rua notes that the work is taking off both for the young and for adults and expresses his regret that the contract with the bishop has not yet been signed

[Torino] Alli, 26 marzo 1888¹

Car.mo D. Edoardo²,

Ho ricevuto a suo tempo la gradita tua della corrente che mi apportò consolazione, malgrado contenga anche una parte meno lieta.

Mi rallegro delle radunanze di giovani che già fate al giovedì: aumentatene 5
quanto potrete il numero. Mi rallegro anche pel molto bene che si fa agli adulti. Non è a meravigliare se il demonio cerca di suscitare delle difficoltà. Ma coll'ajuto di Dio e colla protezione di Maria Ausiliatrice tutto si potrà superare.

Venendo all'affare del contratto da farsi abbiamo esaminato la proposta del Vescovo e non siamo alieni dall'ammetterla³. Però abbiamo fatto qualche aggiunta che speriamo non sarà rifiutata dal medesimo. Te la mando qui unita; tu favorisci tradurla e 10
farla vedere a S. E. - Se non vi saranno difficoltà, me lo scriverai | e noi manderemo altra copia colla mia firma.

Salutami caramente D. Macey⁴ e Rossaro⁵ e porta i nostri rispetti ed auguri di buone feste, se e quando potrai al P. O'Connolly⁶ e P. Galleran⁷, il quale ci manda di 15
tratto in tratto notizie molto buone dell'Opera dei Salesiani in Londra. - Se il primo non è ancora Cooperatore famme lo sapere dandoci nome, cognome, qualità ed indirizzo, e noi lo faremo.

Non ti trattengo di più perché tu hai da fare ed io anche. - Il Signore vi benedica e conservi sempre suoi col 20

Sac. Michele Rua|

f2r P.S. Intesi quest'oggi che fra breve deve portarsi a Londra il Conte Robilant⁸ in qualità di Ambasciatore e che verrà a stabilirsi appunto sotto la tua Parrocchia. Sarebbe quello forse un buon acquisto. 25

1. This first letter of Don Rua comes four months after the arrival of the Salesians in London (Nov 16th 1887). All previous correspondence has been with Fr Durando, the Superior of the case all'estero.

2. Edward McKiernan (4.X.1861 - 30.XII.1888), the first superior of the pioneer community in London. Before making this foundation, Don Bosco made discreet inquiries to find out whether an Englishman or an Irishman would be more acceptable to the people of the district. Informed that the nationality of the Superior was a matter of some indifference and that what mattered was the spiritual worth of the Superior, he appointed Edward McKiernan from Scrabby, Co. Cavan, Ireland. Cf The letter of Fr Dalmazzo, published in the Bollettino Salesiano, with the omission of the Bishop's words about the desired sanctity of the superior. (cf ASC Inghilterra 3).

3. The contract with the bishop: No copy of the contract signed by both parties has so far come to light in the ASC or the Southwark Archive.

4. Charles Bernard Macey (28.X.1854 - 9.VIII.1928). Virtually all the letters that follow in this collection are to Macey. After the premature death of Edward McKiernan on December 30 1888 Macey became Superior of the house in Battersea and Parish Priest. In 1902 he became the Vice-Ispettore of the recently erected English Province. (Cf Circular Letter of D. Rua of 19.IV.1902).

5. Ignazio Rossaro, (b. 24.VI.1861), made his temporary profession on the 2.X.1897 and left the congregation on 2.X.1900. One of the pioneer group, he was a cook. The French émigré priest, Fr Galeran, (cf. Next note) has some humorous references to Rossaro's first days in London, as together they made the round of the shops in search of a meat-hammer or tenderiser. Rossaro found life hard in Battersea and he could not keep pace: he returned to Italy, and from there he left the congregation.

6. William Joseph Connolly, b. 1843, ord. 1871, died 1896. Parish priest of a nearby parish.

7. H. Galeran, Note the spelling. B. 1833 ord. 1858 died 1915. Parish priest, St Thomas, Wandsworth.

8. Carlo Felice Nicola Conte de Robilant, (Turin 1826 - London 1888). He had a distinguished military career, taking part in all the wars of Italian independence. Moving into politics, he was present at Vienna as a Special Envoy and as Minister Plenipotentiary (1871). After two years as Ambassador in Vienna, he became Minister for Foreign Affairs until 1887 when he was appointed Italian Ambassador in London. Alas the promise held out for the Salesians by this appointment was never fulfilled, for the Count died shortly after his arrival in London. The Battersea House Chronicle (hereafter referred to as BHC) carries a brief record of this sad event. Against the date October 17, the chronicler has this entry: "Morte del Conte Robilant. Assistenza dai Salesiani presso il cadavere".

To Fr Edward McKiernan

Dear Fr Edward,

In due course I received your welcome letter of the 11th of the present month. It consoled me, although some of the news was not so good. I am pleased you are already getting young people together on Thursdays. Do everything you can to step up their number.

I am also very pleased at how much you are able to do for the adults. You must not be surprised if the devil tries to stir up trouble. Everything can be overcome with God's help and the protection of Mary Help of Christians.

Regarding the contract to be entered into, we have examined the Bishop's proposal and have no objection to its acceptance. However we have made some additions and trust that on his side there will be no difficulty. I enclose a copy for you. Please see to its translation and show it to his Lordship. If there are no problems, let me know and we shall send you another and signed copy.

Give my kind regards to Fr Macey and to Rossaro, and when you can do so take my feast day greetings to Frs. Connolly and Galerán. The latter sends us good news every so often about the work of the Salesians in London. - If Fr O'Connelly is not yet a Cooperator let me know, sending me at the same time his full name, address and status, and we shall have him enrolled.

I won't keep you any longer: you have work to be getting on with, and so have I.
- May the Lord bless you and keep you and yours together with

Yours aff. in J. & M.
Fr Michael Rua

P.S. Today I have heard that Count Robilant will be going to London shortly as Ambassador, and that he will be taking up residence in your parish. That should be helpful.

To Fr Giovanale Bonavia

ASC R14001 Rua, Corrispondenza con salesiani (A 4900102)

Holograph 2 sheets of ruled paper, 4 pages, letter-head on left: "Oratorio... Via Cottolengo, 32" measurements: 21 x 13.5 cm

Acknowledgement of letters received with news of Fr McKiernan's health - Don Rua expresses regret that legal cession of land has not yet taken place - He informs Bonavia that 600 circulars have been despatched for distribution to Burns Oates, and encourages him to write in English

[Torino], 18 dicembre [18]88¹

Car.mo D. Bonavia²,

Oh! finalmente ecco un momento da poterti scrivere. Avevo sempre tue lettere sotto gli occhi, ma sempre era impedito dal riscontrarle a causa dei molti affari uno più urgente dell'altro. - Grazie delle notizie che ci davi del carissimo D. Edoardo³, 5 che malgrado le gravi crisi passate è ancora in vita e scrive ancora belle lettere⁴ al Sig. D. Durando⁵, che suole comunicarcele a comune consolazione. Voglia Maria Ausiliatrice col nostro Amatissimo Padre ottenere una lunga conservazione e florida salute al diletto confratello.

Voi avete ricevuto la visita di mons. Cagliero⁶ che ci parlò con molto piacere e 10 soddisfazione di voi, dei vostri parochiani, sebbene da codesti biricchini abbia ricevuto dimostrazioni tali da riconoscere il gran bisogno che hanno dell'assistenza vostra.]

f1v Rincesce che non siano ancora interamente sciolte le difficoltà per la cessione⁷ notarile del terreno; ché il caro D. Mac Kiernan ci faceva sperare che il Vescovo avrebbe ceduto sotto qualche condizione, ed ora invece pare non ne abbia alcuna intenzione; 15 tuttavia speriamo si potranno superare le difficoltà per poter fabbricare in primavera. - Se mai si trovasse costì la carta di cessione fattaci dalla Congregazione di Propaganda sarebbe di grande aiuto. - Cercatela e trovandola inviatecela.

- 20 D. Pozzan⁸ ha spedito al Sig. Burn⁹ 6000 circolari: staremo a vedere che cosa frutteranno. Se vi sarà qualche somma un po' rilevante servirà ad impegnarci sempre più all'impresa. - Se potrete informarci | se sono arrivate felicemente e quando furono spedite ci farete piacere. f2r

- 25 Quando riceverò da te lettera in inglese? Da chi lo sa desidero ricevere lettere in nostra lingua; ma da chi lo impara mi piace vedere i progressi che nell'inglese va facendo.

Salutami caramente D. Mac Kiernan, D. Mecey¹⁰, Rabagliati¹¹ e Avaro¹², a cui tutti prego da Gesù Bambino un cumolo di carezze. Andando far auguri ai nostri benefattori fateli anche da parte mia e di tutti i superiori. - Intanto non dimenticare presso Dio

- 30 Il tuo aff. in G. e M.
Sac. Michele Rua

- 35 P.S. Vi unisco qui un vaglia postale che potrete esigere molto più facilmente voi costì che noi qui. Era indirizzato a me. Non so se abbiate già veduto di ritorno il Sig. Beniamino Tuar¹³: poveretto! non seppe vincere le difficoltà. Siccome tuttavia pare un buon giovane, farete bene facendolo | Cooperatore salesiano e mandandoci qua il suo indirizzo. f2v

1 dicembre] 12 21 quando add sl

1. The date of the letter: The preceding letter to McKiernan was written shortly after Don Rua's first audience with the Holy Father on February 18. Ten months have gone by since then. There is very little extant correspondence for the year 1888. In fact, apart from the letter to McKiernan and this one to Bonavia, there is nothing. One document that does exist for this period is a manuscript copy of a request of Don Rua to the Holy See concerning the ownership of the church in Battersea.

2. Giovenale Bonavia was born in Gemola in the Province of Cuneo 26th Oct 1865, entered the Oratory at Valdocco in January 1878. He made his Novitiate at San Benigno Canavese in 1881 and was professed in 1882. He returned to the Oratory in Turin till he was ordained on 26.5.1887, before he came to Battersea. He died on Jan 21st 1904, having looked after the Sisters and the novices and the students.

3. McKiernan's health: Edward McKiernan's health was never good and the damp London weather was fatal in his regard. The first year in London was clearly a depressing experience for the little community in Battersea. The superior was constantly sick, and spent virtually the last three months of the year confined to his room; the legal cession of the land, which seemed straightforward to begin with, was still dragging on, while financial help was less forthcoming than had been anticipated. One week prior to this letter of Don Rua, Fr H. Galeeran had written informing him that McKiernan had asked him for the last sacraments. (Letter of 11.XI.1888 ASC) On December 30, the BHC bears this sad entry: "Alle 2.45 D. McKiernan spira. In quest'ora D. Macey trovava presso un altro infermo. Gli altri della comunità trovansi al suo capezzale. - Non aveva lasciato la camera da circa 3 mesi. - Padre Connelly da ottimo amico s'assunse i disturbi del funerale, che ebbe luogo il giovedì 3 gennaio. - La salma riposa nel cimitero di Mortlake. Ampia relazione di tutto trovasi nel Bollettino. R.I.P.". The three months referred to are not to be taken as an absolute statement. It is clear from the parish registers that McKiernan was still carrying out some of his duties as parish priest. Cf. Baptismal register for Nov.

4. The letters of McKiernan to Fr Durando: The present writer has been unable to find any of the letters in question.

5. Fr Celestino Durando (29.IV.1840 - 27.III.1907): He entered the Oratory in 1856 and was a close friend of St. Dominic Savio. One of the fourteen founding members that responded to the historic invitation of Don Bosco of 18.XII.1859. He was a member of the Superior Chapter (Gen. Council) for almost 40 years, and until 1902 when the 'ispettorie' or provinces of the Congregation were canonically regularized, he was Superior of the English houses. Until 1903 in fact, he was provincial of a province that was sui generis, consisting of the houses "all'estero". He was the author of a number of school text-books, the most notable of which was a Latin Dictionary.

6. Visit of Mons. Cagliero: Giovanni Cagliero (1838-1926) was one of the group of 14 which together with Don Bosco formed the nucleus of the new congregation. In fact, he had many "firsts" to his credit: our first Doctor of Theology, the leader of the first missionary expedition (1875), our first Bishop and first Cardinal. The visit referred to was not to be his last. In fact, it was Cagliero who consecrated the Church of the Sacred Heart in 1893.

7. The document of cession.

8. Fr Pietro Pozzan (b 1.X.1844 - d 16.IX.1918): He was responsible for the business side of Bollettino Salesiano, and ably seconded Don Bosco in gathering funds for the building of the church of the Sacro Cuore in Rome. In 1881, he is described by Don Bosco as "capo Ufficio del Bollettino Salesiano" and two years later as a "fervido peroratore delle buone cause". (Epistolario vol IV nos. 2216 & 2412). An ordained priest (1876) before he joined the Congregation (10.10.1880), Fr Pozzan later left the Congregation in 1890. In 1908, he founded la "Pia Opera Catechistica" at Chieri. On his death, he left his property to Don Albera and for some years his house was used by the Salesians as a rest home for the sick and elderly. (Cf Bol. Sal. XLII nov. 1918 n. 11 pp. 211-212).

9. Sig. Burn.= Burns and Oates, the Catholic publishing firm.

10. Mecey (sic): At this early stage of his correspondence with Charles Macey Don Rua is uncertain of the spelling of his name. Here he gives it as "Mecey".

11. Eugenio Rabagliati (10.II.1866 - 27.I.1928): From Occimiano, near Borgo San Martino (AI). One of four brothers who became Salesian priests: the others were Evasio, Paolo and Silvestro. Evasio, a member of the second missionary expedition (1876) was well known for his work among the lepers in Columbia. In November 1897 he was honoured by the Italian government and made a knight of the Order of Saints Maurice and Lazarus. (Cf R39, undated, and Fierro Torres: 'El padre Evasio Rabagliati', SEI 1939, p. 185). When he died in 1928 the Columbian government called for a day of national mourning. Today a street in his native Occimiano bears his name.

Silvestro moved to the United States and, after some time there, he left the Congregation and joined the diocesan clergy.

Eugenio was one of the founding members of the English Province. Fr William Brown tells us how he was a noted chorister in Valdocco and that he formed a choir and orchestra that won general acclaim in and around London. (Cf Fr William Brown's notes on the BHC pages - hereafter referred to as WBN). His musical interests come through occasionally in his correspondence (cf Letter to Lazzero of Nov 11 1894), in which he gives details of Cardinal Vaughan's plans to have us assume responsibility for the choir school at Westminster, which is witness to the quality of his achievements and of the reputation he had built up at Battersea. In the same letter he also speaks for the first time of the desire of the Bishop of Portsmouth to give us the mission at Farnborough. (ASC Inghilterra 31: 4 III 1901).

Three sisters in this family - Clementina, Elvira and Maria - joined the Daughters of Mary Help of Christians (cf letters for reference to death of Clementina, at Jerez de la Frontiera, 15.I.1901).

Don Rua continually misspells Rabagliati. He frequently writes the name with double "b".

12. Giovanni Lorenzo Avaro. Born in Bibiana (Torino) 10.IV.1875. He was never professed and probably returned to Turin.

13. Turner, Benjamin. He simply disappears from the scene after this.

To Fr Giovenale Bonavia

Dear Fr Bonavia,

Oh, at last I have time to write to you! I have never lost sight of your letters, but a multitude of matters, one more pressing than another, prevented my reply. - Thank you for all the news about Fr Edward, who in spite of the crises he has weathered, is still alive and still managing to send splendid letters to Fr Durando, which he shares with us for our common consolation. May Mary Help of Christians and our own beloved father obtain long years and good health for our dear confrere.

You had a visit from Monsignor Cagliero: he spoke about you with great pleasure and satisfaction, although he had proof enough from your young scamps of how much they need your help.

It is a pity that legal difficulties about the cession of the land remain unresolved. Dear Fr McKiernan gave us to understand that subject to certain conditions the bishop would cede the land, but now, it would seem, he has no intention of doing so. We go on hoping all the same that the difficulties will be overcome in time to allow us to start building in the spring. - If you can put your hand on the document of cession granted to us by the Congregation for Propaganda, it would be of great help. Have a good look for it and if you find it, send it on to us.

Fr Pozzan despatched 6000 circulars to Messrs. Burns; we'll see what they bring in. If the money raised is a sizeable enough sum it will help us to push on more resolutely with our undertaking. We should be pleased if you can let us know whether the circulars arrived safely and when they were sent out.

When are you going to write to me in English? I like to have letters in Italian from those who know English; but in English from those who are still learning the language, to see what progress they are making.

Give my kindest regards to Fr McKiernan, Fr Macey, Rabagliati and Avaro. May the holy Child Jesus bless them tenderly. - When you visit our benefactors to greet them, do so in my name also and in the name of all the superiors. - In the meantime before the Lord, remember

Yours aff. in J. & M.
Fr Michael Rua

P.S. I am enclosing a postal order for you. It is easier for you to change it over there than for us at this side. It was sent to me. I don't know whether you have seen Benjamin Turner yet. Poor fellow, he couldn't cope with the difficulties he met. He seems a good young man all the same, and you would do well to make him a Salesian co-operator. When you do, let us have his address.

Caro D. Macey,

Solo ora mi è dato rispondere alla gradita tua del 4 del corrente. Giacché non hai ancora presentata la lettera destinata a S. E. il Vescovo¹ io direttamente a lui ne spedirei un'altra più convenientemente scritta dopo le notizie della parte che prese alla nostra dolorosa perdita. Tu ti lasci alquanto spaventare dal titolo di Paroco, sebbene da parecchi mesi ne disimpegni l'ufficio. Confidiamo nel Signore e nella protezione di M. A. essi non ci abbandoneranno. Se poi fosse la direzione della casa che ti facesse pena, si potrebbe facilmente accomodare la cosa, lasciando a te l'ufficio di Paroco e a D. Bonavia d'ajutarti nelle cose della Casa². Favorisci considerarla cosa ai piedi di Gesù Sacramentato e poi scrivermi il tuo parere prima che io spedisca la lettera al Vescovo. Abbiamo tutta la buona volontà di mandarvi al più presto in ajuto D. Bertolino³; ma esso non è ancora Salesiano, quindi, non potrà fare né da Direttore né da paroco, bensì da ajutante. Tu desideri aver qualcuno a cui rivolgerti per consigli: tra tutti e tre potrete consigliarvi in molte cose. Quando poi avrete bisogno ancora di altri consiglieri credo che i vostri buoni amici D. Connolly e D. Galeran non si rifiuteranno di assistervi ed ajutarvi coi loro consigli. In ogni caso siamo sempre noi pronti a servirvi.

Fa coraggio, caro D. Carlo; sento con vivo rincrescimento che non sei troppo bene in salute; qui preghiamo per te, speriamo che s. Francesco ed il nostro caro D. Bosco pregheranno essi pure per te unitamente a Maria SS. Ausiliatrice e che ti otterranno la guarigione. Fanne saper sovente di tue nuove. Credimi sempre quale mi professo

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Dear Fr Macey,

This is the first opportunity I have had for replying to your welcome letter of the 4th of the present month. Seeing you have not yet presented my letter to his Lordship the Bishop, I would prefer to write another, one more suited to the occasion, in view of the news you gave me telling me how he shared in our sad loss. I shall send it directly to him. - The thought of being Parish Priest seems to scare you although you have actually been carrying out all the duties of the same for some months now. If we put all our trust in our Lord and in the protection of Mary Help of Christians they will not leave us on our own. If the thing that frightens you is the prospect of having the direction of the house in your hands, we could easily make some adjustments; leaving you the charge of the parish, for example, and to Fr Bonavia the task of helping you out in the house. Do me the kindness of thinking things over at the feet of Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament and then let me know how you see things: I shall then write to the Bishop. We are serious in our desire to let you have Fr Bertolino as soon as possible, but he is not a Salesian yet, so he could not be either Parish Priest or Rector; but only an assistant. You would like to have someone to turn to for advice. As there are three of you I am sure there must be many issues on which you are able to help one another. Should you need further help, your good friends Fr Connolly and Fr Galeran will gladly advise you, but in any case we are always ready to help you.

Be brave, Fr Charles. I am really sorry to hear your health is not so good. We pray for you here and we hope St. Francis and our dear Don Bosco will do the same in their turn, together with Mary Most Holy, the Help of Christians, and that together they will obtain your recovery. Write to me often and give me news.

Believe me I am just as I sign myself

Yours aff. in J. & M.

P.S. We are at a loss to explain how the 6000 circulars sent to Messrs. Burns & Oates have not produced a single reply. Do you think they were ever sent out? See if you can clear the matter up.

I am enclosing another letter with this. See if you can do anything about the matter raised in it.

In risposta alla tua lettera credo bene dirti che Don Bonavia ti sarà di grande aiuto specialmente per le scuole di latinità, e forse anche per le confessioni ed i catechismi². Mettilo alla prova, e sta attento che non abbia a succedere deterioramento nella sua sanità. Usandosi un po' di riguardo egli potrebbe arrivare a tale età da sep[p]el[li]rvi tutti. 5

Dear Fr Macey,

In reply to your letter I can assure you Fr Bonavia will be a great help to you especially for the teaching of Latin and perhaps even for the hearing of confessions and for teaching catechism. Try him out, but be careful his health doesn't deteriorate. If he looks after himself, who knows, he might live long enough to bury you all!

As for the purchase of the cottages and the land, by all means push on with the negotiations and make whatever decision you think best. And let me know the exact price two months before payment is due, or if this turns out to be impossible, at least one month in advance. We shall let you have 5% on the spot and put the rest together in due course.

In the meantime do all the good things you can: you are always in our prayers, both you and your helpers, that this may indeed be the case. Cordial greetings. On your side pray for

Yours aff. in J. and M.
Fr Michael Rua

P.S. If you can conclude the contract quickly, we'll drop the idea of sending out a circular in aid of the missions, and send out one on your behalf instead, to England and Ireland, asking for donations to be sent to you or me. In that case, with help from Fr Bonavia and Fr Rabagliati, you should send out letters of acknowledgement and thanks to all your contributors. However, all these letters should bear your signature.

It would be helpful if we had a catalogue of the diocesan clergy, of religious houses and even of prominent Catholics from whom there might be some hope of assistance. Look around and see if you can come across anything of the kind and, if you are successful, send it on.

Sincere regards to all the confreres there, and get them to help you organise catechism classes, plain chant, etc. Press on with the contract as far as you can. Good wishes for the feast of St. Charles: we shall remember you very specially that day;

please pray for me and for the repose of my late lamented and only brother who died the day before yesterday.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 12 November [18]89

Dear Fr Macey,

I am sorry the purchase of the two cottages is taking so long; patience! - We shall pray to our dear Don Bosco to speed things up if it is in keeping with God's will that we open a hostel there for poor boys: you must pray as well. - Enclosed is a copy of the circular we are thinking of sending out to England and Ireland as soon as the deal has been definitively settled. You can see for yourself we have no intention of drawing the line at a couple of cottages; we shall go on buying and building, for that matter. Read the document carefully and let me have your comments. There is still time to make any necessary corrections.

With pleasure I read the article about the celebrations you held in honour of Fr Rabagliati. Please convey my warm thanks and congratulations to Fr Connolly. From the account in the newspapers his speech was obviously magnificent. As far as the circular is concerned, for the present keep the matter to yourself and don't say anything to anyone outside. You can tell Fr Rabagliati that for the time being they have no room for his niece at Nizza, but we shall get her in as soon as they have a vacancy.

Concerning the Masses of Countess di Robilant, there is no need for you to worry because if you have no record of their having been received, we would have noted them in our register; and if she had mentioned that you were to have the benefit of the stipends, then you can be sure we would have sent them on, either as a separate item or included in the sums we have sent you from time to time.

Greetings to Frs. Bonavia and Rabagliati and to Avaro. Believe me to be always

P.S. I wrote to Lady Herbert a few weeks ago: I asked her to send us the addresses of many good Catholics whose names were listed in a little book she sent me: so far I have had no reply. I should be glad if one or other of you could pay her a visit sometime and find out whether she ever got my letter. In the meantime, see if you can find a copy of any catalogue or directory of this kind and send it on. For instance, you might let us have a copy of the Catholic Directory or of the Ecclesiastical Register and Almanac of the current year, and that of the coming year, as soon as it comes out.

Dear Fr Macey,

1. I have received your welcome letter which you wrote along with your telegram and in explanation of it. We were indeed happy to receive it. Enclosed you will find a Money Order for the whole amount. Make sure the mortgages are really redeemed.

2. In connection with the form of contract, I have enclosed two articles for you; we usually insert them in all our deeds of purchase. Have them included in your own document and in others that you may be authorised to conclude in the future.

3. Let the purchasers shown in the contract be the same as those in the agreement with the bishop. You have power of attorney and can act on their behalf. Obviously we want a copy of the document.

4. Now is the time to send out the circulars. To do this quickly, some copies of the directories I wrote about earlier would be very useful. If those for 1890 are already published, we could do with three copies right away. If they are not yet available, send us at least one or two copies of this year's edition, leaving till later the despatch of two or three of the copies of 1890.

5. It would be wonderful if you could also let us have a list of some well-known, good catholic men and women. Ask Fr Connolly and others if they could let you have something of the kind, or at least let you know where to turn to buy the same.

6. At this stage we are naturally anxious to know when you will be able to take-up residence in the two cottages.

7. Give us news about Fr Bonavia, Fr Rabagliati and about Avaro. Let me know if the first two are teaching catechism and whether the classes are well attended. And of course, we must thank Our Blessed Lady for the acquisition of the first houses in London: this is one more favour obtained on the feast of the Immaculate Conception, or at least during the octave. Car.mo D. Macey,

Ci troviamo alquanto inquieti perché non abbiamo ancora ricevuto alcun cenno che vi sia pervenuta la somma che vi abbiamo spedita pel noto contratto, né se il medesimo abbia avuto luogo. Quando si riceve danaro, e tanto più se una somma alquanto considerevole, si usa tosto darne cenno di ricevuta. Alla somma andava unita una lettera in cui io faceva varie dimande, alle quali sono pur ansioso di avere risposta, specie per sapere il vostro preciso indirizzo, se cioè dimorerete ancor lungo tempo dove siete attualmente oppure se cambierete presto d'alloggio portandovi presso la vostra parrocchia. Il motivo si è che abbiám cominciato spedire la nota circolare, di cui qui ti unisco una copia. In essa il tuo indirizzo è posto | in High Street 124¹; se voi verrete presto alla nuova abitazione, converrebbe cambiarlo prima che siano partite le circolari. 5 10

D. Bonavia mi scrive una lettera, da cui sembra non essere ancora informato di questa circolare². Converrà che tu la faccia vedere a lui e a D. Rabbagliati e che vi mettiate tutti d'accordo per parlar e cercare ajuto per codesta casa.

Ora che abbiám cominciato non intendiamo di arrestarci. Come vedrai dalla circolare, abbiám tenuto conto delle tue osservazioni e si è parlato esplicitamente in essa del bisogno di scuole e di chiesa come pure di un orfanotrofio. Voi parlando colla gente | fate sentire questo bisogno e l'intenzione ferma che si ha di mandar ad effetto tali disegni. E se sarà possibile in una delle due casipole cominciar subito una scuola pei maschi separata da quelle delle fanciulle andrà molto bene³; come pure se si presentasse il bisogno di cominciar ad accogliere qualche orfanello, non sarebbe fuor di proposito di cominciar presto a riceverli, se il locale avesse d'avanzo qualche altra camera. Così fareste vedere che si ha proprio l'intenzione di cominciare l'orfanotrofio; e questo servirebbe mirabilmente a procacciarvi la simpatia ed i soccorsi della gente dabbene. Se col tempo potrete farci avere un piccolo schizzo alla buona delle due casipole⁴, della loro capacità, numero e larghezza delle camere ci farebbe piacere. 20 25 30

Una cosa che converrà fare arrivando delle offerte, sarà di tener in un registro | alfabetico il cognome, nome, titolo ed indirizzo delle persone che faranno oblazioni; noi lo terremo qua di quelli che scriveranno a noi; voi tenetelo costi di coloro che spediranno a voi e a suo tempo ce lo manderete qui per farli poi Cooperatori. - Sarà 35

pur indispensabile che ad ogni lettera portante qualsiasi offerta anche minima rispondiate con caldi ringraziamenti. Tieni a mente queste cose.

- 40 D. Bonavia mi scrive che tu brami che io od un altro venga costi a vedere. È mia ferma intenzione di venire dopo Pasqua del 1890; intanto però cominciate darci le chieste informazioni⁵. Come ti diceva di presenza, ripeto per iscritto che appena la stagione lo permetta è mio desiderio che innalziate il muro di cinta del vostro terreno⁶ e si faccia quanto occorre per cominciare l'Oratorio. - Tanti auguri di buone feste: Gesù Bambino ci accenda tutti di entusiasmo a lavorare per lui

Don Rua seems to want to go a step further wanting separate schools for boys and girls, which was a feature of Grammar and Public school education at this period.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

[Turin], 22 December [18]89

Dear Fr Macey,

We are rather worried: we have had no word to date whether or not you have received the money we sent you for the famous contract, nor do we know whether you have actually entered into the contract or not. On receipt of money and, more so, a considerable sum of it, it is customary to make quick acknowledgement of the same. Together with the above money, I included a letter in which I asked a number of questions to which I am anxious to have your replies. I should particularly like to know your exact address. Are you going to be at your present address for any length of time, or are you more likely to move nearer to the parish? The reason for my enquiry is that we have begun to send out the Circular we have spoken about so much of which I include here a copy. In it we have given your address as 124 High Street; but if you are on the verge of moving house, then we should alter this before the Circular goes out.

As soon as possible let me have a copy of the deed of purchase, which, I trust, has by now been concluded.

I had a letter from Fr Bonavia; I gather from it that he knows nothing as yet about the Circular. I think you should let both him and Fr Rabagliati see it, and the three of you should agree on how to go about appealing for help for your house. Now that we have begun we have no intention of stopping. As you will see from the Circular we have taken your comments into account and have made explicit mention of schools, church and even orphanage. Talk to people about these needs and let them know we are firmly committed to carrying out the plans we have drawn up. If at all possible make an immediate start in one of your cottages with a school for boys, separate from those for the girls. It would be good if you can manage that. Also, should the need arise to start taking orphans, don't lose any time at all, as long as you have another spare room in the house. In this way you'll make it clear that you are determined to start the orphanage and this will make you popular with the prominent people and gain their help too. When you have a chance, do me the kindness of sending me a rough sketch of your two cottages, indicating the number and size of the rooms, and let me know how many people they can house.

One of the things to be done when offerings come in, is to open a register of the people who send them, with their names arranged in alphabetical order - their family name, Christian name, status and address. We shall do this for those who send their offerings to us. Do the same should the offerings come to you, but in due course, let us have a copy of your list and we shall enrol your donors as Co-operators. It is also essential to send warm thanks to anyone who sends an offering however small. Keep these points well in mind.

Fr Bonavia writes telling me you are longing for me or one of my representatives to come and look over things in person. It is my firm intention to come over after Easter 1890. However, in the meantime, start by letting me have the necessary information. Now let me repeat in writing what I told you personally: as soon as the weather allows, I want you to start building the boundary wall round your property, and to do everything you can to get the Oratory going. Every good wish for the holy days ahead. May the Child Jesus fill you all with enthusiasm to work for Him.

Yours aff. in J. & M.
Fr Michael Rua

P.S. We have received the copy of the Directory for 1888. Higen thinks the Directory for the following year comes off the press in mid-December. In fact he says he saw a copy.

Caro Don Macey,

Ho rimandato il contratto firmato ai Sig.ri Leathley e Phipson. Si è ritardato alquanto perché prima l'ho fatto tradurre e poi non ci siamo subito potuti trovare tutti

Vedo che questo istrumento parla di un altro contratto di affitto, fatto in data 18 nov. 1881 col quale fu trasmesso il terreno al Weeks e che noi siamo tenuti ad osservare le condizioni di esso. Ci è perciò necessario avere una copia di quel contratto per vedere quali sono queste condizioni. Ti prego dunque informarti in 10 proposito e farmene tenere una copia. Se voi non l'avete ancora, converrà tenerne anche costì una copia. L'originale, o copia autentica deve averla il Sig. Weeks. f1v

1. The contract or the lease for the houses in Orbel St required the signatures of the Superior Council, hence the delay.
2. The list of prominent Catholics does not seem to have been forthcoming. The tendency for prominent Catholics to keep their heads down illustrates their sense of being a minority in a hostile environment.
3. Article in the Catholic Times: Use of the press to publicise their activities was a normal event in these years (see Dickson, op.cit., p. 108).
4. Church, school and Oratories: The Oratory was the characteristic Salesian work and involved a combination of recreational activities for young people and religious education. At Battersea, the tendency for the club to be taken over by the adults with no recreational facilities seems to have predominated. See Dickson, op.cit., p. 101 on the failure of the Oratory to become a normal feature of Salesian work in England.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

[Turin], li 9 January 1890

Dear Fr Macey,

I have returned the contract, duly signed, to Messrs. Leathley & Phipson. There was some delay because I had to get it translated to begin with and then afterwards it was not immediately possible for the three of us to come together to sign it.

I notice that the document refers to an earlier lease dated 18 Nov. 1881, which gives the use of the land to a Mr. Weeks and that we are obliged to observe the conditions of that lease. It seems essential to get a copy of the lease-contract to see what the conditions are. If you do not have one already, then in addition to getting me one, you should procure one for yourself. The original, or a copy of it, must be in the possession of Mr. Weeks.

From your letter I gather that you have gone to a lot of trouble to obtain a list of prominent Catholics, but in vain. Patience! The Lord will help us in some other way. If only Burns & Oates could do us the same favour as last year, we would be happy enough. It goes without saying that we shall cover both postage and labour costs. - You will recall that they saw to the despatch last year.

I need to know when you will be taking up residence in your cottages. I asked you this before but couldn't get an answer at the time. Perhaps you haven't settled on a date for moving house? I am also curious to know how much rent you have paid so far for the place you are living in.

We read with pleasure the article in The Catholic Times on your Christmas festivities. Deo gratias. Clearly we shall be able to do a lot of good when we have a more suitable church and a house and Oratories. God speed the day!

Greetings to everyone. May the Lord keep you in good health so that you can work for the good of souls.

Carissimo D. Macey,

Nella tua del 13 corrente mi hai assicurato che prima di fare il muro ti sei appoggiato su persone pratiche, e ciò basti per ora a te ed anche per me ad essere tranquilli di quanto si è fatto¹.

Riguardo alle circolari desidererei che si mandassero non solo ai Cooperatori, ma a quanti altri sarà possibile, affinché anche questo serva d’occasione per far conoscere l’opera nostra.

La nota degli indirizzi dei Parrocchiani che t’aveva domandato, non era già per esortar te ad insistere maggiormente presso di loro per aver sussidi, ma piuttosto per farli cooperatori, perché possano godere dei benefici spirituali, il che sarà per loro un mezzo d’incoraggiamento. | Ti notifico pure che quanto prima saranno stampati ed inviati dei diplomi Inglesi; non risparmiate tutte le circostanze che si presentano per accrescere il numero dei Cooperatori. flv

A Nizza Mare ho trovato certo Sig. Hanmer², che si dice in buona relazione con voi. Con me lasciò anche travvedere buonissimi sentimenti; desidero tuttavia che tu mi favorisca notizie particolari di lui.

Deo gratias che il caro D. Rabagliati vada meglio, fagli coraggio da parte mia. E tu pure vedi di curare il tuo raffreddore.

Saluta tutti, pregate per me, che sempre mi ricorderò di voi nella S. Messa.

Cannes, 24 February 1890

Dear Fr Macey,

In your letter of the 13th of the present month you assured me that before building the wall, you sought the advice of competent people and then followed it:

that should be good enough for both of us and we can rest easy about the work in hand.

With regard to the circulars, I should like them to be sent out not just to the Co-operators, but to as many people as possible, so that this too may serve to make our work known.

When I asked you for the addresses of your parishioners I had no intention of asking you to lean on them more with appeals for financial help; what I had in mind was to make them Co-operators, so that they might enjoy the spiritual benefits of the fact, which would be a source of encouragement for them.

As soon as the diplomas in English have been printed and despatched, I would ask you to lose no opportunity to increase the number of the Co-operators. At Nice I met a certain Mr. Hanmer. He says he is a good friend of yours. He showed himself very well disposed to me too, but I should be pleased if you could let me know a little more about him. Thank God, Fr Rabagliati is feeling better: cheer him up for me, and look after your own cold.

My regards to everyone. Pray for me. I shall always remember you all in the Holy Mass.

Dear Fr Macey,

The bearer of this letter, Canon Cinquemani, is not a Salesian, but a Co-operator of long-standing and a great friend of the Salesians. Who knows, he might become the instrument of God's providence for the maintenance and development of our house in London. He will tell you himself why he has come to London. I shall say no more, other than you should treat him like the good friend he really is. If you can help him in any way, please do so with good grace. He stayed with us at the Oratory for months. In London he will stay at the Italian church for reasons of convenience. I hope he will pay you many a visit. Car.mo D. Macey, La gradita tua del 7 corrente mi recò soddisfazione, sebbene porti l'annunzio di tenerci preparati a spedir danaro. Fin d'ora prendiamo nota della 1ª spedizione a farsi.

Per la 2^a avrai ancora tempo a fissarcene la data precisa e la somma occorrente. Vedo che dal canto vostro non tralasciate di fare quello che potete per far fronte alle spese e questo mi consola ed è da buon Salesiano. Son persuaso che se troverai ancor mezzo di raccogliere altro danaro lo farai di buon grado e mi scriverai di quanto si dovrà diminuir la somma per ora fissatami. - La somma totale della fabbrica mi pare un po' elevata; ma forse le esigenze governative e la mano d'opera saranno anche molto elevate. 5 10

flv Mi piace pure il progetto di tenere costì tre giovani adattati per far loro prendere l'esame pel diploma d'insegnamento¹: pregherò di cuore perché possano riuscire, e tu procura di incoraggiarli ed aiutarli il meglio che puoi. Anzi sarà molto opportuno se potrai ogni anno fare altrettanto sempre cioè prepararne dei nuovi nel maggior numero che ti sarà possibile. - Pensa poi se non sarà conveniente che dopo l'esame i tre giovani maestri vestano l'abito chericale qualora nello studio del latino si trovino abbastanza avanzati. Mi scriverai con comodità il tuo parere ed in tal caso ti manderem[o] la delegazione per vestirli. 15

Vedremo volentieri il caro Buss col nuovo compagno tedesco²: Ernesto e Filippo³ si fermeranno forse costì per la scuola, non è vero? - Approvo pienamente l'idea: procura solo che vadano sempre più crescendo in virtù fino a farsi buoni come S. Luigi od almeno come Savio Domenico. 20

Il certificato del giovane tedesco non lo trovai; forse me lo spedirai separatamente. 25

f2r Ho scritto poco tempo fa al Duca di Norfolk | raccomandandogli codeste scuole da fabbricare: non so gli abbi scritto anche tu. Spero non vi dimenticherà, anche dopo le 5 sterline già speditevi⁴. 30

Se non hai scritto tu, penso di scrivere io a quella buona Signora di Herefort, che ci chiamava a far colà una fondazione, affinché vi venga in ajuto. Tu mi dirai se le hai scritto, solo per mia regola. 35

Facciamo coraggio: il Signore è con noi e ci benedice, mentre la Vergine Ausiliatrice e D. Bosco non cessano d'intercedere per noi. Salutami caramente D. Bonavia, D. To Fr Charles B. Macey

[Turin], 11 July [18]90

Dear Fr Macey,

Your welcome letter of the 7th gave me a lot of satisfaction, even though it brought me news that we have to be ready to send on some money. We have already made a note of the first instalment to be sent. For the second, you still have time to let me know the precise date and the amount needed: I see that you are not failing to do all you can, on your side, to meet the expenses, and this consoles me: it is what one would expect of a good Salesian. I know that if you can find other means of raising money you will not be slow to do so, and you will let me know by how much I am to reduce the sum I am to send you. - The total cost of the construction work seems a bit steep to me, but it may be that the government requirements and labour costs are also very high.

I rather like your idea of your holding on to the three suitable young men so that they can get their teaching qualifications; I shall pray earnestly for their success, and you will do all you can to help and encourage them. It would be good if you were able to do this each year; I mean, preparing as many new candidates as possible. - Give some thought to clothing your three young teachers with the cassock once their exams are over, assuming of course that they are far enough advanced in their Latin studies. At your convenience, let me know what you think about this and, if you are in agreement, we shall send you delegated authority for conferring the habit on them.

We shall be very pleased to see dear Buss and his new German companion; I take it that Ernest and Philip will be staying over there for the school? I am happy to go along with that; just make sure that they go on growing in virtue, so that they may come to resemble S. Aloysius or at least Dominic Savio.

I didn't find the certificate for the young German. Maybe you are sending it separately.

A little while ago I wrote to the Duke of Norfolk, recommending to him the schools we are to build. I don't know if you wrote to him as well. I hope he won't forget you, also after the £ 5 already sent to you.

If you have not already done so, I was thinking of writing to the good Lady (Herbert?) of Hereford who wanted us to make a foundation there, asking her to help you. For my guidance, let me know whether you have written or not.

We should be of good heart: the Lord is with us and is blessing us, and Mary Help of Christians and Don Bosco are continually interceding for us.

Give my greeting to Fr Bonavia, to Fr Rabagliati, to Avaro and all the others. Tell Fr Rabagliati I saw his mother and father at Borgo San Martino; they are very well, and conscious of the favour the Lord has shown them by choosing for his service so many members of their family. - Believe me always

P.S. If he has not already arrived, a good Sicilian priest, Canon Cinquemani, may be paying you a visit soon: treat him like a good friend: he really merits that. My respects to Fr Connolly and his curate, and also to Abbe Galeran - As regards the piece of land, it will be all right for you to wait until a more favourable moment. - And how is the festive Oratory getting along?

1. Mr. Noblet (cf BHC under Sept 1 1890) was already an elementary school teacher when he joined at the age of 56. Though he was allowed to wear the cassock, he was never ordained. He professed at Valsalice and made his final vows in Argentina in 1896 and died at the Oratory in 1907. Only the Superior Council could authorise the conferring of the habit on an aspirant and therefore the correspondence often makes reference to this. To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 13 August 1890

Dear Fr Macey,

I am writing to you from Valsalice where I have come for the celebrations to close the scholastic year and for the feast of the Sacred Heart. I have seen your statement in favour of Mr. Noblet. If you think that not only will he not dishonour the clerical habit but will turn out to be a good Salesian and a great help to your house, then I willingly allow you to give him the cassock, and for this purpose I enclose the necessary delegation, and not only for him but for dear Philip too. Please give them both my greetings.

Charles and the young German lad will be welcome here. I am sorry Ernest ran away: if you see him tell him that Don Bosco still keeps an eye on him and that he should always behave as a worthy son of his.

I, too, would be happy if you could open an evening school; it would help, perhaps, to get the Festive Oratory off the ground. My only regret is that it would be difficult to find an English priest whom we could send to help you. Fr Bertolino is not even professed yet and may not be so even when the summer holidays come round. Moreover he still has commitments to another society and I don't know whether (or how) we can get his release. It would be easier to send you the Flemish cleric Arts whom I spoke to you about. We shall just have to pray that Fr Bonavia gets better, recovers his strength and is able to work again.

Here I shall remember to Don Bosco your dear mission and all its undertakings. It would be good if you could get the Bishop along for a simple function to mark the opening of the new schools; and it would be a good idea to send a report of the same to the catholic press. Many greetings to everyone: may the Lord smooth out all your difficulties and help you to do much good. Believe me, I am always

Car.mo D. Macey,

Ho ricevuto la gradita tua (senza data) colla relazione della graziosa festiciuola¹ che avete fatto nell'occasione dell'inaugurazione delle nuove scuole. Procureremo d'inserirla al più presto possibile nel Bollettino italiano e francese. Ebbi molto piacere delle notizie datemi: vedo che il Signore benedice codesta nuova fondazione e spero che quando la vostra chiesa non possa più contenere la folla che vi accorrerà ogni domenica, Egli ci provvederà i mezzi per fabbricar la nuova chiesa. Intanto essendo affatto piena la casetta attuale vedi un po' se si potesse acquistare anche quella che vien subito dopo, od almeno far investigare che prezzo si richiederebbe, flv senza ancora comparire come desideroso di acquistarla². | Sarà conveniente di far pubblicare sui giornali cattolici di codesta città la relazione stessa che a noi inviasti³. Servirà a far comprendere che i Salesiani non sono in alcun modo in opposizione col Vescovo, anzi lo venerano e ne sono amati.

Ho saputo da D. Bologna⁴ che non avete per tempo ricevuto avviso degli esercizi di Lilla e per conseguenza non poteste prendervi parte. Pensa un po' se potete nella vostra chiesa fare gli esercizi tra voi col mezzo di libri e di qualche conferenza facendovi prender parte i nostri giovani capaci di tale spirituale trattenimento e ciò per quattro o cinque giorni nelle ore che potrete aver libere con due, tre o quattro di tali riunioni in chiesa come meglio potrete. - Sentirò volentieri il tuo parere e se eseguirete tale progetto riceverò con gusto la nota degli esercitanti e dei nuovi aspiranti.

S. Benigno, 16 September [18]90

Dear Fr Macey,

I received your letter (undated) with the report of the charming little celebration which marked the inauguration of the new schools. We shall get it into the Italian and French Bulletins as soon as possible. Your news gave me great pleasure: I can see the Lord is blessing our new foundation there, and it is my hope that when your church can no longer hold the crowds that come flocking to it on Sundays, then the Lord will send us the means to build a new church. In the meantime, since your present house is absolutely full, see if you can acquire the adjoining property, or at least find out what it would cost, without letting on that you are interested in buying it.

It would be good if the London Catholic papers would publish the report which you sent us. It would make it clear to everyone that the Salesians are not in any way in opposition to the Bishop, but that on the contrary they revere him and are loved by him in return.

I heard from Fr Bologna that you were not notified in time about the Retreat in Lille and that in consequence you were unable to be present. See if you can organise a Retreat in your own church with the help of books and conferences; those of your young people who are spiritually up to it could join you; you could spread the retreat over four or five days, in the hours available, and with two or three or even four meetings in the church if possible. I'll be glad to hear what you think of this suggestion, and if you do in fact implement it, I'd be really pleased to see the names of the retreatants and of the new aspirants.

Heartfelt greetings to Fr Bonavia, Fr Rabagliati and to all your dear boys, to the newcomers and the rest, on all of whom I invoke copious blessings from the Lord.

Yours aff. in J. & M.

Don Rua replies to various practical questions raised by Fr Macey in previous letters eg. the continued use of the tin chapel

[Torino], 5 ottobre [18]90

Car.mo D. Macey,

In fretta ma in Domino rispondo alle gradite tue ultime.

1. Per la cappella¹ supplicate il governo a permettervi di tenerla ancora almeno per un biennio: in seguito speriamo sostituirla con altra in muratura. Facendo vedere che si è riparata bene da poco tempo e che per la sua solidità e pei muri che la circondano può servire ancora per parecchi anni, facilmente vi accorderanno tale permesso. Intanto raccomandate l'affare a D. Bosco; egli vi aiuterà efficacemente.

2. Mi rincresce che il Boll. di Agosto abbia fatto lo sbaglio da te accennatomi intorno al vostro oratorio fem[m]inile; procurerò di far correggere altra volta che di voi si parli².

flv 3. So che il P. Galeran³ fu offeso perché nel Bollettino che parlava della mia visita costì non si fece di lui menzione. Questo avvenne a mia insaputa e veramente contro la mia volontà. Si cercherà se si potrà riparare altra volta. Del resto quanto alle tribolazioni che vi procura, state tranquilli; servirà sempre meglio a far conoscere l'Opera della Provvidenza. Se il demonio vi suscita nemici è segno che comincia temervi; fate coraggio: il Signore lo vincerà. Però trattate sempre bene e con carità il prelodato sacerdote come pure tutti gli altri. - Il Bollettino converrà continuar a mandarglielo, anche perché si persuada che noi lo stimiamo e lo amiamo e nulla abbi-contro di lui.

4. Quanto all'ex prete-protestante⁴ che vorrebbe venire da noi converrà che tu ci dii il cognome e nome ed indirizzo, scrivendo a D. Barberis, il quale, prese le informazioni volute dai Decreti Pontificii, risponderà direttamente oppure a te. Non sarebbe fuor di proposito che egli pure ci facesse la dimanda per iscritto.

5. Mi fa piacere la notizia dell'incanto delle due case vicine⁵. Sono d'accordo che tu prenda parte all'incanto suddetto. Pensa solo e combina coll'Avvocato per vedere se non sia meglio che vi sia una terza persona che figuri. Se poi noi dobbiam di qui fare qualche cosa scrivici e faremo quanto possiamo.

6. Mi rallegro delle notizie dei due oratorii. Vi raccomando molto di aver gran cura del maschile e trovar modo di farlo grandemente fiorire.

7. Ti unisco una lettera di Noblet che pare di buona volontà. Abbi-lice anche un altro inglese certo Sig. Duffy che parla pur bene il francese⁶.

1. The chapel is the original tin church built by the Countess de Stackpoole which had only a temporary licence from the local authorities.
2. The nature of the error in the Bollettino is not clear.
3. Fr Galerán suffered considerable difficulty in the diocese and was taken to court by his curates for not paying them their wages. His distressed state of mind may well be reflected here.
4. We have no record of this former Protestant priest entering.
5. The auction and the acquisition of 58 & 60 Orbel St. (noted above) is referred to.
6. Noblett and Duffy. Thomas Noblett was born in Liverpool March 3 1836, was a novice at Valsalice in 1892, and his perpetual profession in 1896. He died at Valdocco on 14.1.1907 He was registered as a coadjutor despite his having received the cassock from Fr Macey. (See above) As for Duffy, he appears in the Elenco as a novice in Valsalice in 1892, but there is no record of his profession.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

[Turin], 5 October [18]90

Dear Fr Macey,

I am replying in haste, but in the Lord, to your recent letters.

1. For the chapel, petition the authorities to allow you to keep it going for a further two years, by which time we shall replace it with one in brick. If you point out that it was repaired recently and that its solid structure and surrounding walls will serve for several years yet, I think you will easily get permission. In the meantime recommend the matter to Don Bosco; he'll give you the help you need.

2. I am sorry about the mistake you refer to in the August edition of the Bulletin in reference to your Oratory for girls; we shall have the matter corrected in any future reference to your work.

3. I know that Fr Galerán was offended because the Bulletin made no mention of him when it carried news of my visit. This came about unknown to me and, as a matter of fact, was contrary to what I had in mind. We shall try to make amends another time. For the rest, if this brings worries in its wake, don't be upset, for it will only serve to highlight the Providence of God. If the devil stirs up enemies in your regard it is a sign he is getting afraid of you. Take heart: the Lord will defeat him. On your part, never fail to be courteous and kind to the aforementioned worthy priest, and for that matter to everyone. It would be well to keep sending him the Bulletin, if only to show him that we still hold him in high regard, that we love him and have nothing against him.

4. As for the former Protestant priest who wants to join us, it would be better if you send his name and address to Fr Barberis who will get the necessary information required by the Pontifical Decrees and then write to him directly or maybe to you. It would be reasonable to expect him to make a formal personal request for acceptance.

5. I am pleased to hear of the sale by auction of the two nearby houses, and I agree you should take part in the bidding. Give a bit of thought to the matter however and take counsel from your lawyer to see if it might not be better to bid through a third party. If we are to be involved at this end in any way, write, and we shall do what we can.

6. I am pleased at the news you give regarding the two Oratories. I urge you to take great care of the one for boys and to find ways of making it really flourish.

7. I am enclosing a letter of Noblet who seems well disposed. At Valsalice we have another Englishman, a certain Mr. Duffy, who speaks French rather well.

May Our Lady of the Rosary, well-versed in victories, help you to overcome all your difficulties. Many greetings to your little family, and pray for Writing on 5.VIII, Bonavia records having been on supply at the house of the Earl of Albemarle (in the Provincial House today there is an old altar stone that goes back to Penal times and came from this family), a visit to Crystal Palace with the altar servers, and the fact that Macey is well, but burdened with debts, work and worry. I reciprocate most heartily the latter and I approve of the article on our feast day celebrations and on our needs. As for your new church, as Fr Durando has already written to you, here is what you must do: take your plans along to the Borough Council and ask for their approval. I refer of course to the design which preserves your present chapel and facing Trott Street; by enclosing the old wood and iron structure in this way, you will be able to continue with all your services until you are ready to inaugurate the new church in brickwork. - Greetings to Fr Bonavia, Fr Rabagliati, Festini and all the boys. You may keep this note and take it as permission to build, for once you have obtained approval from the borough for the above design, I authorise you to make a start, but go easy, easy, so as not to end up to the neck in debt.

Mio Caro D. Mac[e]y,

Sono a Roma e m’interesso della Chiesa di Londra. Stamattina ho parlato con Mons. Stonor¹ e gli ho raccomandato la nostra santa impresa ed egli mi promise di farlo ben volentieri. Sarebbe anche opportuno che tu gliene scrivessi. Sta in via Sistina n. 27 - Roma. Non comprendo poi come non si possa fare secondo che te ne scrissi, cioè innalzando le due mura laterali del nuovo edificio in modo da comprendere la Chiesuola attuale, demolendo la quale, a suo tempo, la nuova servirebbe ad un gran numero di fedeli. Così potremmo per questo tempo usare la Chiesa antica, e per poco si dovrebbe pensare a provvedere altro sito finché tutto fosse adattato. Non saprei perché il vostro architetto non approvi questo sistema che sarebbe comodo e nello stesso tempo si continuerebbe l’uso del sito antico.

Stasera vado a parlare alla Contessa *Stapool*², e vorrei dirti di pregare se avessi tempo da farlo. Prega però e fa pregare perché il Signore ci mandi qualche buona mano che l’abbia piena di sterline da dare per Lui, altrimenti è la volta che faremo bancarotta. Come vedi sono contento che si faccia, anzi ti direi che non vedo il momento di vederla finita, ma vorrei solo sapere perché non si può fare come accennava più sopra. D. Francesia³ che mi accompagna e mi sta a’ fianchi sapendo che ti scrivo desidera che io te lo ricordi ed a’ tuoi confratelli. Il Signore ti benedica, caro D. Volta il foglio |

P.S. Per non restare qualche tempo senza chiesa parochiale mi pare che sarebbe ben fatto se si riproducesse il disegno della Chiesa di S. Giovanni Ev.⁴ Se ti sembra io scriverei a Torino che te ne mandassero i disegni. Per ora converrebbe limitarci alla navata di mezzo, incorporando la Chiesa antica, come scrissi più sopra, e chiudendo con mattoni gli archi; riserbando a fare l’altre navate a tempi migliori. La località mi pare la migliore quella di fronte a Trott Street che chiuderebbe la via in modo elegante e artistico, come sarebbe la Gran Madre di Dio a Torino. I danari come e dove potremo prenderli? So che i serviti ed altri li presero da qualche Banca, e perché non potremmo anche noi ricorrere alla medesima fonte facendo un prestito con ipoteca sui nostri stabili? Mi si disse che non si incontrerebbero difficoltà. Bisogna che ci sappiamo industriare.

Un’altra buona risorsa sarebbe impiegare operai italiani; così essi troverebbero lavoro e guadagno e noi forse risparmio, contentandosi di una giornata più modesta - Di nuovo a Dio - Se mi hai da scrivere indirizza le tue lettere a Catania, dove mi fermerò quasi tutta la prima metà di febbraio.

My dear Fr Macey,

I am in Rome and doing what I can for the church in London. I spoke to Monsignor Stonor this morning and recommended our holy enterprise to him and he said he would be very glad to do what he can. It would be a good thing were you to write to him yourself. He lives in Rome, at number 27 Via Sistina. I don't see why they cannot do as I suggested in my letter to you: I mean, putting up the two side walls in such a way as to enclose the little church that is already there, leaving its demolition till the appropriate moment when the new building would be ready to take a larger number of the faithful. I can't understand why your architect doesn't approve of this method; not only would it be an easy arrangement, it would also allow the continued use of the old site. This evening I shall be off to see Countess Stacpoole and, if time allows, I should like you to get down on your knees in prayer. Pray anyway, and get others to pray that the Lord may send us a helping hand, full of pounds sterling for Him, otherwise we are sure to go bankrupt. As you see I am pleased you are going ahead, in fact I can hardly wait to see the work finished; but I would like to know why it is not possible to do as I have indicated above. Fr Francesia who accompanies me and is right beside me now and seeing that I am writing to you asks to be remembered to you and to the confreres. May the Lord bless you, dear Fr Macey, and now we must brace ourselves for the campaign before us for the church in London. Believe me

Yours aff. in J. & M.
Fr Michael Rua

P.S. To avoid your being too long without a parish church, I think it might be well for you to copy the design of the church of St. John the Evangelist. If you find this acceptable I'll write to Turin and ask them to send you the plans. For the time being it would be wise to confine ourselves to the central nave, enclosing the old church as I suggested above, filling in the arches with brick, and waiting for better times before building the other aisles. The area in front of Trott St seems best to me: it would close the street with artistic elegance, not unlike the Gran Madre di Dio in Turin.

As for the money, where and how are we to come by it? I know that the Servites and others had loans from the Bank; so could we not have recourse to the same method, mortgaging some of our property? I have been told there would be no problem. We must do our best. Employing Italian workers might be another way of getting help. They would have work, they might be disposed to work for less, and we would save in the process. Again, we shall have to turn to God. If you want to write to me send your letters to Catania for I shall be staying there for almost the whole of the first half of February. Kind regards to dear Fr Bonavia, to Fr Rabagliati, Festini and to all the others.

P.S. I hope you received my previous letters authorising the building of your church. - I have just been going through the mail that came in while I was in Catania and amongst it I found your welcome letter of the 29/1; so here is a quick reply. I am still of the opinion that, if at all possible, your little church of wood and corrugated iron should be left intact and enclosed within the new structure: for the latter you could use the plans of St. John the Evangelist, reducing the scale. - For the time being we could limit ourselves to building the central nave and block up the arches with a simple brick wall. - As for taking out a loan, you have my approval in spite of the 4% interest. When people know we have debts, it will serve as an incentive to those who are generous to come to our help. - By adopting the design of St. John the Evangelist, I hope we shall avoid any sizeable increase in the estimate for the new design, particularly since we are cutting out the bell tower for the present. We can always add this later alongside the church. Like yourself, I too am hoping my visit to Countess Stacpoole may help in some way; but, Unless the Lord builds the house, those who build it labour in vain etc. Greetings to the dear confrères. May St. Joseph enable you to find the necessary funds. Have recourse to him. Give my greetings to the boys whom I hope to see before too long. I shall be here in Marseilles until 2nd April, and then I return to Turin.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Marseilles, 28 March [18]92

Dear Fr Macey,

I am replying to your letters of the 23rd and 25th of this month, the latter having just come in. When I was in Nice, I made enquiries about Mr. Hanmer but was told he hadn't been around this year; but I shall write as you suggest, and when I am next in Nice on April 6 I hope to see him should he happen to be there. I shall certainly pray for your examinations. I trust Mary Help of Christians and Don Bosco will keep you in mind.

When I was in Nice I thought of you and promoted your cause. A good Co-operator has raised my hopes, leading me to believe I can put you in touch with a good catholic in London, who is rich and generous.

In the meantime a lawyer, Mr. Michel whom you know well, has sent me a list of the Presidents of the various St. Vincent de Paul Conferences, together with letters of recommendation for you to deliver in person. In fact I enclose a copy of his letter for your guidance. It would be wise to follow the advice it contains: I hope it will redound to your advantage.

I can see it is difficult for you to get loans over there: the best thing is to go ahead, but slowly, keeping the present church and building around it.

May the Lord grant you an abundance of blessings and may Mary Help of Christians obtain for you the help you need.

Yours aff. in J. & M.
Fr Michael Rua

P.S. I enclose a 5 shilling postal order to start off the offerings for the church.

Car.mo D. Macey,

Mentre mi trovava in Nizza un ottimo nostro amico e zelante cooperatore sentendomi parlare di vostre necessità e strettezze mi promise di farmi avere una lettera di raccomandazione ad un'ottima e generosa famiglia francese dimorante in Londra¹, con viva fiducia che avrebbe potuto e voluto aiutarvi. Arrivato in Torino ricevetti questa lettera. Veramente per isbaglio fu fatta in modo che servirebbe d'accompagnamento a me; ma aggiungendovi io la lettera mia che vi troverai unita spero potrà servire egualmente per te. - Prova a portarla e fa di tenerti in relazione con tale famiglia facendola anche cooperatrice Salesiana appena vedrai il terreno preparato.]

- 10 Il nostro caro D. Bosco ci ha insegnato a non risparmiare sollecitudini, visite fatiche ed anche a ricevere mortificazioni per promuovere le opere di gloria di Dio e di vantaggio alle anime. Noi procuriamo di seguire i suoi esempi. A proposito di D. Bosco forse sarà bene anche per voi intestare le vostre lettere e circolari colla

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 17 April 1892

Dear Fr Macey,

While I was in Nice a good friend of ours, who is also a zealous Co-operator, heard me talking about your needs and straitened circumstances, and he promised me a letter of introduction to an excellent and generous French family living in London, in the earnest hope that they would be both able and willing to help you. I found the letter waiting for me when I got back to Turin. Unfortunately, it was mistakenly made out for my own personal use, but given the enclosed covering letter of mine, I think it will serve you equally well. Go along and see, and keep in touch with this family, enrolling the members as co-operators when the moment is right.

Our dear don Bosco taught us to spare no efforts, visits or hard work, and, in fact, to put up with mortifications, whenever it is a question of promoting God's glory and the good of souls. We must follow his example. Talking of Don Bosco, perhaps you should head your notepaper and circulars with "Don Bosco (Charitable) Works" as is done by the French. Don Bosco's name is the key that opens for us the way everywhere. Very soon I hope to send you the English Bulletin; it will need to be distributed as widely as possible.

The lawyer Michel of Nice may be sending you 30 copies of the annual report of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul. This will enable you to meet and talk to the Presidents of the local SVP Conferences.

Give my greetings to Fr Bonavia (it is ages since I heard from him), to Fr Raba-liati, to Festini and to your dear boys. I pray that the Lord may give them all a spark of that sacred fire he came to cast upon the earth. Believe me to be always

P.S. If you have some poor orphans among your boarders you would be justified in calling your little college an orphanage. About T. Eden of Bordighera, I did not have time to visit him myself, but I gave Fr Ortuzar the task of visiting him every now and then.

[Torino], 10 luglio [18]92

Car.mo D. Macey,

Abbiam ricevuto a suo tempo la facciata della nuova chiesa; va assai bene, ma pesa un po' troppo e difficilmente potremo inserirla nel Bollettino¹: procureremo 5 inviarla nei pacchi di più bollettini inglesi che spediamo per la propaganda².

Mi rallegro che presto possiate mettere la pietra fondamentale. Con rinrescimento io non potrò presenziare la cerimonia se non in ispirito. Se il Signore mi conserva in salute farò il possibile per presenziare la consacrazione.

Quanto a ciò che si ha da mettere dentro alla pietra fondamentale potrai forse 10 trovarlo nel Bollett. francese del Luglio od Agosto del 1890 dove si descrive la funzione che si fece a Liegi³.

Bisogna avere un'urna di vetro o di metallo, dentro cui si può mettere qualche moneta, qualche medaglia del S. Cuore e di Maria Ausil., qualche ritratto del Papa, della Regina, di D. Bosco, del Vescovo, magari anche il tuo e mio ritratto indicanti le persone a cui si riferiscono, poi un verbale contenente le varie particolarità della fondazione e benedizione. Sarà bene in esso far anche menzione della C.ssa di Stacpoole. Ho incaricato D. Durando⁴ di prepararti l'abbozzo; giacché non possiamo di qua preparare tutto il verbale non potendo conoscere le particolarità. Questo verbale sarà conveniente scriverlo su cartapeccora e che porti la firma del Vescovo che benedirà, di te e di vari personaggi presenti alla funzione. | f1v

Sono contento che abbi ricevuto già un chèque da Lione, come ci annunzi colla tua di avanti jeri, spero ne avrai a quest'ora già ricevuto un altro più abbondante, cioè di 400 sterl. di cui ci favorirai presto un cenno di ricevuta. | f2r

Mi fa pur piacere la notizia delle buone disposizioni della C.ssa di Stacpoole. Speriamo bene. - Già l'aveva anch'io visitata l'inverno scorso, come ti scrissi, ed aveva mostrato disposizioni abbastanza favorevoli. - Quando si potrà affidar le scuole femminili alle nostre Suore sarà poi anche più soddisfatta. Volontieri ti permetto di andarle far visita con biglietto circolare. Converrà però assicurarti di trovarla in Roma quando tu vi andrai. - Quanto al prendere marmi | inglesi, credo che si potrà | f2v contentare, ciò farà pur piacere ad altri inglesi. Penso che sarebbe pur bene rappresentar la vostra chiesa di fianco in tutta la sua altezza e farmi anche avere il numero delle colonne che ci vorranno, degli altari, delle balaustre, dei quadri e statue, delle campane ecc. - Ciò potrà servire a trovar benefattori.

Tanti cordiali saluti a tutti codesti confratelli e giovani che debbono servire come altrettante pietre fondamentali di codesto novello stabilimento Salesiano colla loro pietà, scienza e virtù. - Credimi sempre

To Fr Charles B. Macey

[Turin], 10 July [18]92

Dear Fr Macey,

A short time ago we received the facade of the new church; it is quite good but a bit bulky, so it would be difficult to send it out with each copy of the Bulletin. We shall include them in the bulk packets of the English Bulletins we send out for propaganda purposes.

I am pleased to hear you will soon be in a position to have the foundation stone laid. I am sorry I shall not be able to be present at the ceremony except in spirit. If the Lord gives me the necessary health I shall do my utmost to be there for the consecration.

If you consult the July or August 1890 issue of the French Bulletin you will have the answer about what has to be placed in the foundation stone, for there is a description there of a similar function at Liege.

There will need to be a glass or metal container which should enclose some coins, medals of the Sacred Heart and of Mary Help of Christians, photographs of the Pope, of the Queen, of Don Bosco, of the Bishop, perhaps even of you and me, with indications of who the various people are, a report with details of the foundation and the blessing. It would be well to include a reference to the Countess Stacpoole. I have asked Fr Durando to draft you something; we cannot do the final copy for you since we have no knowledge of the details. This document should be written preferably on parchment and should bear the signature of the Bishop who does the blessing, of your good self and of the leading people present.

I am glad to see from your letter which I received the day before yesterday that you have already received a cheque from Lyons. By now I trust you have received an even bigger one, for £ 400 sterling in fact; please let me know of its safe arrival.

I was also pleased to hear that Countess Stacpoole is well disposed towards you. Let us hope all goes well. I visited her myself last winter, as I told you in one of my letters, and I found her quite favourable. She will be even more pleased when you are able to entrust the girls' school to our Sisters.

I willingly give you permission to buy a return ticket and pay her a visit. Only you had better make sure first she is in Rome when you intend to call. - As for using English marble, I think you can go along with the idea. This will find favour with other English people.

I think it would be good to get out a sketch showing a side elevation of your church depicting its full height. Let me know too the number of pillars needed, the number of altars, altar-rails, pictures, statues, bells, etc. It would help us in our search for benefactors.

Cordial greetings to all the confreres and to our young people: by their piety, knowledge and virtue they should serve as the foundation stones of your new Salesian establishment. - Believe me always

P.S. The cheque for £ 280 is not payable for 3 months yet. Keep it carefully: it will serve as part payment for September.

Dear Fr Macey,

I was pleased to receive your letter of the 20th of the present month, together with the design of the elevation of the church, the various jobs in hand and their relative costing: we are happy about everything. In due course, we hope to make use of your plan in the interests of your church and your house.

I am glad Mr. Hanmer paid a visit and gave you the donation he did. In view of the same, I give you permission to build the lateral aisles at the same time you are building the central nave. Thank Mr. Hanmer warmly for me and tell him how sorry I am to have missed him in Nice last winter. Invite him to pay us a visit here in Turin some time, on his way to or from Nice.

We shall be happy to see the report on the laying of the foundation stone for we hope to publish it in the other language bulletins. May the Lord bless you and make you prosper in all your undertakings. Heartfelt greetings from

Ho bisogno di battere la gran cassa per ottenere ajuto a continuare i lavori di codesta chiesa¹: favorisci pertanto sollecitamente rispondere ai quesiti che sono per farti.

1. La Chiesa è già coperta? il soffitto è già fatto?
2. Le colonne ed i pilastri annunziati sul Bollettino sono già al loro posto?
3. Che cosa sono i rosoni di cui si parla nella nota data sul Bollett. in Ott. ult. scorso?
4. Quante campane volete porre sul campanile e di che dimensione approssimativamente?

5. Quante statue ci vorranno e di che valore?
6. Quanti quadri e di che dimensione e valore?
7. Quanti affreschi e di qual valore?
8. Quanti confessionali e di qual prezzo?
9. Quante porte interne? quante esterne e di qual valore ciascuna?
10. Come intendete fare il pavimento del presbitero? come quello della chiesa?

Quale ne sarà la spesa?

11. Metterete la balaustra? di qual materia? di qual valore?
12. Intendete decorare la chiesa? quale ne sarà l'ammontare?
13. Quanti candelabri grandi e quanti piccoli? di qual valore caduno?
14. Intendete fare acquisto di lampadari? quale ne sarà il valore?

I shall have to beat the drum if I am to find you help to keep the work on the church going: be good enough then to let me have an early reply to the following questions:

1. Is the church already covered? Is the roof on yet?
2. Are the columns and the pillars that were referred to in the Bulletin already in place?
3. What do you have in mind for the rose-windows referred to in the Bulletin of last October?
4. How many bells are you putting in the steeple and how big, approximately?
5. How many statues will be needed and what will be the cost?
6. How many paintings? Size and price?
7. How many frescoes and cost?
8. How many confessionals and price?
9. How many doors, inside and outside, and what will they cost?
10. What are your plans for the floor of the sanctuary? As for the rest of the church? And the cost?
11. Will you be installing altar-rails? Material and cost?
12. Do you intend to have the church decorated? What will that come to?
13. How many branched candlesticks, big and small? And the cost of each?
14. Are you buying chandeliers? Price?

If you have other information details for me, I would be glad to have them. I hope you will soon receive your monthly allowance, for I have asked the secretary to send it or have it sent on to you.

Practical concerns again about the new church: the bell tower, the sanctuary floor, altar-rails,

Car.mo D. Macey,

Ho ricevuto la gradita tua del 24 Genn. Sono pago delle informazioni intorno a D. Senes¹. Ti ringrazio delle informazioni datemi intorno ai lavori che rimangono a farsi o a pagarsi: me ne servirò per cercare aiuto.

Quanto al campanile, se torna molto comodo e risparmia gravi spese il farlo adesso col resto della fabbrica sono d'accordo che si faccia; se poi importa poco farlo adesso o dopo il compimento della Chiesa, sarà meglio aspettare a farlo dopo per finire più presto il corpo del fabbricato e così più presto farne l'inaugurazione [...]

Pel pavimento del Presbitero io non intendo che si faccia ricco, parmi solo conveniente venga fatto con qualche aspetto di disegno [...] Per le balaustre vi lascio in libertà di farle di marmo o di pietra. Gli affreschi e decorazioni della chiesa si potrà
farli mentre vi sono i ponti².|

f/v Riguardo al paramentale sarebbe proprio opportuno trovare costì qualche buona Signora o comunità religiosa che ve ne facesse un regalo.

Il Signore benedica le vostre sollecitudini per la fabbrica e pei fanciulli; intanto avvicinandosi il mese di S. Giuseppe procurate di farlo bene per ottenere colla sua paterna protezione i mezzi per continuare codesta impresa. Anch'io pongo le mie ricerche sotto la sua protezione.

Dear Fr Macey,

I have received your kind letter of the 24th January. I am satisfied with the information you give me about Fr Senes. Thank you for the information provided about the work that remains to be done or paid for; this will be useful to me when I am looking for help.

As far as the steeple is concerned, if it is more convenient and will save a lot of money to erect it now with the rest of the building, then I agree that you should go ahead with it; if it makes little difference whether it is done now or after the church is finished, then it would be better to wait until later so as to hurry on with the main building and have the inauguration sooner.

For the floor of sanctuary, I didn't have in mind anything pretentious, but it should display some suitable design. I leave it to you to decide whether the altar-rails should be in stone or marble. The frescoes and the decorations could be done while the scaffolding is in place.

With regard to the vestments, it would be good if you could find some good lady or religious community locally, to make you a present of them.

May the Lord bless your diligence for the building project and for the children. As the month of St. Joseph draws near try to make it well so as to obtain through his fatherly intercession the means to continue with the project. I am putting my own efforts under his protection.

My best wishes to all the Salesians and young people.

Car.mo D. Macey,

La data del 6 Agosto per la consacrazione della vostra chiesa¹ mi renderebbe quasi impossibile di presenziarla il che mi rincrescerebbe. Dear Fr Macey,

The date August 6 for the consecration of the church would make it impossible for me to be there, and I should be sorry were that the case. If you could bring it forward, say to July 15, it would suit me much better. To this end, you could leave part of the work to be finished later, if there is no other way of doing so.

Last month Mr. Leeming came to your help as he had promised. See whether you can get help this month or the next from Mr. Hanmer who assumed responsibility for the two side-aisles.

Good wishes to everyone but especially to your young people whom I am eager to meet. Encourage them to keep the month of Mary well. This good Mother has special graces to obtain for them; but they must have a great love for her and be fervent in their devotion to her.

Per darti una risposta avrei bisogno di sapere se hai dei debiti per la chiesa nuova: se non vi sono debiti si potrà consacrare. Essendo parrocchia sarebbe più a proposito la consacrazione. - Inoltre amerei sapere come si suol fare per le altre | chiese nuove che si fabbricarono negli ultimi tempi e si vanno tuttora fabbricando in Inghilterra, se cioè si consacrano o solo si benedicono. 2. Don Cagliero and the Countess. The Countess was very difficult to manage (as the Parish priest at East Battersea and Bishop Butt had already found) and now the Salesians in their turn, fell foul of this mulier fortis. She, in fact, refused to attend the consecration and another benefactor ended up giving the High altar (as at the East Battersea church). See Dickson, op.cit., p. 124, for details of the consecration.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

[Turin], 13 May [18]93

Dear Fr Macey,

It would still be possible for me to be there for August 6, but I wouldn't be able to stay with you, not even for one extra day, which would be most unseemly: I would have to leave immediately to help out at the retreat for our aspirants here. It would be better to have the inauguration about the middle of October; that would enable me to stay with you for a few weeks, and it might make it possible to have at the function a greater number of affluent gentlemen who are usually on holiday in the month of August. Concerning the church, you ask me whether it should be blessed or consecrated. Prior to giving you an answer, I would need to know whether there are any debts on the new church. If there are none, consecration would, in fact, be more appropriate since it is a parish church. But I should like to know what the custom has been regarding other churches that have been built in England and those that are still being built: are they consecrated or merely blessed? Try to find out.

We shall see to it that before the month is over you have the £ 364 sterling to make up the monthly allowance.

I have had no letter from Countess Stacpoole. It would not be improper to ask Fr Cagliero to take her a letter from you, or perhaps to get someone else to do so: in your letter you could enquire about her health and find out about the altar; whether she intends to order it herself or to leave the matter in your hands, etc. May the Lord always be with you and may Mary Help of Christians help you to find a lot of money to continue your work for the greater glory of the Sacred Heart of her Divine Son.

Cordial greetings to all the Salesians and to your young people from

Dear Fr Macey,

The celebrations for the feast of Mary Help of Christians obliged me to put off until today my reply to your welcome letter of the 17th of the month. Now I have time to attend to you. Unless there are reasons to the contrary, it would be better for me if you fixed the date of the consecration of your church for the feast of the Purification of Our Lady on 15th October. If this is possible, I could even come in advance and spend a few days with you working out the things to be done.

I have seen the register of debts for your new church; in my opinion they are not excessive. We might be able to cover them with our monthly quotas for August and September. That would allow us to have the consecration instead of the simple blessing provided the bishop has no objections.

You may delay your letter to Countess Stacpoole, but do not forget to write at the appropriate moment. Do not forget either to seek help from other benefactors.

Regarding the bells, I am told by Monsignor Cagliero and other musicians that you will need 3 or 5 or 7 if you have campanology in mind. For your guidance in the matter, I would have enclosed a copy of the contract we had when we were working on the church of St. John the Evangelist. Unfortunately Fr Sala has it: I hope to send it on later.

May God ever be with you. The month of the Sacred Heart is drawing near: do your best to spend it well, both in the community and in the schools. Let us love this dear Heart which is the fount of every grace. Greetings to everyone from P.S. The ornamentation could be put off to a later date; we did that in the case of the church of Mary Help of Christians.

P.S. Count Luigi Radicanti of Turin would like your help: he is an outstanding benefactor of ours and at present he is legal guardian to one of his relatives, also of Turin.

His ward's substance is in the hands of London bankers: with your help the Count would like to get in touch with some capable and trustworthy person with whom he can safely communicate, so that the money left to his ward by her parents may be collected. - See whether you can find the right person for this particular work. Dear Fr Macey,

I am glad at the good news you give me in your letter of the 11th, especially with regard to the four chandeliers which were given to you. Thanks be to God and Mary Most Holy for the gift.

I am pleased about your using electric light in the new church, as long as you are not cheated over it. First make sure of the technical ability of the workman who has fallen on bad times. Make sure you are not throwing money away. If others have already installed electric light in their churches, find out whether it costs less than gas and whether it does not present greater difficulties and dangers.

I am happy to be in a position to send you from Lyons £470 sterling for the present month, but for the month of August I would like you to try and manage with the two postal orders which I enclose. We shall see whether you are able to find the rest.

Just as I was finishing this letter your own welcome letter of the 15th arrived. In it you ask me what you should do about the land which is up for sale behind the church and your house. We can see the desirability of purchasing it: the snag is where to find the money. However we have trust in Divine Providence, so let me know the size of the plot you want to buy and the price. In the meantime, be careful not to let the opportunity pass.

What about yourself? Are you coming to see us during the holidays? It might be useful for settling the details about the inauguration festivities.

Car.mo D. Macey,

Mi fa veramente stupire il prezzo che si pretende pel prato. Non so se io sbagli, ma se le cose sono come tu me le scrivi, sarebbe un prezzo estremamente esagerato¹. Mi dici che vi sono solo 200 metri quadrati; al prezzo di 6000 sterl. Verrebbero a costare 750 lire il metro. Credo che un metro quadrato coperto di scudi d'argento da L. 5 non formi ancora L. 750 e neppure la metà di tale somma. Per altra parte con 200 metri quadrati non un cortile, ma appena un salone od un laboratorio si potrebbe formare. Forse avrai voluto dire che ha 200 metri di lato. In tal caso non sarebbe tanto esagerato il prezzo di 4000 sterline, che verrebbe a fare L. 2.50 al metro quadrato, ciò che per un prato è assai alto.] 5 10

[30]

To Fr Charles B. Macey

[Turin], 24 July [18]93

Dear Fr Macey,

I am staggered at the price of the plot of land. If I am not mistaken, from what you have written, the price is grossly exaggerated. You tell me the area is 200 sq. metres; at £ 6000 sterling that comes to 750 Lire per sq. metre. If you covered a square metre with 5-lire silver coins it would not take 750 Lire, nor even half that amount. As well as this, 200 sq. metres would hardly be enough for a hall or a workshop, let alone a playground. Maybe you meant not 200 sq. metres but 200 metres in width. In that case £ 4000 sterling would be less exaggerated; it would correspond to £ 2.50 per sq. metre, and even that is very high for open land.

About your coming to the retreat here at Valsalice, I think it would be a very good idea: we could work something out for the feasts and functions to be held in connection with the inauguration.

May the Lord help you and send you many benefactors and fine young men who can form a firm foundation of English personnel and who can continue the building of whatever is needed for the London Salesian Institute. Best wishes to everyone from

Dear Fr Macey,

Today I received your welcome letter of the 8th and immediately asked Fr Lago to set about finding you the necessary. I hope he will soon be able to give you satisfaction. We are working out how we can send you Fr Bonavia. If we can manage to find a replacement we shall gladly send him. However, do what you can to find a priest to take your place for one Sunday; that would be the safest thing to do. It would be good too if you could come for the rectors' retreat which you will have seen listed among the various courses. That would mean finding someone straightaway to take your place without waiting for Fr Bonavia.

We shall have to find some way too to let you have Fr Artz, unless some insuperable difficulty crops up. We found your explanation about the area of the plot of ground satisfactory, although it still seems a lot of money for 200 metres, since it is going to work out at more than £ 1 sterling per sq. metre.

I shall be happy to see you bring the young novice to make his profession here, but you will have to make sure that he has completed his year of novitiate. We should be happy to have all three novices come, but we must be patient. Maybe we could have the same function for the others when I come for the inauguration of the church.

I too hope you will have many vocations over there, and God grant that your house may become one of the most important in our Pious Society for the number and holiness of its candidates.

When you are here we could have the official acceptance of your dear novices into our Pious Society. I was very pleased with their requests: I trust there will not be any difficulty about their admission.

I still have all the letters your various pupils wrote to me for the feast of St. John. I have read them all carefully and I was very pleased to see the progress they have made in foreign languages, while I was quite touched by the good wishes and sentiments expressed in them.

Although it is now a bit late, be good enough to thank them on my behalf and assure them that I did not wait all this time to pray for them to the Lord, asking him to repay them with an abundance of heavenly blessings.

Dear Fr Macey,

The Rev. Fr Dupuy S.J., resident chaplain to Lord Arundel at Wardour Castle, Salisbury, wrote to you some time ago about the desirability of making a Salesian foundation at Tisbury; at your suggestion he then wrote to me about the same matter. I have replied saying the project is possible but not immediately, for lack of personnel, and that in the meantime I was writing to you about it. And that is the point of the present letter. At your convenience and at a time that will suit Fr Dupuy, I would like you to go to Wardour Castle and look over the place we are being offered; the buildings, land, etc. Examine everything and listen carefully, and then let me have a full and early report.

Affectionate greetings to all my dear sons: pray for me; I never fail to do so for you. From the bottom of my heart I bless you and I remain.

Fr Michael Rua

P.S. Please give Fr Bonavia the enclosed note I have addressed to him with all my kind greetings. Then read the other letter and post it to the address indicated. If this young man comes to visit you, see if his dispositions are right: if they are, it would be good to take an interest in him and try to find him a job. Perhaps Fr Bonavia still remembers him. Greetings to all my dear confreres, novices and pupils. I pray that the Child Jesus may grant them many blessings. 28. 12. 93.

D. Rua tells Macey the visit to Wardour Castle is not pressing, not to rush at the new foundation and to compare it in any case with that offered in Hereford; informs him Mr. Leeming is willing to put up money for the field

[Torino], 5 gennaio [18]94

Car.mo D. Macey,

Non occorre andar tanto presto a visitare la proprietà che ci viene esibita. Potrai andarvi con comodità. Sarà conveniente prima intenderti per lettera, per non arrischiarti d'andare forse in assenza dei Signori Proprietari. Vediamo anche noi la conve- 5 nienza di collocare altrove i cherici per far posto ad altri giovani nella vostra casa, la difficoltà sta nel trovare il Prete disponibile da mandarvi. Quindi nasce la necessità d'andare adagio nel fare la nuova fondazione. Appena avrai visitato ci scriverai tutto chiaramente descrivendo il sito, il clima, le condizioni; e noi a seconda delle circostanze faremo o no l'accettazione fissando poi il tempo per l'apertura della casa. 10

del Conte Lubienski¹ [.]

Quanto al campo già sai che il Sig. Leeming si è disposto a somministrare 2/m sterline alle condizioni convenute. - Forse il prezzo non supererà tale somma e allora tutto sarà aggiustato. - Se poi sarà maggiore speriamo si potrà avere qualche mora 15 al pagamento; ed in questo modo ci resterà tempo a provvedere. Intanto sarà conve-niente che tu scriva al Sig. Leeming² notificandogli a che punto sono le cose.

Quanto al ch. Buss³ di cui mi scrivevi colla tua del 19 Nov. adesso trovasti tran-quillo e va avanti bene nello studio della teologia.

Santi Magi.

1. Count Lubienski and the Hereford project never came to anything because of the Bishop of Newport's fears that, since the village already had two convents, another religious house would arouse Protestant prejudice.

3. Charles Buss (see index of names).

To Fr Charles B. Macey

[Turin], 5 January [18]94

Dear Fr Macey,

There is no urgency about the visit to the property we are being offered. You can take your time. I think it would be just as well if you make arrangements first by letter, otherwise there may be no one there when you turn up. We, too, think it would be a good thing to move your clerics elsewhere to make room for more boys in the house. The problem is the availability of a priest to send you. Consequently don't rush into making the new foundation. As soon as you have seen the place write to us giving a clear description of the site, the climate and the conditions; and on the basis of such information we shall decide whether or not to accept, and we shall fix a date for the opening.

See how this new proposal compares with that of Hereford suggested by Count Lubienski.

As for the field you know already that Mr. Leeming is willing to let us have £ 2,000 sterling, subject to the terms agreed. - Maybe the price will not be higher than that, in which case we would be all right. If, in the event, the price turns out to be higher, perhaps we might be allowed a longer time for payment, which would give us a chance to make provision. - In the meantime I think you should write to Mr. Leeming letting him know how things stand at present.

Regarding the cleric Buss, about whom you wrote in your letter of November 19, he is quite happy now and is going ahead with his study of theology.

Maintain the good spirit in which you began the New Year. May Jesus endow you with the blessings he lavished on the Holy Magi.

1. The three proposals. Cf Macey > Durando esp. Macey-Rua (3.4.94) ASC E 988 Inghilterra, mc. 3650 A 1. where Macey describes the three offers in detail. Burton Park is 2 ½ hrs from London, still in the same diocese (Southwark); on offer: a new church house and property but Mr Biddulph, the squire, says he is unable to give us the property absolutely because of a trust deed which says the property must remain in the hands of 3 laypeople. Macey hoped to be able to overcome this by having 3 laybrothers made trustees but it was legally impossible. At Tisbury, near Wardour Castle, Salisbury, there was a small property, but no church or house but a promise of funds from Lady Arundel. At Bullingham while the Count was willing to give the property, the Bishop of Newport was concerned that, since there were already two convents of women and girls, it might upset the local Protestants to see a novitiate there. (See Bishop of Newport's letter to Macey, Sept 6th 1894, 3650C5). In the event, none of them were taken up.

Dear Fr Macey,

I like the proposal about Burton Park. I should like to know just how far it is from London and from the railway station, and what obligations would be attached to its donation. If it would not be too much trouble for you, could you let us know the full details of the three proposals: Bullingham, Tisbury and Burton, with their respective distances from London and from the railway station, together with the advantages and disadvantages in each case: we would then be in a position to make a judgement and advise you in our reply, on the choice to make. I do not see, mind you, how we could open anything in this scholastic year. Tell me how you see things. - I shall look into Mr. Hanmer's offer. We shall pray for the examinations and for the field for, as long as it remains unsold, there is hope. May St. Joseph obtain for us whatever is for God's greater glory. Best wishes to you all from

Dear Fr Macey,

You are on the point of buying more property in London and elsewhere, and I believe your provincial, Fr Durando, has sent you a reply to your welcome letter of the other day. - We too are regularly having to buy or sell. A good lawyer friend of ours had the idea of setting up a limited company in London, in keeping with English law, entitled to purchase property (even overseas), as a way of avoiding all the problems of inheritance following the death of the legal owners. - With this in mind we have had a projected statute drawn up. I enclose a copy so that you may submit it to some good English lawyer and find out if it is in keeping with English law. We did submit it to someone some time back, but so far we have never had a reply. I leave it to you to have it translated soon and to let us know, as I said, the opinion of some good English lawyer. I know that similar companies have been set up in the United States. I should imagine that something of the same kind is possible in England.

I am also enclosing a copy of the letter that went with the draft document, for it may clarify the latter. In the meantime let us pray to Mary Help of Christians that she may obtain light and grace on our behalf so that in this affair too, we may be doing the will of God. To this end furthermore, try to make the best use of the coming month which is dedicated to her.

Car.mo D. Macey,

- Spero avrai già ricevuto da D. Durando l'aspettata risposta da comunicare al Vescovo di Newport: tuttavia coll'occasione che scrivo a D. Giordano¹, dirigo pure
 5 due parole a te. - La casa di Bullingham per ora si può considerare come collegio od ospizio semplicemente; è vero che vi saranno alcuni cherici, ma con essi vi saranno pure, spero, varii allievi secolari; perciò più a ragione dovrà chiamarsi con uno di questi nomi che con quello di Seminario o di noviziato. In questo senso e sotto tal
 10 nome di collegio od ospizio si può presentar la cosa a S. E. Rev.² - Per parecchi anni la casa potrà andar avanti così: quando | poi il numero dei cherici ed ascritti crescesse
 molto, confido che la Divina Provvidenza ci somministrerà altra casa dove rimanere senza pericolo di eccitare sospetti o dicerie. - Riguardo poi a fabbricare nel sito che il Conte Lubienski ci esibisce, sarà cosa da pensarci assai. Ho ferma fiducia che Maria 15 Aus. e D. Bosco da voi pregati con viva fede vi otterranno un locale più vicino a Londra, più comodo e meno costoso.

Tanti saluti a tutti: pregate per tutti gli esercitandi che sono in questo momento molto numerosi. Credimi sempre

S. Benigno, 22 September [18]94

Dear Fr Macey,

I hope you have already received from Fr Durando the reply you have been waiting for so that you could send it on to the Bishop of Newport. However, as I am writing to Fr Giordano, I am taking the opportunity to send you a few words as well. The house at Bullingham can be considered for the present as a simple boarding school or hostel; it is true there will be some clerics there, but there will also be some secular pupils with them, I hope, and so it would be better to use one of the above names rather than that of seminary or novitiate. In this sense, and as a boarding-school, the matter can be presented to his Lordship the Bishop. - The house could continue in this way for a few years: when the number of clerics and novices rises substantially, then Divine Providence will, I trust, find us another house where we can stay without any fear of giving rise to suspicious or evil rumours. - Finally, with regard to building on the site which Count Lubinski has shown us, this will need a lot of thought. I firmly trust that Mary Help of Christians and Don Bosco, invoked by you with such faith, will find some place for you nearer to London, more convenient and less costly.

Greetings to everyone. Pray for all those who are making their retreat at present; they are quite numerous. Believe me always

S. Benigno, 22 September [18]94

Dear Fr Giordano,

I have never lost sight of your kind letter of the 4th, but it is only now that I have had a chance to answer it.

I have seen the letter I received from Pernambuco: I am not against your leaving for the missions at the next departure ceremony; for now, you could take a cleric and a coadjutor with you, and then later, when the site is ready, we could see to the despatch of further personnel. For the first year we shall not be able to let you have many confreres, but what we cannot do in the first year we shall, with God's help, be able to do later.

Congratulations on having made so much progress in English that you are now able to help out with both teaching and preaching. Deo Gratias! For the time being you can stay on there a little longer. If you come here about the middle of next month, that will be good enough. In the meantime, it would be helpful if you gather information about Italian, French and British ships calling at Pernambuco, noting cost, and available reductions, but without committing yourself to anything definite at this stage.

I am returning your letter which arrived from Recife, and I ask you to give my cordial greetings to your pupils and tell them that Providence has already prepared a place for them where they can work for the good of souls, as soon as they have attained the necessary level of virtue and standard of studies.

Greetings, too, from Fr Tomatis, who is here to preach the retreat to our novices and artisan confreres, from all the superiors and especially from

Desidero vivamente che presto arrivi D. Giordano: se sai dove si trova scrivi gli che prontamente si rechi qua od almeno ci faccia sapere dove i suoi compagni di 5

Quanto alla casa di Bullingham¹ se avrai ancora da scrivere al Vescovo di Newport converrà fargli comprendere che noi non possiamo portarci isolatamente a prendere cura di istituti o conventi. Le nostre Costituzioni ce lo vietano: voglia perciò compatirci. - Converrà poi anche tener ben informato il Conte Lubinski e ringraziarlo egualmente della sua buona volontà. Non dobbiamo però sgomentarci di queste 10 difficoltà: il demonio fa quanto può per non perdere il regno acquistato, servendosi anche | delle buone intenzioni delle persone dabbene. Ma preghiamo e confidiamo. Il Signore per intercessione di Maria Ausiliatrice, di S. Francesco di Sales e di D. Bosco 15

Dear Fr Macey,

At the earnest request of Fr Redahan I am adding my own recommendations.

I would like Fr Giordano to get here as soon as possible; if you know where he is, please write to him and ask him to come here without delay, or at least to let us know where his missionary companions can meet him so that they can travel together to Pernambuco. [written up the left-hand margin: He arrived on the 25/10].

With regard to the house of Bullingham, if you have occasion to write to the Bishop of Newport it would be good to explain to him that we cannot send isolated individuals to take care of institutes or convents: our Constitutions forbid it; we ask therefore for his understanding. - It would be well too to keep Count Lubienski informed, thanking him at the same time for his good will. We must not be discouraged in the face of these difficulties; the devil does all he can so as not to lose the kingdom he has gained, and to this end he uses even the good intentions of honest people. Let us pray and never lose hope. Through the intercession of Mary Help of Christians, St. Francis de Sales and Don Bosco, the Lord will come to our help in greater ways yet.

May the Lord bless you copiously and in this novena for All Saints help you to advance in holiness. Greetings from P.S. I am not sending Fr Redahan's letter because two days ago a cleric arrived who knows English to some extent, so we have sent him to Ivrea. Fr Redahan's letter was a request for one of your clerics to teach the Irish students we have in this college. For the present then, the need has been met. Fr Giordano has explained to us the need you have of a priest and a cook. We shall do what we can but we shall have great difficulty in finding a priest. 26. X. 94.

Dear Fr Macey,

Ever since my arrival in France I have taken up the cause of the purchase of the field on which we have so much set our heart. I spoke to a number of people, Canon Cauvin being one of them: he was reluctant to begin with; but on the feast of St. Francis de Sales I met Mr. Hanmer who is well known to you and who is at the same time a good friend of the Canon. I asked him to take up your cause; the move was successful and now I am sending you a copy of the letter received from the Canon this morning. - As you can see, the money is now there for the price indicated in your last letter. It is now up to you to push the matter through. Should you acquire the deed of purchase during my absence (until about April 1), you may write directly to the Canon himself, at Rue St. François de Paule, Nice, and I trust you will get the money.

I am staying here until the 16th of present month. If you can let me have a note on the above, I should be pleased. May the Lord bless you all and also

Dear Fr Macey,

While here I have received your welcome letter of the 7th of the present month. You refer to the famous piece of land. I am sorry to hear that things are such that we cannot push ahead as fast as we would like. We'll just have to be patient. We must pray and not lose heart, and avoid unbecoming haste. I have had good news again from Nice. On the feast of St. Francis de Sales Mr. Hanmer had a friendly meeting with a good and rich Protestant (whose wife is a devout Catholic), and they agreed together to advance you a donation so that you can put down a deposit for the purchase of the land. Maybe Mr Hanmer will write you about the matter. I think you could accept the offer, but let Mr. Hanmer know how things stand at present. Maybe there would be enough for you to make a start with the building as well? I imagine this rich Protestant, whose name is Rand Bailey, will pay you a visit in person when he gets back to London. He was in the thick of the business world and could be of great help to you.

He volunteered for the Argentine mission and seems to have endeared himself to the Irish community there, especially among the Sisters. He eventually went to the USA where he worked in San Francisco for many years at Corpus Christi parish.
 2. Don Marcellino Scagliola b. Asti 1843, ord. 1878, 1891-94 Falklands, died Mexico 1931.
 3. Mons. Lasagna 1850-1895 was an indefatigable pioneer of the Salesian missions in Uruguay, Brazil and Paraguay. He was killed in train crash in Brazil, having been much involved in polemics and was Bishop of Asuncion.

Turin, 12 November [18]95

Dear Fr Macey,

While I was away and on the advice of dear Fr Durando, who believed he was interpreting my own wishes, our confrere Fr Diamond went off; I hope he has reached you safely. He will be able to give you good service as a preacher and in the sacred ministry in general. It will be well, nevertheless, for you to know something of his background. From the reports I received from the Argentine Republic, it seems he showed too much familiarity with persons of the other sex, especially with adolescent girls and also with the Sisters. This gave rise to accusations against him which may have been considered by the Archdiocesan Curia as more serious than the reality warranted. In these circumstances, the Vicar General thought it better that he should not return; and in the light also of hints we received from the Salesian Superiors down there, we decided to keep him in Europe, but we got their letters only when he had left London on his return here. With all this in mind kindly give him fraternal help and advice when necessary, not only in this connection but also as regards the propriety of all his behaviour as a priest and Salesian.

In the meantime if you can do without Fr Scagliola it would be well if he were ready to leave for Sarria, Barcelona, at short notice, if indeed he has not left already. In that case, please see he gets the enclosed note.

Please pray for Mgr. Lasagna and his companions, without forgetting in God's presence

Car.mo D. Macey,

Non pensavo che potesse costar tanto lo schema di società preparato dal vostro Avvocato¹. Il nostro, in vista delle opere di beneficenza a cui è destinato il suo, ce lo fece gratuitamente. Già la società è costituita e domani probabilmente comincerà le sue operazioni. Spero che anche voi potrete almeno ottenere una riduzione e che quando si tratti di fabbricare o fare acquisti potrete già avere costituita la vostra società; giacché penso che sarà necessario costituirne parecch[i]e. - Quanto alla spesa necessaria per pagare l'Avvocato ed unitamente soccorrervi per pagare il muro e riparazioni procurerò di spedirti qualche cosa appena ci sia possibile. Ora per la partenza dei Missionari ci troviamo veramente spossati². Spero per la prossima settimana f1v potremo mandarvi qualche aiuto. Procurate anche voi di raggiurarvi e cercar soccorsi, giacché noi non possiamo far fronte a tutto: bisogna che ci limitiamo a ripartire quello, che la Provvidenza ci manda, tra le varie case bisognose senza poterci incaricare di nessuna in particolare.

Riguardo a D. Scagliola³ siamo intesi: rimanga costì a disposizione; intanto continui ad occuparsi, come pel passato.

Abbiam saputo da D. Diamond⁴ che vi ha condotto costì quattro Irlandesi. Non so a quali condizioni ve li abbia condotti: ma se credessi conveniente mandarli ad Ivrea, dove vi è seminario irlandese, potrai farlo. Se per esempio, vi troverete costì nelle strettezze di locale, potrete alleggerirvene per far posto ad altri col mandarli f2r qua. Saprai che due hanno ricevuto l'abito chericale in principio del corrente mese e che pare facciano ottima riuscita⁵. - Ora vi sono ancora tre o quattro altri⁶. Giacché si fa la scuola per questi pochi, si potrebbe farla per un numero maggiore. - Tu vedrai quel che convenga fare.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

[Turin], 18 November [18]95

Dear Fr Macey,

It never entered my head that your lawyer would charge so much for drafting a document for the company we are planning. In view of the charitable purposes for which it is intended, our lawyer did the work for nothing. Our company is now set up and will probably begin to function as from tomorrow. I hope you will be able to obtain at least a reduction and that when you come to build or to acquire property you will have your company already in place, for I think we are going to have to set up several more. As for the expenses to pay the lawyer and those for the wall and restorations, I'll try to send you something as soon as possible. The departure of the missionaries has drained our resources, but I hope we shall be able to send you some help next week. You must do your part and look around for help, for we cannot shoulder everything. We can do no more than share out what Providence sends us, among the houses in need, but we cannot assume responsibility for any particular house.

Agreed, concerning Fr Scagliola: let him stay where he is and be prepared; but in the meantime, he should carry on with his present job.

We have news that Fr Diamond has brought you four Irishmen (I have no idea under what conditions) but if you think it fit to send them to Ivrea, where there is an Irish Seminary, do so by all means. If you are cramped for space, for example, you could ease the situation by sending them here, and in that way you would have more room available. You'd know that two of your people received the clerical habit at the beginning of the present month and they seem to be doing well. Three or four more have since joined them. As we have to provide schooling for these few, it would be no problem to make provision for larger numbers. I leave you to do as you think best.

Give my congratulations to the translators of the Bulletin. With a bit of courage we should be just right next month.

Kind regards to everyone. May the Lord keep you all in his grace. Believe me to be

1. The date. In view of later developments (cf letter) it is worth noting that Macey had written to Lazzero (on Feb 11 of the year 1896) asking for two coadjutors immediately, adducing that the employment of outsiders would be costly. He adds this significant sentence: "Gli inglesi non voglion entrare la n.S. come coadiutori perché non porta un abito religioso. Avremmo avuto molti se non fosse stato per questo, ma senza un abito non vogliono restare". Later on in the year, Rabagliati adds his voice to Macey's. The high labour costs. On Oct 1 he wrote to Lazzero saying he had heard from Bonavia that coadjutors were on the way, a carpenter and a cleaner, going on to add that he had hoped there would also have been a tailor and a shoemaker as prices were sky-high in London and that labour costs were 19 soldi an hour.

He was one of the original group of young Irishmen to go to the Oratory. He worked in Argentina, the Falkland Islands, Italy, Malta, Ireland and the United States where he died 16.8.1943. [Turin], 10 March [18]96

Dear Fr Macey,

By now I hope Fr Rossiter has had a reply to his letter in which he enclosed £ 20. If I am not mistaken it was addressed to Fr Redahan who had so much work on his hands that until a few days ago he did not get round to sending an acknowledgement and thanks. I don't remember seeing even one of his letters which, I imagine, were all addressed to the same individual.

As for Sr. Bernardine's cheque we have no record of it as you are probably already aware. Please do write to thank her and ask for more information. While you are at it, tell her that if ever she has a complaint to make, she can always write directly to me, and with all freedom, for whenever I am in Turin I read every single letter that comes here in English unless it is very long.

Fr O'Grady is very keen on having Fr Diamond with him. Do you think the latter would be willing to go back to the Falklands? Make discreet inquiries and let me know in writing, but say nothing to Fr Diamond. - I should like to have some news about your house, for I have had nothing for some time now. - Fr Barberis may soon be with you. Look after him well for me.

May St. Joseph help you at every stage in your life but especially on your last great journey. Kind regards to everyone.

1. The visit of Fr Barberis. The BHC records his arrival on April 14, and notes that "during his visit he received the vows of the two novices, Ernest Marsh and Walter Austen". The files of the Central Archives in Rome give the perpetual profession of both as occurring on April 16 (that is, two days later).

2. The workshop for the artisans. Writing (in 1939) for the year 1896-1897 Fr W. Brown notes: "Fr Macey also began to take in young boys as artisans in shoe-making, tailoring and carpentry. As need arose, workshops were cheaply erected along the wall; I believe they still remain, transformed. The artisans slept in the cottages. The workshops usually went by the name of Roncalli Villas, after the lay-brother carpenter Roncalli who built them". (Notes on BHC p 19) All traces of the shops have now gone.

3. The clerics for Ivrea which became a studentate of Philosophy.

4. Joseph Arts. In July of this year Arts was sent to Turin. He left the Congregation shortly after.

5. Ernest Marsh. Previously a member of the Rosminians. He worked with Fr Bonavia on translation of the Rule, a translation that never got beyond the lithograph stage. It was never approved and orders were given from Turin for all lithographed copies to be burned. He later joined the American province and in 1920 he joined the archdiocese of New York.

6. The names of the clerics in question may be gathered from an entry in the BHC. July 25: "The Deacon Ernest Blackborow was on this day raised to the Sacred Dignity of the Priesthood, and the clerics Aloysius Hawarden & Michael McCarthy were raised to the Sub-diaconate".

Dear Fr Macey,

I read with great interest what you had to say in your welcome letter of the 12th, and we shall keep it very much in mind for the good of souls.

I enclose three commissions for Fr Barberis, if he is there, to receive the professions and perform the Clothing Ceremony, or for yourself or someone else if he is not there.

I am pleased at the good news you give me about your house, about the increase in the number of boarders and day-pupils. Deo Gratias. Maybe it is now time to open a workshop. Working for "artisans" will win you a lot of goodwill.

I hope Fr Barberis can make arrangements with you to send several of your clerics to Ivrea. This is the right time of the year.

Greetings to dear Fr Barberis, to all your priests and clerics, and also to the boys. Tell Fr Arts that it is a long time since I had one of those letters of his which gave me so much pleasure. May the Lord keep you all in his grace.

P.S. Give my special regards to the cleric Ernest Marsh, whose letter I have before me. Talk to Fr Barberis about whether to hasten the promotion of the three people in minor orders you refer to. If they are already in the third year of theology and have passed their exams on the treatises of the whole course, you could go ahead and arrange for them to be ordained priests in the coming holidays.

1. On the same day as this letter was being despatched from Turin, Macey wrote to Durando informing him that he had already been in touch with the Shipping Company and had been informed that a ship would sail on Nov 28, via St. Helena. He mentions that he would book 5 places, and that he encloses the passport for the cleric McCarthy.

He also informs Durando that the cleric who was going, had finished his novitiate and could make his profession in Turin.

The BHC fills out the picture. For October 1896, it has an entry recording the fact that “Don Barni who had been chosen by the Superior Chapter to be the first Superior of the new house at Cape Town, South Africa, left for Turin accompanied by the clerics Thomas Giltinan and Daniel McCarthy, the latter of whom subsequently was sent to Caracas, Venezuela.”

For November 10 it further records: “Don Barni & Bro. Thomas Giltinan & three lay-brothers arrived in London, and, after a stay of a few days, left for Southampton en route for Cape Town, South Africa. Two of the community accompanied them as far as Southampton Docks to see them off”

From a letter of Macey to Durando (9.XII.96) we know that Bonavia was one of the 2 members of the community that accompanied the missionaries to Southampton.

In the same letter, Macey enthusiastically records the Perpetual Profession of 4 novices and the Clothing of 3 aspirants: “We need to build” he says, or “we won’t be able to have vocations.”

The ticket of the voyage made by these pioneers of our work in Southern Africa is preserved in the Archive of the Salesian Institute, Cape Town. They travelled on the Steam Ship “Greek” on the 28th November in Berths 95/98 & 69. The five pioneers were: Fr Federico Barni, the cleric Thomas Giltinan (perpetually professed in Valsalice 29.10.1896) prior to departure, and three coadjutors, viz., Carlo Fea, Daniele Della Casa and Ignazio Rametti.

Tradition has it that when the five were disembarking at the Cape, Thomas Giltinan leaped over the gang-rail and was first to set foot on African soil.

The fare for all five was £ 120.05.00. The three coadjutors all left the Congregation. Fea and Della Casa on 9.v.1902, Rametti on the 16.03.1904. As will be seen later, the rate of perseverance among the coadjutors in S. Africa was poor and was a source of anxiety to Don Rua.

Fea was a book-binder, Della Casa a compositor and Rametti a carpenter (the show-cabinets in the hallway of the Salesian Institute, Cape Town, are part of a larger unit and still witness to his craftsmanship).

In an article entitled “In the Shadow of Table Mountain”, the late Fr Vincent Gorman, and one of our first vocations from South Africa, (died 1988) noted what he called the “Rametti connection” with regard to the Institute: Ignazio, our former coadjutor, “his son Angelo, was the works overseer when our present chapel was being built in 1950 by Fr Stubbings; then there is a fourth generation: Larrie Rametti from Cape Town, studying at St. John Vianney; finally, one of our Old Boys, Mr. Paddy Byrne, who rose to become General Secretary of the typographical Union, married a Claudette Rametti, another fourth generation descendant”. (V.01 Gorman op.cit.).

2. The individual who had contracted debts remains a discreet mystery.

Dear Fr Macey,

Fr Barni and his three companions arrived safely today. He gave me your esteemed letter of the 18th in which you ask my advice about the debts incurred by that confrere. It seems desirable to me that either you or, better, Fr Bonavia should write to him telling him of the various requests received for the repayment of money said to have been lent to him, and asking him 1) whether he did in fact incur such debts; and 2) if he did, whether he had in mind any relative or outside person who might be prepared to repay the borrowed money.

From his answers you will be able to work out what needs to be done. Certainly it would be inadvisable to allow people to complain on this score, because, unfortunately, the scandal would recoil on the Salesians.

With cordial greetings

To Frs Charles B. Macey and Giovenale Bonavia

Dear Fr Macey & Fr Bonavia,

In the light of what you said in your letter of the 11th of the month, I have had a discussion about the English language Bulletin with Fr Albera and Buss. The latter finds himself overburdened with work, because he has to cope with the administration, mailing lists, proof-reading, etc., by himself with no one to help him. Fr Albera sees the need to continue as we did last year. But we have advised Buss to limit himself to correcting the mistakes in the proofs and not much more than that. - I urge you then to push ahead with the work which is now a month behind schedule. If you can send us a cleric or a layman who could give him a hand in the work which is going to fall on him nevertheless, it would be a great help and would lead to a greater development of the Union of the Co-operators in England.

May the Lord bless you all and also

Car.mo D. Macey,

Abbiam ricevuto con piacere la fotografia della nuova chiesa affidata alle nostre cure a Burwash¹. Il tuo desiderio sarebbe di fabbricare un piccolo dormitorio, refettorio e scuole. Approvo pienamente la tua idea di non lasciar colà un prete solo, ma che convenga metterlo in condizione di avere occupazione in conformità della nostra missione, cioè intorno alla gioventù. La sola difficoltà che noi abbiamo si è che fabbricando colà, noi fabbrichiamo su terreno altrui. Conviene perciò prendere le precauzioni legali convenienti. Perciò converrà che tu parli con qualche Avvocato per sentire il suo parere sul modo di combinar la cosa, affinché non si possa in avvenire espellerci da quella nostra abitazione a piacimento del proprietario del locale attuale. In seguito ne parlerai con Mons. Bourne, il quale certo sarà d'accordo che si prendano tali precauzioni desiderando anch'esso che l'opera nostra rimanga stabile. |

f1v Riguardo all'abbè Cauvin credo che egli non abbia preso nessuna ipoteca pel suo credito; si è contentato di tante obbligazioni di 500 sterline caduna. Questo per tua informazione. - Se si trattasse pel fabbricato che desideri in Londra di un prestito di L. Ital. 4500 potremmo facilmente trovare; ma se si tratta di altrettante lire sterline non saprei proprio dove trovarle. |

Ritornando alla casa di Burwash avrai capito che se Mons. Bourne vivesse sempre, e fosse sempre vostro Vescovo nulla vi sarebbe a temere; ma siccome egli può essere cambiato ed anche esso dovrà a suo tempo andar a goder il premio delle tante sue buone opere, così conviene che assicuriamo la casa per la nostra Pia Società, che, speriamo, a lui sopravvivrà, malgrado che noi gli auguriamo di cuore almeno ancora 100 anni di vita. |

f2r È vero che si potrebbe col tempo comprare una pezza di terra accanto all'attuale per fabbricarvi il noviziato, tuttavia non conviene mai fabbricare su terreno altrui senza prendere le opportune precauzioni². |

breve da D. Albera o D. Durando, al ritorno del 1° che attualmente è assente per qualche giorno.

Se potete stabilire anche qualche scuola d'italiano andrà bene.

1. Burwash. Writing to Don Rua on Jan 7 1897, Macey describes the mission and church being offered by Bp. Bourne. "È una missione di campagna con circa 20 cattolici. La chiesa e casa sono in buono stato. Erano fabbricate dalla famiglia Murieta che una volta abitava là presso. Questa famiglia poco tempo fa fece bancarotta, dovrebbero vendere la loro casa e andarsene. L'entrata della missione è piccola assai; essa dipende dall'elemosina dei Cattolici non essendo dotata. Per quest'anno basterebbe un prete che abbia cura della missione, ed un chierico per la piccola scuola annessa ... A me pare che l'unico che potrebbe per ora andarvi, sarebbe Don McCarthy non però col titolo di Superiore...".

Macey's letter of Jan 7 is annotated by Don Rua. At the top of the letter he has written "Don Dur." And above this the note: "Risp. 18/1". Up the left-hand margin of page 1 he has the note: "Sembra che sia da visitare sì e se è in buono stato da accett". On page 2 where Macey makes his suggestion about McCarthy, there is the single word: "Bene". And then where Macey speaks of one priest and one cleric for the first year Don Rua has the note: "Bene per quest'anno un sac. un cher. ed un coadj". ASC E 988 Inghilterra.

Don Durando's letter of Jan 18 takes up all the points of Don Rua. He advises Macey to visit Burwash and tells him to accept if it is in good condition. He approves of the idea of McCarthy as priest in charge, and suggests that for the first year there should be a cleric and a coadjutor as well. (Durando-Macey).

2. The proposed additions of dormitory, refectory and school: On the 2nd February, Macey had written to Fr Durando describing a visit of Bishop Bourne to Battersea on Jan. 29, and a visit made by himself the previous Wednesday to Burwash. "Vi è una chiesa bellissima, quasi nuova ben fornita. La casa parrocchiale è unita alla chiesa, e consiste di 4 camere da letto, con cucina e due parlatori. Questa casa può essere allargata. A sinistra della chiesa v'è anche il Campo Santo. Che bella cosa per noi di essere sepoliti così vicino alla nostra casa. Questo mi fece un gran piacere perché ho un orrore d'essere sepoliti nei grandi cimiteri di Londra. La scuola è solo di ferro, capace di contenere 50 bambini ... Ho promesso al Vescovo di aprire la casa il 1 di Marzo". ASC E 988 Inghilterra.

A day later, on Feb. 3rd, Macey made good an omission in his previous letter. He set out the 3 conditions proposed by the bishop for the transfer of the property: 1. If ever the Salesians were to leave Burwash the church would revert to the diocese. 2. Existing building were to be maintained in good condition and 3. The elementary school was to be kept open.

A week later, Feb. 10, Macey was writing to his provincial telling him he needed 3000 lire to equip the new house with beds, furniture. ASC E 988 Inghilterra.

On the April 19 Macey was able to inform Durando that the bishop had received the document from Rome and the property was now ours.

3. The ordination of Hawarden. In his letter of Feb. 10, Macey had asked for authorisation for the promotion to the Diaconate of the Sub-deacon Aloysius Hawarden. He was ordained Deacon the following month, on March 13. Here it is a question of ordination to the priesthood: this took place on July 18.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 27 March [18]97

Dear Fr Macey,

We were pleased to receive the photograph of the new church entrusted to us at Burwash. You suggest putting up a small dormitory, a refectory and schools. - I fully endorse your plan not to leave a priest there on his own but to put him in conditions where his work would be in keeping with our mission, namely, among young people. - The only snag we see about putting up buildings is that they would be on land that is not ours. It would be wise to take legal precautions. Consult a lawyer on the point and get advice on how to go about it in such a way that at some future date whoever happens to be the owner of the property may not turn us out arbitrarily. Thereafter have a word also with Bishop Bourne, who will certainly be in favour of our taking legal precautions, for he, too, wants our work to have stability.

As for Abbè Cauvin, I don't think he took out a mortgage on the loan: he was happy enough with the promises made to repay him in instalments of £ 500. This is just for your information. - If the loan you need for your building in London is 4500 Italian lire, we could find that easily enough; but if you are talking about the same figure sterling, then I can't see where such money can be had.

Coming back to Burwash: if Bishop Bourne were to live for ever and were to remain your bishop always, there would be no reason to worry as you would also agree; but he is liable to be moved, and, of course, one day he will have to move on to enjoy the reward of his many good works. We have to put our house on a sure footing for our Pious Society, for although we heartily wish the bishop another 100 years of life, we also entertain the hope that the house will go on longer still.

We could, it is true, eventually buy a plot of land near to the present one and build a novitiate. However, it is never wise to build on land that is owned by others without taking wise precautions.

Concerning the ordination of the deacon Hawarden, I hope you will soon have a reply from Fr Albera or from Fr Durando, once the former returns: at present he is away for a few days.

It would be good if you could also start Italian lessons. May the Lord fill you and your family with his graces.

P.S. As soon as it arrives here, we send you any English money we receive, cheques and money orders. You should have already received some this month. We are doing this to keep the promise made to you by Fr. Belmonte. Would it not be a good thing to make an appeal in the English language Bulletin for your houses in Battersea and Burwash? 1. The article for the Bulletin. The editor, Deacon Charles Buss lost no time in carrying out Don Rua's wish: the article appeared in the April 15 issue, pp. 241-242.
2. The extensions at Burwash. The earliest building we put up was the old study-hall and dormitory. Writing in 1939 about the erection of this building, Fr William Brown records: "Fr Macey at this time asked Fr Hawarden to draw up plans for a simple building containing a large study-hall and a dormitory, for it was all along intended to use Burwash as a novitiate and house of Studies. For up to this time and for a few more years the year of the novitiate was given up to studies of philosophy, English, Latin, etc. There was no 3-year period of training and theology was begun as soon as the course of philosophy was finished. So to accommodate the forthcoming students some sort of building had to be put up, the Presbytery being plainly ill-suited and too small for a house of studies. Fr Hawarden in this task was assisted by Fr Jeffery. To devise and draw the plans was not so very difficult, but to draw up the specifications was. But Fr Hawarden succeeded and when the specifications and plans were placed in the hands of the local builder (Ellis) he accepted the work and named a reasonable figure. Rumours then began to circulate; the plans had not calculated for a door, or for a staircase, and much hilarity was caused among the brethren. The truth of the matter lay in something quite different. When the builder had reached the end of the walls and was about to put on the roof, the powers-to-be arranged with him to raise the walls a little higher to make a garret for storage. This he did, but did not construct the stairs leading to the garret as Fr Rabagliati insisted on building them himself. Then eventually Bro. Roncalli, our carpenter at Battersea was sent down to Burwash for the purpose". (Notes on BHC pp. 21-22). During Fr M. McPake's four years at Burwash (1962-1966) the legend of the forgotten stairway was still going the rounds.

3. The ordination of Aloysius Hawarden. He was ordained priest on July 18 1897. Born on 7.XI.1873 he was some months below the required canonical age. He made his first and perpetual profession on 21.X.1893 (cf remarks of W. Brown supra).

Turin, 9 April [18]97

Dear Fr Macey,

1. I received your article for the Bulletin and passed it on quickly to Buss.
2. Given the situation at Burwash as set out in your letter, you may go ahead with the building as indicated. I should very much like to have a copy of the transaction for our archives as the document itself has to be sent to Rome.
3. The loan we received two years ago to buy land at Battersea, includes neither the land nor anything else, for it was given as a straightforward loan to D. Rua without reference to anything else.
4. You ask whether I am prepared to undertake the payment of the 4% interest should you be able to raise a further loan with mortgage. Would that I were in a position to do so; but, since I still have to pay the interest of the earlier loan I am on the rocks. I am confident however that you will manage to cope somehow by yourselves.
5. About Hawarden, yesterday I submitted a request for an age-dispensation with instructions to Fr Cagliero to have the reply sent to you directly. In the meantime our good deacon may begin his retreat without anxiety and in quiet recollection.

May the Lord bless you all and may he rise in your heart and reign there forever.

Re: funds of the Novitiate

1. By the kindness of Mgr. Bourne, Bishop of Southwark, the Salesians were offered the parish of Burwash in Sussex as a novitiate house in 1897. Originally, it was left as a gift to the diocese by Mde. Murieta, a Spanish lady, but with only 50 parishioners it could hardly support one priest never mind a community. In the face of financial difficulties, Don Rua encouraged Fr Macey to make appeals to charity by means of a printed circular.

Dear Fr Macey,

You ask me for more help to build and maintain your novitiate. I would have been glad to help if I could. But we are out of money. The right thing to do, I think, is to send out a circular, on a wider scale, appealing for help. I enclose a copy of one already written out. Have a look at it: if you wish to add to it or subtract from it, you may do so. Then, if you think it wise, we can have the English translation lithographed, and send it out whenever you think the moment is right. Also, after you have thought about it, tell me frankly whether it would be better if it carried your signature. In that case it might be well to make some small changes, which would be easy enough.

Re: various matters concerning the Novitiate

1. Six novices to be clothed in 1897 already give us a good picture of the vocational growth in this early stage of the province.
2. 'a certain sub-deacon is destined for Burwash as Novice Master' seems to have been Fr Enea Tozzi (born in 1875), ordained 1897, and died in 1958 in England, having served in Cape Town as Rector, then as Provincial in England, and during WWII in the USA as the Rector Major's special Representative for all the Allied countries. Don Rua's hope that Fr Tozzi would be able to manage to speak to and teach the novices in Latin, showed the gap that existed between his grasp of the English situation and the Italian one.

3. Don Giovenale Bonavia, born in 1865; novice at S. Benigno Canavese 1881; professed 1882, and remained at the Oratory in Turin till 1887 when he came to England. He died in 1904. His letters to D. Gusmano show a vivid sense of humour in the awful circumstances the first Salesians lived in and an insight into how their mission would develop: "But I believe... that if this house cannot grow in any other way, still it can grow by getting not a few vocations from among these young men", (see Dickson, op.cit., p. 101). He died after suffering from what appears to have been TB or another chest infection.

Dear Fr Macey,

1. Enclosed is the necessary delegation for conferring the clerical habit on your six young men. Give them my kind regards and tell them I am praying that they may all become fervent Salesians.

2. By now I think you should have received the 2,500 Francs which you said had not arrived when you wrote on September 26.

3. You must know by now that we have a sub-deacon lined up for you as Novice Master at Burwash. We hope to have him ordained before he leaves, first as deacon and then as a priest. It is a big sacrifice to let you have such a good man, but since it is for the novitiate we accept it. He is also very gifted in Italian and Latin literature as well as in philosophy. I hope he will begin to understand English in a few months and make himself understood.

4. For the time being we can send you neither a tailor nor a shoemaker. We hope to do so before long.

5. As for the expenses incurred in maintaining your novices at Burwash, have great trust in Divine Providence, commend yourself to Mary Help of Christians and to St. Joseph, and you will find the means forthcoming.

Fr Durando gave him a clear statement regarding the respective roles: you are Rector even there; Werwarde is prefect, and Fr Tozzi catechist and master of novices. As soon as Fr Tozzi can speak English reasonably well you may call Fr Werwarde to work in London and leave Fr Tozzi as Rector, but under your authority.

As for the loan, I am afraid we really cannot agree to the loan you desire. We are burdened with debts and it would be tempting Providence to agree to your proposal. You will have to be patient and limit your field of action, unless the Lord sends you some extraordinary mark of his Providence. It took Don Bosco 16 years to have a house like yours, and 27 before he had a church like yours. We must not be rash in our undertakings. We must pray and be patient.

Miei car.mi Figli della casa di Londra,

Grazie tante delle vostre lettere, contenenti gli augurj per la festa del nostro Ven.to Patrono S. Francesco di Sales. Ho voluto ripassarle tutte una ad una e questa è la cagione per cui soltanto ora mi è dato rispondervi e ringraziarvi, come di tutto cuore lo faccio, congratulandomi con voi altri dei buoni sentimenti espressi e delle buone disposizioni, che dimostrate. Il Signore le benedica queste disposizioni e conceda a voi tutti di essere ognora in esse perseveranti. In modo speciale poi faccio i miei rallegramenti cordiali a coloro che scrissero in italiano e li esorto a continuare in questo studio¹. Dagli altri aspetto ad altra occasione una lettera in italiano.

flv Aggiungo poi qualche consiglio cui, sono certo, vi studierete di praticare. In primo luogo vi raccomando di mettere in pratica la strenna | mandatavi per Natale cioè “per amore di Gesù essere puntuali ed esatti nell’osservanza de’ proprii doveri secondo il prescritto delle nostre sante Regole”.

Entrando poi fra qualche giorno in Quaresima vi raccomando pure *la pratica della mortificazione della lingua specialmente, osservando il silenzio nei tempi stabiliti ed evitando qualunque specie di mormorazione*². Per chi volesse fare qualche cosa di più gli direi ancora di aggiungere alla mortificazione della lingua alcuna mortificazione della gola, ma questa non d’obbligo. Così facendo, state certi, passerete bene questa Quaresima, passerete bene il mese e la festa di S. Giuseppe e potrete prepararvi a celebrare degnamente la Festa di Pasqua, che io vi auguro fin d’ora feconda delle più elette grazie e benedizioni del Signore. Pregate sempre per me. 1. The study of Italian was clearly one part of the students’ curriculum.
2. Don Rua’s spiritual advice follows the traditional Salesian principle of an emphasis on the proper duties of one’s daily life but he suggests for a Lenten practice, keeping silence at the prescribed times and no grumbling and, for those who want to go further, some mortification of the palate (but this is to be voluntary). Don Rua’s low key approach to mortification shows his awareness of the tradition and his avoidance of any exaggeration.

To the students at Battersea

Turin, 18 February [18]98

My dear sons of the house of London,

Many thanks for your letters and good wishes for the feast of our revered patron St. Francis de Sales. I wanted to read through them all, each in turn, and this explains why only now am I in a position to reply and thank you, something I do from the heart, for the kind feelings you expressed and for the good dispositions which you show. May the Lord bless your good intentions and grant you always to persevere in them. My special and cordial congratulations go to those who wrote in Italian, and I urge them to keep up their study of this language. From the others I look forward to hearing in Italian at some future date.

And now here is some advice which I am sure you will find a way of putting into practice. In the first place, I recommend to you the observance of the practice sent to you for Christmas, namely, "for the love of Jesus be punctual and exact in the fulfilment of your duties in accordance with what is laid down by our holy Rule".

Then since Lent is only a few days away I recommend also mortification of the tongue, especially by keeping the silence at the appointed times and by avoiding all grumbling. If you want to do more than that, I would suggest that to the mortification of the tongue you could add some mortification in food and drink, but this is not obligatory. Be sure that in this way you will spend the season of Lent in a worthy manner, you will also spend the month and the Feast of St. Joseph well, and you will be making a good preparation for a fitting celebration of the feast of Easter, which I even now pray may bring you many choice graces and blessings from the good Lord. Keep me always in your prayers. May Mary Help of Christians bless you together with

1. The debt of £ 4,309 represents a very considerable amount of money given that according to L.C. Money: Riches and Poverty (1909) persons and their families with incomes of between £ 160 and £ 700 a year could be considered to be comfortable. As a rough guide the modern equivalent would be £ 16,000 and £ 70,000. (1997). The demands for payment occur again in letters dated: 12,11.97, then again December, 1898. I have been looking over the list of monies lent by the Oratory to various Salesian houses and I notice that you still owe £ 4,309. Pluck up courage. With a bit of effort and some economy you could free yourself of this debt and, in the process, help to ease the burden of debts being carried by the Mother House.

Your zeal in this regard will surely bring the blessings of God upon you and your dependants, something which I wish you from my heart.

Carissimo Direttore della casa di Londra,

5 Dietro le reiterate insistenze dei creditori dell'Oratorio che esigono di essere pagati quanto prima e minacciano di non più servirlo, se non regola con loro i suoi conti, ho voluto esaminarne i debiti ed i crediti e fra le altre cose ho trovato che codesta casa a tutto settembre u.s. gli deve la somma di lire 4952,00 come avrai rile-

vato dall'ultimo conto che ti venne spedito¹. Le eccezionali strettezze in cui trovasti l'oratorio mi obbligano ad invitarti a regolare i tuoi conti pagando l'intero debito ancorché debba costarti qualche sacrificio. Faresti un atto di giustizia verso l'oratorio e di ossequio alle nostre regole. Se poi non sei in grado di mandare il saldo, procura di pagare volta per volta le provviste che fai, e metti ogni mese | da parte una somma di 100 lire e più proporzionata al tuo debito, mandandogliela al termine d'ogni mese.

To the Rector of Battersea

Turin, December 1899

Dear Fr Rector of our house in London,

Due to the repeated insistence of our creditors at the Oratory who are demanding urgent payment and are threatening to have nothing more to do with us unless we settle our accounts, I decided to examine our debits and credits and discovered in the process that at the end of last September your house still owed the Oratory 4,952 lire, a fact which will not have escaped your notice on receipt of the last balance sheet sent out. The severe straits in which the Oratory now finds itself, compels me to invite you to settle your bill by repayment of the entire debt, even at the cost of some sacrifice. This would be an act of justice towards the Oratory, as well as an act of compliance with our rules. If you are not in a position to clear your account, try to pay ready cash for future purchases and set aside 100 lire (and more) every month, in proportion to your debt, and send it on to us at the end of the month.

If you do this you will be able to clear your debt very gradually without too much trouble.

I trust that you will take my invitation seriously and that you will make serious efforts to fulfil your duty as soon as possible.

Advice on Brownrigg's vows

Rispondo ad alcuni punti della gradita tua del 22 corrente.

Riguardo al ch. Brownrigg¹ che fece i voti perpetui senza essere stato ammesso che ai triennali penso non vi sia da inquietarsi. Egli con cognizione e volontà risoluta ha fatto i voti perpetui: perciò da parte sua resta obbligato alla Pia Società Salesiana per tutta la vita: noi l'abbiamo ammesso solo ai triennali, quindi non saremmo obbligati a tenerlo che pel solo triennio. Se però egli si regola bene non penseremo giammai a rinviarlo e quando sarà per finire il triennio, se voi ci manderete il parere favorevole noi lo ammetteremo ai perpetui: e, senza inquietare lui né adesso né allora, basterà la semplice rinnovazione dei voti che si fa alla chiusura degli esercizi.

Forse l'anno venturo verrò farvi visita, se Dio lo permette. Pregate per me.

1. William Dominic Brownrigg, b.1861 in Dublin, was ordained in 1901, and died 1944 (E&W). The pattern of religious making temporary vows after their novitiate during a further period of trial before their final profession is a modern one aimed at safeguarding both the individual's growing awareness of their vocation and also the Society's judgement of their fitness for the vocation. Don Rua here makes a nice distinction between what the candidate has promised and what the Society allowed him to profess and above all he does not want to disturb the conscience of the candidate. It is clear from the early drafts of the Salesian Constitutions that Don Bosco wanted to be able to dispense candidates from simple vows himself (see F. Motto ed.: Costituzioni. Roma, LAS, 1982, p. 86). Ar (the 1858 text) recognising that he was often dealing with very young and (sometimes) immature candidates. Here, Don Rua seems to follow this tradition of pastoral rather than canonical concern.

2. Luigi Franceschi, was born in Trento 6.1.1877, was professed as a coadjutor at Ivrea 16.2.1897, made his final vows at Turin 6.6.1898. He came to England and died at Burwash 10.8.1900 (see following letter).

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 30 May 1900

Dear Fr Macey,

I am replying to some of the points made in your letter of the 22nd of this month.

As far as the cleric Brownrigg is concerned (the one who made perpetual vows although he had been admitted only to triennials) I do not think you need worry. With knowledge and commitment he has made his perpetual vows, and so on his side he is bound to the Salesian Society for all his life: but since, on our side, we admitted him only to triennial vows, we are obliged to keep him for only three years. But if he turns out well, the last thing we should dream of doing would be to send him away; and when his three years are drawing to a close, if you let us have a favourable opinion on him, we shall admit him to Perpetual profession; and so, without disturbing him either now or later, the simple renewal of vows made at the end of the retreat will set everything right.

Maybe next year, God willing, I shall pay you a visit. Pray for me.

I am distressed about poor Franceschi. Take good care of him, even though he is out of the house. May the Heart of Jesus inflame with his love your good self, all those who depend on you, and

Dear Fr Macey,

With great sorrow we received the news of the death of our confrere Luigi Franceschi and we have recommended him to the prayers of the retreatants at Valsalice. I hope you will be able to prepare and send us the obituary notice, in keeping with our traditions when any of our confreres dies.

Dear Fr Buss is returning to England to edify the novices at Burwash with his preaching. I ask you to look after him; he is not too strong and may need special care.

Try to put fresh heart into dear Fr Bonavia and tell him it is not yet time for him to have his rest. We need his work for several years yet.

He was sent to Burwash and then in 1904 to St George's Home, Southwark. Being ill in 1906, he then returned to Italy but seems to have left the Salesians under a cloud. My dear Fr Macey,

I have received your letter of the 12th in which you tell me that Fr Tozzi is unwell and there is urgent need to provide him with a helper, you are preparing the cleric Campana for ordination and you ask for some wine to sustain poor Fr Tozzi's health.

To start with, try to boost Fr Tozzi's morale, and for the next two Sundays send him someone to offer Mass and carry out all the other functions. I hope Fr Buss will be with you by the end of the month. He is destined for San Francisco in California, but for the time being he can stay with you on account of your present need. I am relying on you for the Bulletin from January next.

If the cleric Campana has successfully completed all his exams in the various treatises, we shall see to it that he proceeds regularly to the various ordinations.

I have given instructions for the prompt despatch of the wine you asked for.

I have passed on to the Bulletin office the fine article you sent me. Keep everyone in good spirits. Look after your own health. Pray for me who, with heartfelt blessings for everyone and remembering you to the good Lord, am

To the Rector of London

Dear Fr Rector London

You must have noticed from the latest balance sheet sent out from the Oratory, that because of your financial difficulties, the Superior Chapter paid off your outstanding debts to the Oratory itself, amounting to 4,552 lire at the end of September 1899.

This act of generosity on the part of the Superior Chapter will surely move you to a feeling of gratitude, and I hope you will do all you can to show it, by ensuring, in future, that you pay promptly with ready cash for anything you obtain from the Oratory.

Make it your regular duty to get whatever you need from the Oratory, but with ready cash, to avoid a repetition of the dangerous accumulation of debts you cannot meet.

Always keep a check on the administration of your house, and help the Prefect to maintain a wise economy which is one of the principal assets of every family.

1. Don Rua's careful handling of this request made through Fr Rabagliati, one of the pioneers of the English Mission, marks his painful experience of the importance of written documents which were markedly missing when it came to his succeeding Don Bosco as Rector Major of the Salesians and also the separation of identities between the Salesians and Salesian Sisters required under the new provisions of the Canon Law for Religious which eventually led to the complete separation of the two congregations in 1906.

Turin, 11 February 1902

My Lord Bishop,

A good priest of ours Fr. Rabagliati had to return to Italy recently on account of his father's illness (he died later). While he was here he informed me of your Lordship's desire to have the Daughters of Mary Help of Christians at Chertsey. It is always a joy for us to fall in with your holy desires and so we are pleased to respond to your present request. I am sure, however, you are aware of the recent ruling of the Holy See which lays it down that one must have its permission whenever an Order or a Congregation is introduced into a diocese for the first time. If your Lordship could obtain such a permission it would be helpful.

When you do obtain this permission, it would enable us to avoid any difficulties that could arise from your successors if you inform us of the same in writing, and make a formal request, also in writing, to have the Daughters of Mary Help of Christians, mentioning as far as possible the place you would like to assign them and the means of support if any.

We shall file such documents in our archives for the legitimacy of the foundation and to obviate any future difficulties.

I take this opportunity to offer you our sincere and respectful greetings, request your Episcopal blessing, and to express in your regard my affection and veneration.

Your Lordship's

Most humble and obedient Servant,

By 1902 the policy of 'splendid isolation' which had characterised the hey-day of Britain as world and economic power was over. This was highlighted when Britain recognised the impossibility of containing the Russian empire in the Far East and made the Anglo-Japanese Naval agreement which, it is often said, led to the outbreak of the First World War and suffered a humiliating and long-drawn-out war in South Africa against the Boers, 1899-1902.

1. The quota was the sum paid by each house for the upkeep and training of the novices.

2. Don Rua had a feeling that the numbers of novices were in decline (1901-2:16; 1902-3:11; 1903-4:13).

3. Don Goi (sic) Eduardo Goy. Born Borgatello, Pavia, 1871, entered the Salesians as deacon 1896, and after his ordination in 1897 was sent immediately to England, where he served at Battersea as Catechist and secretary to the Provincial Council. He died in 1944. (See Dickson, op. cit., pp. 190 ff.).

4. Don Barni see note to letter 71. His new foundation in Jamaica was also extremely difficult and the Salesians eventually withdrew.

5. Carlo McAleer born in Co. Tyrone, Ireland, 1869, ordained 1902, 'left from perpetual vows': See Dickson, op.cit., p. 184.

6. Don Rua's decision to make Fr Macey Provincial of a province that included Cape Town, under Don Tozzi, was an attempt to square the circle, aiming at enabling the struggling house at the Cape at least to have personnel who spoke English. Fr Macey had little interest in Cape Town and only once visited South Africa in 1907, during his years of office as Ispettore (literally, Inspector - Don Bosco borrowed the term, one suspects, from the Italian railway system - for the superior of a Province).

Dear Fr Macey,

I have received your list showing the Rectors who have paid their quota for the upkeep of the novitiate and those who have not. We shall take steps to get the latter to pay up.

I am glad to hear that the number of your pupils has gone up. May the Lord bless them and may he grant you a good school year.

I should like to know whether your numbers in the novitiate have gone up or down this year.

I asked Fr Bertello to provide you with a good Salesian compositor. I do not know whether he will succeed or not. I also asked him if he could arrange for his departure together with Fr Goy. Dear Fr Barni begs you to send him Fr Charles McAleer. I do not know whether you can manage that. At your own convenience let me know. If the latter has any practical knowledge of agriculture he would be a great help. For the rest, I think they are enough for the work in Jamaica.

1. 'Capit. Sup.' = Capitolo Superiore: the presiding council or Superior Chapter of the Salesian society which, with the Rector Major, is entrusted with the government of the Salesians.

2. With the appointment of Tozzi to the Rectorship at Cape Town and the inability of Fr Campana the question of who would be the Novice Master became extremely urgent. Here Don Rua admits to having no one to send. He frequently leaves it to Fr Macey to decide for himself. In fact, Fr Brown took up the job.

3. McCarthy: see notes above (letter 73).

4. 'Il drapello' - literally, the troop or squad - destined for Cape Town. Don Rua's unusual use of the military term may reflect the influence of the ending of the Boer war at the peace of Vereeniging in 1902.

5. Cl. Ready is probably Cleric Thomas Reidy who appears among the professed confreres of the Cape Town house in 1899 and 1900, but never appears to have been ordained as a Salesian. We must take it that he left the Congregation. He was born in Castlegregory, Co. Kerry Ireland 7.1.1878, entered the College at Ivrea as a Son of Mary, was professed there 29.9.1898, went out to Cape Town where he received the tonsure on 30.11.1900, and some time after that left the Salesians.

6. New Rector for Malta; the contract negotiated with the colonial government stipulated that they must be of British nationality; an Irishman, Fr Patrick O'Grady, pioneer companion with Donnellan who entered the Oratory in 1882, was ordained in Argentina, then became priest in the Falklands and then became the first Rector of St Patrick's School, Malta. He died in San Francisco a few minutes after the stroke of midnight 16 Aug 1944. See Dickson and Fr Albino Fredrigotti's obituary letter.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 27 October 1902

Dear Fr Macey,

I read your welcome letter of the 25th October and I read it out, too, to the other members of the Superior Chapter. On the one hand it brought us joy, but on the other sorrow. Obviously your work is beginning to get known and appreciated in the city and we can see a wide field of action on behalf of young people opening up before you, yet we are distressed at our inability to make provision for new houses on account of our lack of personnel. So far, in spite of our most diligent enquiries we have been unable to find you a Master of Novices and we still have to fill about 15 important posts, all vacant for lack of personnel. In the situation, I wonder if it would really be of any help if you came out to talk to us. I leave you to decide and I don't want to put pressure on you one way or the other.

Thank you for the news about Fr McCarthy's departure for New York and about the group bound for Cape Town. May the Lord grant them a safe journey. We are grieved to hear about the cleric Ready. I had such great affection for him and I held him in such high regard. If you could persuade him to come out here you would do me a great favour. Who knows, if we were able to talk things over, he might change his mind about the very risky decision he is on the point of making. There was no previous understanding between us; he did virtually everything without my knowledge and without my consent, leaving aside the question of his return to which I agreed, although reluctantly, seeing that I could not hold him there any longer.

May the Lord bless us and keep our dear confreres from the sin of being unfaithful to their profession.

My compliments on the fine specimen from the press, and my regards to everyone.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 22 November 1902

Dear Fr Macey,

I am replying to your welcome letter of the 9th, after having dealt with the matter you raise in it in the Chapter. We would have been pleased to see you here, but you write saying you won't be coming now. It can't be helped. Regarding the house "St. George's Home", there are difficulties due to lack of personnel. We were hoping to send you the Novice Master but just when he was on the point of leaving we had to send him as rector to a house that would otherwise have had to close down. So Fr Brown will have to be Novice Master and Fr Campana Rector and Parish Priest.
 At Alexandria, we need a priest and an English teacher, and another in Bethlehem, and there are still more places where we need English priests or clerics. You can see for yourself the posts that need filling before we can think of opening new houses. - Before long we shall have to find staff for Malta: if we send Fr O'Grady we shall have to find a replacement for him at Ascona. Irrespective of whom we send as Rector to Malta we have to find him additional English personnel. The net result is that we simply cannot contemplate opening new houses for we just don't have the personnel.

As for the house in Canada, you had better reply that it will be some years before we can open it.

We look forward to the cheque for £ 90 sterling for the two months that remain.

Your dear house will have to find us a good supply of men. And you and the rest of the superiors will have to be the honey to attract many, very many, dear young coadjutors to our Pious Society. Of course, you have attracted a good many already, and God be thanked for that! Keep up the good work of recruiting vocations.

The Salesian tradition, whereby the Rector heard the confessions of confreres and pupils, was one Don Bosco treasured and when Don Rua was forced by the new Canon Law to stop it, he came up against some very determined opposition in the Society. Dear Fr Macey,

I am replying to your welcome letter of February 26th. We have no objection to your assigning Fr Brownrigg to Chertsey, in view of the reasons you give. However, you will have to do things in such a way that Burwash has a Rector as well as a master of novices, because if the latter has also to be Rector he will no longer be in a position to hear confessions.

Fr Delpont may certainly go to Burwash, but I don't think he would do as Rector for he is too young and he does not know the language. We notice that you have a good number of priests in your house. Choose the one you consider most suitable, let us have his full name, and we shall send him his appointment as Rector.

It would be better to get O'Connor to lay aside the clerical habit. With all the weaknesses that cling to him already, we now have that of disobedience: he could never be admitted to Holy Orders. Make it your concern to get him to take this step.

P.S. Do not fail to insist on the Congress being generously supported. We must not abandon the field to cheap journalists. More than anyone else you have grounds for putting them to shame. Remember how you built your church, and how you acquired the large field. - As a matter of fact, in this respect, it would be time to help us to pay off the debts still pending, and the interests that go with them, for this is a heavy burden for us to carry. I imagine you know by now that, on the 18th, Fr Albera and his secretary leave New York for London.

D. Rua replies to Rabagliati about various matters and the Falklands

Caris. D. Eugenio Rabagliati¹ - Battersea London S. W., Ho letto con piacere la tua 23 corrente e ti rispondo:

1. Va tanto bene quello che tu mi ricordi, cioè che non credevo opportuno mandare un chierico alle Malvine² abbisognando un prete. Ora che v'è il Prete va bene che vada il ch.co [.] 5

2. Ho scritto a D. Dechan³ in proposito ma non ebbi ancora risposta. Il Chierico può andare da solo.

3. Sono molto contento che la Missione proceda bene e continuerò a pregare Maria SS. Ausiliatrice per il buon successo di essa. 10

4. Va tanto bene anche riguardo alla Casa di S. Giorgio⁴ ed al C.o St. John, che ringrazierai da mia parte.

5. Mentre ti scrivo avrai già ricevuto il mio rappresentante D. Albera e ti ringrazio delle accoglienze fattegli.

Non mancherò di continuare a pregare per te, per D. Macey, per tutti 15

Tuo aff.mo in G. e M.

1. Eugenio Rabagliati (1866-1928). Born at Occimiano, Casale Monferrato, Italy, he entered the oratory at Turin in 1880, was professed at S. Benigno Canavese, 1884, and was ordained in Oct 1889 having already come to Battersea as a sub-deacon in 1888. He served as choirmaster and bursar at Battersea for many years. (See Obituary letter).

2. Le Malvine: the Falkland Islands, in the South Atlantic off Argentina, were claimed for Britain in 1690. The first British settlement was founded in 1766, two years after the French had attempted to found a settlement called after San Malo, hence the Spanish title las Malvinas. They formally became a British colony in 1843, to prevent Argentinian settlement, and sheep farming became their economic mainstay. Frs. Diamond and O'Grady both served as Catholic priests on the islands, being sent from the Argentinian Province in 1887 and 1890 respectively. Clearly Don Rua was still looking for a priest for the islands. (See Dickson, op.cit., and J. Gardiner and N. Wenborn eds. The History Today Companion to British History. London, 1995).

3. "Dechan" might be "Deehan", an Irish Salesian who eventually entered the US Province. (See Biographical list).
4. Casa S. Giorgio was the hostel opened at St George's Home for Working Boys, Southwark, originally opened by Canon Edward St John in 1892, which he offered to the Salesians in 1902, but was not taken over till Lent 1904. (See Dickson, op.cit., pp. 158-159).

To Fr Eugene Rabagliati

Dear Fr Eugene Rabagliati, Battersea, London S.W.

With pleasure I read your letter of the 23rd and here is my reply:

1. It was quite in order for you to remind me that I had said it would be unwise to send a cleric to the Falkland Islands since they want a priest. But as they have a priest now, it is all right for the cleric to go.
2. I wrote to Fr Deehan on the matter but so far I have had no reply. The cleric may travel on his own.
3. I am delighted the mission is going well, and I shall keep up my prayers to Mary Help of Christians for its happy outcome.
4. Fine, concerning the house at St. George's Home and Canon St. John. Thank the latter for me.
5. As I write, you have probably received my representative, Fr Albera. Thank you for the welcome extended to him.

I shall not fail to keep you in my prayers, and Fr Macey, and all the others

Yours aff. in J. & M.
Fr Michael Rua

P.S. I have just had word today, 3rd April, that Fr Deehan is willing to go. - I think the cleric could put off his departure for the time being to see if it would be still necessary.

Torino, 23 aprile 1903

Car.mo D. Macey,

Rispondo alla gradita tua dell'8 corrente. Comprendo le attuali tue difficoltà di andar al Capo di B. Speranza¹. Essendo però quella casa sotto la tua Ispettorìa, converrà prendere le tue misure per poterla visitare in persona l'anno venturo o da qui a due anni. 5

Quanto alla missione di Durban² potrai informarti da D. Tozzi se ha il danaro o se almeno ha qualche sodo fondamento di poterlo avere per fabbricare. In tal caso si potrà coltivare l'idea per eseguirla appena si possa, giacché è alquanto urgente aprire qualche nuova casa in quelle regioni sia pel bisogno di quei paesi, sia per non lasciar quei confratelli così isolati. 10

flv Ti ringrazio delle notizie che mi dai di St. George's home³: voglia il Signore benedire | tutte codeste nuove case colle antiche e con tutti i loro abitatori e formare delle prime tanti semenzai di buone vocazioni e degli ultimi tanti valorosi operai nella vigna evangelica. 15

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 23 April 1903

Dear Fr Macey,

I am writing in reply to your welcome letter of the 8th. I can understand your difficulties about going to the Cape of Good Hope, but since the house there is part of your Province, you must arrange things in such a way that you are personally able to visit it, either in the coming year or the year after.

As for the mission in Durban, you can find out from Fr Tozzi whether he has the money to build, or has any well-founded hope of finding it. If the latter is the case, you could encourage the idea and then implement it when you can, for there is some urgency about opening a house down there, both out of consideration for the local needs and so as not to leave our confreres completely isolated.

From your welcome letter, I see that you could let us have a cleric were we in a position to open a new mission. That is certainly a help, and it would be worth letting Father know this, in order to show your good will.

Thank you for the news about St. George's Home. May the Lord bless all our houses, the new and the old, and all who live in them: may He make all the houses seed-beds of good vocations, and all the confreres zealous labourers in the gospel vineyard.

Poor Fr Cassini never even had time to call at the Oratory: as soon as he arrived, he was packed off to his new post, so great was the urgency. We shall have to find another solution for Burwash.

May the peace and grace of our Lord grow in your hearts.

Yours aff. in J. & M.

P.S. Let me know if Fr Kalinowski hasn't turned up yet. He was sent for the Lithuanians living there. Sincere congratulations on the artistic almanac published by the press. To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 22 May 1903

Dear Fr Macey,

In reply to your letter of the 19th, I must say I don't think our dear Fr Kalinowski should return to Russia to study Lithuanian. He can get hold of books and study in London, where it is easy enough for him to get in touch with people of that nation and influence them by his good example even while he is studying their language.

Dear Rafferty is unwell and we had to send him away from Turin for a few days. However, he fulfilled the commission you entrusted to him in your letter of the 12th, whilst for my part, I changed the intentions of the two Masses to be celebrated at the altar of Mary Help of Christians. Let the person concerned know about their celebration.

With courage set about freeing yourself from all debts towards God and man, and to that end you will be greatly helped by the intercession of our heavenly patron, Mary Help of Christians, whose coronation was magnificent beyond belief.

Dear Fr Macey,

I have read your letter of the 26th of May, and everything considered, you really ought to persuade Fr Kalinowski to put out of his head any idea of going to Poland, and to stay where he is, getting on quietly with the study of Lithuanian as much as his health allows.

Tell the Sister who has arrived from China that a reply will be sent from Turin directly to the Vicar Apostolic. We must not be surprised if on account of our heavy commitments our replies are at times delayed a little.

I have also notified Monsignor Fagnano that both the priest and the cleric are delaying their departure for want of the necessary means. If you could see your way to letting Monsignor having a suitable cleric it would be fine; but you write saying you have no one available at present. Never mind! Send one when you can.

2. The French exiles were the result of the Anti-clerical French Laws passed by the government of Emile Combes, who had trained for the priesthood before being refused major orders and becoming a militant anti-clerical and radical Prime Minister. In 1903 he led the fight to make the Law of Associations of 1901 (which required Religious Orders to apply for State recognition) so restrictive that it would for ever destroy the Catholic hold on education and health care. The Salesians applied for recognition as part of the group of six male Orders in the categories of hospitalers, missionaries and contemplatives. Combes had their request unusually dealt with by the Senate and recommended authorisation of the other five but the Salesians were refused in July 1903 and Don Rua announced in this letter their arrival in London. D. Rua writes regarding the distribution of personnel

Torino, 5 agosto 1903

Carissimo Ispettore,

Si avvicina il tempo della distribuzione del personale¹, la quale sarebbe fissata quest'anno per gli ultimi giorni del corr. mese e pei primi di settembre, vale a dire subito dopo il corso d'esercizi pei direttori. Fiducioso che prenderai anche tu parte a questo corso di esercizi, fin d'adesso ti invito a venire con la nota del tuo personale già ben abbozzata. Ti fo notare che il personale qui disponibile è poco e le dimande sono molte, le distanze sono grandi e le spese pei viaggi riescono assai gravi. Perciò converrà che nell'abbozzare la tua nota, tu procuri:

1°) di far il minor numero possibile di traslochi, specie da una ad altra ispettoria;

2°) di riempire quanto puoi la tua lista col personale della tua ispettoria; iscrivendovi non solo i confratelli di qualunque categoria, ma anche aspiranti e famigli che siano in grado (sia pure mediante qualche assistenza) di disimpegnare qualche ufficio;

3°) chiedere solamente il personale che in nessun modo potresti trovare nella tua ispettoria;

4°) di far avere in tempo al Consigliere Scolastico ed al Consigliere Professionale della nostra Pia Società, ciascuno per la parte che lo riguarda, le tue proposte, distintamente per Casa e per ufficio, sicché essi abbiano modo di conoscere e di studiare sopra prima che se ne tratti;

5°) Converrà pure notare le nuove fondazioni che per avventura fossero state fissate nella tua ispettoria pel nuovo anno 1903-1904, indicandone chiaramente lo scopo.

25 Come vedi, tutto questo esige preghiera per ottenere i lumi del Signore a fine di provvedere quanto meglio si potrà a gloria di Dio ed a vantaggio delle anime; ci vuole seria riflessione e, potendo, anche qualche conferenza coi tuoi Direttori prima degli esercizi sovra indicati. Adopra tutti questi mezzi, che sono quelli di cui faceva 30 uso il nostro caro D. Bosco in simili affari, aggiungendovi quegli altri che nella tua
prudenza credessi opportuni. Uniremo anche noi le nostre orazioni e riflessioni | al f2r

1. This circular sent to the Provincial seems to indicate the method Don Rua was adopting for the distribution of confreres among the Provinces. Each Provincial is asked to come with a note of his personnel already well sketched out, and to ask only for those personnel whom the Provincial can in no way find in his Province.

To the Provincial

Turin, 5 August 1903

Dear Fr Provincial,

The time for the distribution of personnel is coming round: it will probably take place this year in the last few days of the present month or in the early days of September, that is, immediately after the Retreat for the Rectors. In the hope that you too, will take part in this Retreat I invite you from now to come with your list of personnel clearly drawn up. I must inform you in advance that we have very few people available here while the requests have been numerous, distances are enormous and travelling expenses are consequently heavy. So when you draw up your list:

- 1) try to make as few moves as possible, especially from Province to Province;
- 2) as far as possible complete your list with personnel from your own Province, filling in not just the names of the confreres and their religious status, but even those of the aspirants and “famigli” who might be able to fulfil some office (possibly with a little help);
- 3) ask only for the personnel you simply cannot find in your own Province,
- 4) send in your proposals in good time to the Councillor for Studies and to the Councillor for Professional Schools, according to their respective responsibilities, and be specific in regard to the house and the office to be discharged there, so that we may have time to get to know and study the situation in advance;
- 5) you should also give notice of new foundations planned for the new school year 1903-1904, and state their scope clearly.

As you see, we must pray for light from the Lord that we may provide to the best of our ability for the glory of God and the good of souls: serious thought is needed on the subject, and if it is at all possible you should have some discussion with your Rectors before the Retreat comes round. Have recourse to all the means our dear Don Bosco was wont to use in similar situations, and whatever else you may judge to be prudently opportune. To the same end we shall join you in prayer and in reflection.

May the Lord bless you and all your dependants, and bestow on you fresh zeal and fervour in the coming Retreat, so that you may both begin and go through the new school year in holiness of life. Please remember me when you turn to God.

D. Rua writes regarding cleric J. Jones for Tierra del Fuego and a Salesian Sister's profession

Car.mo D. Macey,

In risposta alla gradita tua dell'8 corr. mi affretto a rispondere che sono pienamente d'accordo sulla spedizione del Ch. Giovanni Jones¹ per la Terra del Fuoco se tu lo giudichi abbastanza buono, fermo e valoroso per quella missione. Quanto ai voti 5 perpetui ne tratteremo in Capitolo e ti faremo a tempo la risposta.

Sarà da vedere se non convenga per risparmio di spese farlo passare di qui e partire da Genova, dove avrebbe la riduzione della metà almeno fino a B. Ayres. Tu potrai informarti: io non saprei.

Quanto alla Suora che desidera fare i voti al termine dei correnti esercizi, se già 10 fu giudicata degna anche dal Cap. Sup. delle Suore², io delego te a riceverli con facoltà di suddelegare altri, se tu non potessi, e con incarico di far mandare alla Madre Gen. tutte le indicazioni necessarie dopo la professione.

Viva Pio X³. Prega e fa pregare per Lui senza dimenticare

Dear Fr Macey,

In reply to your welcome letter of the 8th of the month, I hasten to let you know that I fully agree to your sending the cleric John Jones to Tierra del Fuego, if you consider him good enough, resolute and courageous for that mission. As regards the question of perpetual vows, we shall discuss this in the Chapter and reply in due time.

To save money it might be worth considering sending him here and letting him sail from Genova, for it is possible to travel half-fare at least as far as Buenos Aires. You can find out; I am not sure.

Regarding the Sister who wants to make her vows at the end of the current Retreat, providing she was judged worthy of the same by the Superior Chapter of the Sisters, I delegate you to receive her vows, with the faculty to sub-delegate in the event of your being impeded, and with the responsibility of having all the necessary documentation sent on to the Mother General after the profession.

Long live Pius XI! Pray and get others to pray for him, and don't forget

My dear Fr Bonavia,

In due course I received your welcome letter of the 28th June in regard to the Bulletin. Please do not think my delay means that I had forgotten all about your discreet complaints. Actually, at the earliest opportunity I spoke to those concerned. I must say I had to recognise that there was no lack of good will on anyone's part; it is just that it is difficult to find the answer to certain problems. However, steps have been taken that will go some way towards overcoming them, and everything will be done to ensure success. We are all delighted at your own concern for exactitude and we encourage you to continue in this spirit even if on our part we fail to come up with a quick and satisfactory answer.

Continue to assist us with your prayers and we hope that, with God's help, little by little we might succeed. Give my kind regards to your helpers and tell them that God will reward them for their labours - Believe me.

D. Rua writes regarding the extension at Cape Town

Mio caro D. Tozzi - Cape Town,

Ti ringrazio della tua pregiata lettera del 29 Luglio, accusandoti ricevuta del Chèque di St. 10 per l'Oratorio. Mi fa piacere il tuo interesse per soddisfare poco per volta questa Casa Madre, che si trova ancor sempre in grave situazione finanziaria, perché le case figliali non sono puntuali a soddisfarle i loro debiti. Così l'Oratorio, che fa la carità alle altre case, deve portare la pena per tutte. Perciò io non posso che avere parole di encomio per quei Direttori che si interessano a soddisfare l'Oratorio. 5

flv Godo pure dei progressi che andate facendo costì¹. Prepara il terreno per ingrandire la casa vecchia, divenuta | ormai insufficiente. Ti faccio però osservare che la cifra di 2.000.000 mi pare eccessiva, anche avuto riguardo al costo maggiore che 10

15 hanno le cose costì, a differenza dei nostri paesi. Prepara un disegno col preventivo della spesa: io vedrò volentieri l'uno e l'altro. Per l'ultimo cerca di non oltrepassare al presente le lire 50 mila, vorrei dire. Se la gente vede delle cifre grandi si persuade che noi siamo ricchi; invece la cosa è ben altra.

A questo punto aggiungo un'osservazione riguardo alla domanda che fai che noi ti aiutiamo a fare il saldo con l'Oratorio. Credi pure che lo faremmo volentieri, se ci fosse possibile; ma ci troviamo tanto alle strette, che alle volte non sappiamo come tirare innanzi di fronte alla pleiade di creditori, che non ci lasciano in pace un istante. | Molte volte si ricevono minacce da questo o da quello, che ci vuol far comparire innanzi il tribunale. Credo che tu costì non ti trovi così spesso a mal partito come ci troviamo noi. f2r

25 Di più nota questo. Se tu intestassi la sottoscrizione dell'erigendo istituto con un "Dono dei Superiori di Torino" sarebbe più di uno il quale si fisserebbe in capo che qui a Torino siamo danarosi. Credi pure che questo ci farebbe più del male che del bene non solo a noi, ma anche a te.

30 Quanto al personale spiegati meglio. Pare che dimandi un sacerdote inglese laureato in teologia ecc. Che preferisca un inglese ad un italiano. Tra gl'Inglese non ce n'è ancora di laureati; invece tra gl'Italiani è più facile trovarli.

Al confr. Rametti² invio qui pure un biglietto; facciamo quanto si può per aiutarlo e per rattenerlo il più che ci è possibile.

35 Voglia la Madonna Assunta aiutarti sempre e faccia scendere le benedizioni celesti sopra di te, sopra codesta casa senza dimenticare il tuo f2v

1. The Salesian Institute in Cape Town had been founded by Fr Barni in 1896 at 52, Buitenkant St. Having been declared insolvent in 1901, it had been reorganised by the board of Trustees in 1902 and by 1903, Fr Tozzi had managed to repay all the creditors completely and obviously had grandiose plans to extend the Institute. Indeed, he had managed to secure a large house in Hope St. but the building of the new institute at Somerset Rd had to await the parliamentary grant of the Catholic part of the disused cemeteries on Somerset Rd for educational purposes. See J. Kilcullen: Salesian Institute, the Beginnings, Cape Town, Salesian Press 1997, pp. 23-27.

2. Rametti: Rametti was a carpenter at the institute who eventually left. See note on letter 55. (Cape Town House chronicle 1903).

To Fr Enea Tozzi

Turin, 20 August 1903

My dear Fr Tozzi - Cape Town,

I am grateful for your esteemed letter of 29 July, acknowledging receipt of the cheque of £ 10 sterling for the Oratory. I am pleased to see that you are concerned about meeting, little by little, your obligations to this Mother House which is always in serious financial difficulties because the daughter houses are not punctual in paying their debts. So, the Oratory, which gives financial help to other houses, has to carry the burden of them all. Therefore, I have nothing but praise for those Rectors who take care to fulfil their obligations to the Oratory.

I am glad too to hear of the progress you are making over there. Prepare the ground for the enlargement of the old house which has now become inadequate. But I want to point out that the figure of 2,000,000 seems excessive to me, even allowing for the fact that everything is more expensive there than it is in our countries. Draw up a plan with an estimate of the cost: I shall be glad to see both of them. Lastly, try to keep within the limit of 50,000 Lire for the present, I would say. If people see such high figures they become convinced that we are rich, whereas the real situation is far different.

At this point, I want to add a word about your request that we help you to settle your account with the Oratory. Believe me, we would do so willingly were it possible; but we are so hard up, that at times we do not know how to proceed, faced with so many creditors who never give us a moment's peace. Very often, one or other of them threatens to take us to court. I think that you over there are not in such dire straits as we are here.

There is another thing to notice as well. If at the head of the subscription list for the building of your new institute there appeared an item "Donation from the Superiors in Turin", more than one person would get the idea that here at Turin we are well off. You must realise that this would do far more harm than good, not only to us but to you as well.

With regard to personnel, I should like to have more details. You seem to be asking for an English priest with a degree in theology etc., and you prefer an Englishman to an Italian. But as yet there is no one with a degree among the English, whereas it is easier to find such people among the Italians.

I am writing a note also to the confrere Rametti; let us do all we can to help him and to hold on to him for as long as is possible.

May Our Lady Assumed into Heaven help you always and obtain for you and your house the blessings of Heaven, without forgetting

Yours affectionately in Jesus and Mary,

1. Burwash was the Novitiate house and Fr Bonavia had been Novice Master. The word ascritti (enrolled) rather than novizi (novices) was used by Don Bosco with his penchant for modern terminology e.g. directors, inspectors but also one suspects to avoid the strict rules of the Canon Law for Religious, for in the early catalogues of members, some remained ascritti for a number of years.

2. collegio irlandese: The first Irish members of the Salesians including McKiernan and Sutherland were recruited by Irish priests returned from the Irish College in Rome under the impression that they were to be prepared as Irish secular priests for the Foreign Missions. D. Rua writes about Fr Kalinowski and the Lithuanian chaplaincy and other matters

Car.mo D. Macey,

Prima d'ora avrei voluto rispondere alle gradite tue specie riguardo al prete Lituano che desidera S. Em. il Cardinale di Londra. La molteplicità delle occupazioni dopo un'assenza di parecchie settimane, ed il bisogno di far ricerche nei nostri catalogi mi hanno impedito fino ad oggi di risponderti, ma ciò fu provvidenziale giacché noi non abbiamo che un solo prete lituano, D. Kalinowski¹. Egli ora si trova in Russia e solo oggi mi arrivò il suo nuovo indirizzo che comunico a te, affinché tu gli possa scrivere direttamente per maggior brevità e dargli tutte le indicazioni occorrenti e così averne direttamente la risposta. Io ti unisco un biglietto con cui potrai più facilmente flv ottenere | l'intento d'indurlo a venire a Londra. Egli adunque chiamasi D. Giorgio Kalinowski e trovai a Varsavia (Russia) via Pizkna n° 14. 5 10

Quanto all'assumere la casa detta St. George's home avrai già ricevuto da altro membro del Cap. Sup. la risposta favorevole pel principio di Quaresima.

Quanto al mandar D. Fèvre² alla nuova casa delle Suore, potrai tu stesso interpellare D. Bologna³ per sentire se può lasciarvelo andare quando ne sia il tempo: avutone risposta favorevole, noi gli manderemo a suo tempo l'obediienza. 15

Proveremo scrivere a D. Dehcan⁴ per invitarlo ad andare alle Malvine. Non so se si arrenderà. Non credo opportuno per ora mandar il cherico che sarebbe disposto ad andarvi, abbisognandosi colà | di un Prete. Tuttavia può essere che possa fra
 f2r qualche tempo venir in acconcio. 20

Sarà cosa buona che procuriate d'infondere nei vostri ascritti e professi lo spirito di generosità per prestarsi a beneficio delle anime anche a costo di sacrifici ed in paesi lontani.

Appena i vostri confratelli saranno installati a St. George's home⁵, raccomanda poi subito che si veda di applicare i più buoni e più intelligenti allo studio del latino, che mostreranno segni di vocazione. - Per ora tuttavia si aspetta qui la nota del personale che pensi destinare a quella casa colle indicazioni della loro età, qualità morali, abilità, studi fatti ecc. 25

Don Rua's suggestion of a request to Fr Bologna marks the peculiar position of the French confreres who were still under their own Provincial and therefore he had to give permission before they could be moved. To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 27 December 1903

Dear Fr Macey,

I should have liked to write before now in answer to your welcome letters, especially concerning the Lithuanian priest whom his Eminence the Cardinal of London would like to have. Having been away for a few weeks, I was delayed by the accumulation of work and also because I had to go through our catalogues, but it all turned out to be providential for we have only one Lithuanian priest, Fr Kalinowski who is in Russia, and this very day I received his address which I am passing on to you so that you can get in touch with him directly, give him all the necessary information and so hear from him in person. The enclosed note will make it easier for you to achieve your purpose of getting him to come to London. His name then is Fr George Kalinowski and he is living at number 14 Pizkna Street, Warsaw (Russia).

About taking over the house known as St. George's Home, I am sure you have received our reply by now from another member of the Superior Chapter; we were generally favourable to your doing so at the beginning of Lent.

Then there is the question of sending Fr Fevre to the Sisters' new house. I leave it to you to enquire from Fr Bologna whether he can let you have him when the time comes. If the reply is favourable, we shall send him his obedience at the appropriate moment.

We shall try inviting Fr Deehan by letter to go to the Falklands. I am not sure whether he will comply. I don't think it would be wise at present to send the cleric who is disposed to go, for it is a priest they want. However, he may be able to help us out before very long.

It would be good to set out instilling your novices and professed with the spirit of generosity and a willingness to offer themselves for the good of souls (whatever the sacrifice), even in foreign lands.

As soon as your confreres take up residence in St. George's Home, advise them to begin straightaway introducing the best and most intelligent boys to the study of Latin, providing they show signs of vocation. - We are still waiting for the list of personnel you consider sending to this house, with their respective ages, character, abilities, studies done, etc.

May the Lord abundantly bless all your good desires and diligence, and on your part, pray for

Yours aff. in J. & M.

Carissimo Don Carlo Macei¹ - Battersea,

Quasi subito dopo di avere ricevuto la lettera di Don Rabagliati e la tua cartolina che mi recavano notizie allarmanti circa lo stato grave di Don Bonavia, ecco giungermi un Telegramma che me ne annunzia la morte! - Il dolore che ne provo non è inferiore al vostro e vi comunico le mie vive condoglianze². - Spero che pregherete molto in suffragio dell'anima sua come pregheremo anche noi molto; speriamo che il Signore, se non lo ha ancora ricevuto, lo riceverà tosto nel suo eterno amplesso. Lodo in gran maniera le sollecite cure che gli avete prodigato per impedirne la catastrofe e Dio ve ne renderà merito. - Ed ora che succederà nel Bollettino³? - Fate coraggio intanto, state di buon animo, continuate a lavorare con zelo e costanza; Iddio vi aiuterà. | Vi aiuterò anch' io colle mie preghiere, vi saluto e vi benedico tutti di cuore. Dear Fr Charles Macey - Battersea,

No sooner had I received Fr Rabagliati's letter and your card, with the disturbing news of Fr Bonavia's grave condition, than a telegram arrived announcing his death! The sorrow it caused me was as deep as your own, and I offer you my heartfelt sympathy. - I know you will pray much in suffrage for his soul: we shall do the same. We entertain the hope that the Lord will welcome him soon into his everlasting embrace, if he has not yet done so. I cannot praise you too highly for all the attention you showed on him in the effort to stave off catastrophe. God will reward you. - What will become of the Bulletin now? Be brave in the meantime, don't lose heart, but keep on working with zeal and constancy. God will assist you. You will also have the help of my prayers. Greetings to all and heartfelt blessings. On new appointments of Rectors for East Hill, and Battersea, and other matters regarding the Sisters and Fr Tozzi

Car.mo D. Macey,

Dietro la gradita tua del 29 Genn. accettiamo Don Hawarden come Direttore ad East Hill e D. Kelly¹ non potendo dimorare a Burwash lo lasciamo a Battersea come parroco e così si continua come in passato. Per Battersea D. Rabagliati² sarà Direttore, dandogli come Prefetto D. Flower³, come ci suggerisci. 5

Non ci dispiace l'idea di mandar D. Bologna⁴ a visitar la Casa del Capo di B. Speranza, vista la gran difficoltà che tu possa allontanarti per un tempo così considerevole. Vedremo se si può combinare.

Qui ti unisco le due nomine che tu avrai cura di notificare alle rispettive case. 10 Essendo già un po' tardi, forse per quest'anno non potranno ancora comparire nel Catalogo; questo però non toglie che possano avere tutta l'autorità della loro carica. Così tu esonerato dalla direzione locale potrai più facilmente accudire indistintamente tutte le tue case che cominciano divenire numerose.

f/v Dobbiamo ora informarti che a New Castle⁵ si chiedono le nostre Suore per | 15 prendersi cura dei figli dei molti Italiani colà residenti. Se la cosa si può combinare sarà un'altra casa affidata alle tue cure. Per ora non vi è ancora niente di conchiuso; ti terremo informato a misura che procederanno le pratiche, le quali hanno luogo qui colle Società che hanno per iscopo la protezione degli emigrati all'estero.

Altra notizia che debbo darti si è che il confratello Rametti⁶ falegname al Capo vuole ad ogni costo essere dispensato: D. Tozzi ed il Vescovo stesso consigliano a secondarlo: in vista di ciò noi gli manderemo presto la dispensa. - Ora D. Tozzi ha più che mai bisogno di un capo falegname e di uno stampatore. È molto tempo che ce li chiede: qui non sappiamo proprio dove prenderli. Se mai avessi tu modo di provvederli (anche a pagamento se non si può diversamente) faresti un gran servizio a quella tua casa. 25

3. Fr James Flower (1878-1935), whose inheritance paid for St Anne's Church, Chertsey. (See Dickson, op.cit., p. 220).
4. Poor Don Bologna, the French Provincial, is now suggested as Visitor for South Africa, something Fr Macey tried to avoid at all costs.
5. Newcastle-upon-Tyne, like many industrial towns, had an Italian immigrant community often associated with the catering trade, especially the growth of ice-cream parlours. In general in England the Salesians did not get involved much in chaplaincy to the Italian community, perhaps the only exception being the Sisters at Chertsey.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 10 February 1904

Dear Fr Macey,

In view of your welcome letter of the 29th January, we agree to Fr Hawarden being Rector at East Hill, and since Fr Kelly cannot live in Burwash we can leave him in Battersea as Parish Priest where he can continue as before. Fr Rabagliati can be Rector at Battersea, with Fr Flower as Prefect as you suggest.

We think it is not a bad idea that Fr Bologna should visit the house in the Cape of Good Hope, since it would be very difficult for you to be absent for a notable period of time. We shall see what we can work out.

Enclosed are the two appointments which you should send out to the houses concerned. It is too late perhaps, for insertion in this year's Catalogue. That does not prevent their exercising all the authority of their office. Now that you are freed of the direction of a local community, you can take equal care of all your houses which are growing in number.

Now we must inform you that we have had a request from Newcastle, where they would like our Sisters to look after the children of Italian emigrants. Assuming we can arrange this, you will have another house to look after. No decision has been made yet. We shall keep you posted as we proceed with negotiations with the Societies founded for the care of the emigrants.

Here is another piece of news for you: in Cape Town, the carpenter, Brother Ramietti, is determined at all costs to get a dispensation from his vows. Both Fr Tozzi and the Bishop advise us to accede to his request. So we shall send on the dispensation shortly. That leaves Fr Tozzi more in need than ever of a head carpenter and a printer too. He has been asking for them for a long time; but we just do not know where to find them over here. If there is any way you could arrange someone (even with financial reimbursement if necessary) you would be doing a great service to your house down there.

May the Lord bless you all and

Dear Fr Macey,

1. It was really good news to hear that you will continue to do the English Bulletin there. Give dear Austen every encouragement.

2. I was also glad to hear that you have taken on the responsibility of sending a cleric out to Fr Tozzi. Make sure you choose someone on whom you can really rely, for he has a long journey ahead of him, and once at the other end, he will be in a house that is cut off from all the others and which rules out the possibility of personnel changes. - We are still on the look-out for a master printer and carpenter, and are not without hope of success; we may be able to provide them, but it will be on a payment basis.

3. It would be good if you can help Fr Kalinowski to get rid of the bee he has in his bonnet of wanting to go to Russia.

4. Get some background information on the priest who wants to join us, especially anything of a confidential nature, and procure testimonial letters from the bishops of any diocese he lived in for one year, from the time of his 16th birthday. If you get good reports, you may test him out.

5. Don't you think it would be good if someone were to write a biography of dear Fr Bonavia? I think he merits that much. I wonder if you already have the portrait that was commissioned by his brother who is a priest. Just in case you don't have it, I am sending you a copy.

I wish you all a good month of St. Joseph, and his constant protection for yourself and for all your houses. On your part, pray to him for

On the new Rector, the Provincial on the House Council, two coadjutors for the Cape, an Italian for the Malvinas

Car.mo D. Macey,

Rispondo alla gradita tua del 4 corrente [.]

1. Ti ringrazio delle notizie che mi desti del nuovo Direttore: bisognerà incoraggiarlo colle tue buone maniere ed anche avviarlo a far le parti di Direttore, come un maestro avvia il discepolo. Si può anche dirgli quali sono le nuove occupazioni che deve assumere ed incontrando difficoltà, se le noti per chiedere a te il modo di superarle, il che tu farai con tutta calma e dolcezza.

2. Mi chiedi se l'Ispettore appartiene al Capitolo della casa in cui dimora¹: rispondo: se egli vi ha il titolo e la carica di Direttore vi appartiene, altrimenti no; bensì presiede la Commissione ispettoriale.

3. Riguardo ai due Coadjutori per Capetown speriamo non tarderanno molto: il falegname sarebbe disposto a partire in qualunque giorno: ma pel tipografo aspettiamo risposta da D. Tozzi se accetta le condizioni da lui presentate, spero tale risposta non tarderà.

4. Riguardo a D. Bologna, che tu proponi per visitare quella casa, mi rispose che non può dovendo ora più che pel passato attendere alle sue cose cotanto disperse ed agli affari per la difesa delle proprietà. Intanto ancor jeri io ricevetti lettera da D. Tozzi, in cui nuovamente si raccomanda per la visita del suo Ispettore, che riuscirebbe molto vantaggiosa.

5. Riguardo alle Malvine un italiano non potrebbe avere dal governo gli ajuti che ha un suddito inglese e per altra parte non si sa dove trovar un italiano che sappia abbastanza l'inglese. D. Cassini, che tu suggerisci, non lo sa quasi affatto. A S. Francisco aveva sempre a fare con italiani. Ho speranza che possa ritornar colà.

6. Ho visto la fotografia della vostra cap[p]ella interna: fa bella figura e, da quanto mi dici, ha costato quasi niente: Deo gratias³!

1. Advice on how to encourage the new Rector coupled with the following item about the Provincial on the House Council, suggests that not only the new Rector was finding it difficult to define a new role, but so was Fr Macey himself. Don Rua is clear that Fr Macey needs to be encouraged to take on the role of the Provincial, including an official visitation of Cape Town.

2. D. Mignone, Mario, (1863-1937) was one of the great figures of the Salesian past in South America, professed in Buenos Aires in 1882, he was the first Salesian priest from Latin America. He went first to the Falklands (las Malvinas) in 1891 with Fr Diamond, and returned there in 1905 where he lived till his death. So esteemed was he there that a street in Port Stanley was named after him. His early career as founder of the first house in Chile and a regional hospital in Rawson reflected his wealthy background and education but hardly prepared him for the isolation of life in the most desolate outpost of the British Empire. See DBS.

3. The photograph of the interior of the Battersea House Chapel has survived and is richly painted in the style of the pre-Raphaelites probably by Fr George Fayers (1852-1929), formerly a professional artist, who was ordained in 1903, a late vocation and confessor at Battersea.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 11 April 1904

Dear Fr Macey,

In reply to your welcome letter of the 4th:

1. Thank you for letting me know about the new Rector. You must encourage him by your kind ways, and introduce him to his role as Rector just as a master would guide his disciple. You can also let him know about the new tasks he will have to take on, telling him that if he meets any difficulties he can make a note of them and consult you later on how to surmount them. Then kindly and calmly you can help him to do so.

2. You ask me if the Provincial belongs to the Chapter of the house in which he lives: the answer is that, if he holds the title and the office of Rector, then he does belong to it, otherwise, no; instead he presides over the Provincial Council.

3. We are hopeful that our two coadjutor brothers will set out before long. The carpenter will be ready to go off any time, but we must wait for Fr Tozzi's reply, to see whether he will go along with the conditions put to him by the printer. I hope we shall have his reply soon.

4. Regarding your suggestion that Fr Bologna should carry out the visit there: he tells me he cannot do so as he has to give more attention than in the past to his own houses which are so scattered, whilst looking after all the business associated with the care of our properties. In the meantime I had a letter yesterday again from Fr Tozzi in which he repeats his request for a visit from the Provincial, adducing the advantages which it would bring.

5. As regards the Falklands: an Italian would never get the same government assistance as a British subject; moreover we have no idea where to find an Italian who knows English well enough. You suggest Fr. Cassini, but he hardly knows any English at all, for, while he was in San Francisco, all his work was among Italian people. My own hope is that Fr Mignone will go back. He does know English well and he was there several times before and did rather well.

6. I have seen the photograph of your Chapel. It looks really good and, from what you tell me, it cost virtually nothing. Deo gratias!

May the Lord bring you his peace as he once brought it to the apostles: that's my wish for you.

Yours affectionately in J. and M.

It is no longer necessary to send a carpenter, since Fr Tozzi wrote to me last month saying he had found one out there.

We are still waiting to hear whether Fr Tozzi wants the printer, and whether he is prepared to accept the conditions proposed by the individual we found for the purpose.

As for sending Fr Rabagliati to carry out the visit there, I raised the matter in the Chapter: the view was that it would not do, partly because he might not be up to it, having had no experience as Provincial, and partly because he would not have the necessary standing in the eyes of the confreres there.

May Mary Help of Christians fill you all with blessings, together with

Fr Michael Rua

P.S. It seems to me that it would be convenient that you send the cleric here since those who are to go to the Cape must depart from Genoa. Then he could get to know the Superiors and as soon as there is a reply about the printer they can depart immediately.

Car.mo D. Macey,

Il cherico è arrivato felicemente! Deo gratias! Non ho ancora potuto discorrere con lui; ma spero farà bene.

5 In risposta alla gradita tua del 9 ti dirò che potrai nominare agli elettori del maestro dei novizi² D. Vismara Eusebio. È prete novello, ordinato solo quest'anno; ma da parecchi anni è assistente al noviziato di Foglizzo; giovane di molta abilità e virtù. Puoi anche proporre D. Silvestro Rabagliati³, che speriamo arriverà fra non molto e per Novembre potrebbe trovarsi a Burwash. Non assicuro che possono essere
10 disponibili; ma la loro nomina potrà facilitare il loro scioglimento da altri impegni. - Però se avete altri costi da poter eleggere, non dimenticateli.

Quanto alla questione delle vostre proprietà va tanto bene la proposta che | mi fai che tu prenda tutte le informazioni da persone legali competenti; che prepari tutti i documenti e li porti a Torino per essere segnati. - Assicurati bene saper chi ha eredi

rendo, questi eredi possano aver parte all'eredità⁴. flv

Così pure converrà assicurare bene l'altro punto se si possa, senza spese, sostituire l'uno all'altro quando uno debba partire per altra nazione o per l'eternità.

Se potrai mandarci prima in carta libera l'atto che ci sarà da firmare sarà opportuno; così potremo esaminarlo e, se occorre, proporti i nostri dubbi da fare sciogliere

1. The cleric was probably going to Turin ready to embark at Genoa for South Africa.
2. The members of the Provincial Council had to elect the Novice Master: hence the candidates. Don Vismara Eusebio (1880-1945) later became an outstanding liturgist and first Dean of the Salesian Faculty of Theology (PAS) in 1940. Don Rua was evidently prepared to send one of his best prepared scholars to England as Novice Master. (DBS)
3. Don Rabagliati Silvestro was the brother of Fr Eugenio who left from San Francisco in 1916. See Biographical list.
4. The complexities of setting up the Salesians as a charitable trust had already been broached by Don Rua in the 1890s and seems to be reaching a conclusion here. (See Dickson, op.cit., p. 132 ff.).

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 12 May 1904

Dear Fr Macey,

The cleric arrived safely. Deo gratias! I have not had the opportunity to speak with him yet, but I hope he will do well.

In reply to your welcome letter of the 9th, my answer is that you may propose Fr Eusebio Vismara to the electors of the Novice Master. He is a new priest just ordained this year, but he was assistant for a few years in the novitiate at Foglizzo, and he is a young man of ability and virtue. You could also suggest Fr Sylvester Rabagliati, who will be arriving soon, and could be in Burwash for November. I am not in a position to guarantee their availability, but if they were appointed now, it would make it easier to free them later on from other ties. However, if you have others in the Province who could be elected, do not lose sight of them.

On the subject of properties, your proposal is quite good: that you gather all the necessary information from competent law men, prepare the documents, and then bring them to Turin to be signed. Make sure you know who has heirs in a direct line, ascending or descending, in order to forestall the danger of such heirs claiming the property should death intervene.

You should also ensure that you can lawfully substitute one person for another, at no additional cost, in the event of one of your men having to go overseas, or perhaps departing for eternity.

It would be useful if you could let us have a copy of the deed we have to sign, written out on plain unstamped paper. That would give us a chance to study it, and if necessary let you know in advance of any doubts we have, so that you can have the answers before you come out here.

Let us prepare for the feast of Mary Help of Christians and console our dear Mother. Believe me always

However, let us go on working: we shall have a good rest later in heaven. You are on the right road when in giving the conferences you inculcate the preventive system as a way to discipline, good morals and knowledge. These are certainly the fruits of the system we follow. And experience shows that when we fail to take it into account, then we get the opposite results and they are disastrous. - Be firmly constant in your practice of the Preventive System of Don Bosco - All praise to your efforts, too, for the Salesian Co-operators; the greatest development of our work in London will grow out of this, for God's glory and the salvation of young people. I trust that Fr Silve-

Turin, 7 October [1]904

Dear Frs. Macey and Rabagliati,

I am a bit slow in replying to your welcome letters. I count on your sympathetic understanding for I had a multitude of matters to attend to these days. It would be better to give up the idea of making Fr Rafferty, Rector of the novitiate house in Burwash, for he is already here and is very keen on attending the lectures on moral theology of Monsignor Bertagna. We shall go on looking for a Master of Novices or Rector. We are so short on personnel, however, that I am not so sure we shall succeed. For the time being, just go on as before.

It would be good for one of you to ask Fr McCarthy whether he wants to return to New York with the firm desire of staying and working. There would be more outlet for his aptitudes there: here, on the other hand, it would be difficult to find him work. It would be better for him to stay put for a few weeks, so that when he does get to the other side, the Provincial will be back and will be able to give him an assignment straightaway.

Like yourselves, I am overjoyed at the number of ordinations to the priesthood you have had. May the Lord grant them all to persevere with fervour in his divine service. Give them my heartfelt congratulations

I am happy to accede to your wishes. However, when you go there you must make up your mind to work like a good Salesian. As you know we were invited over there to look after the Italians and so we must devote our attentions to them: we have obligations of charity towards them and must care for kindly and graciously without distinction the poor, the uncouth and the ignorant and not simply the rich and the well-mannered. Our work is to win souls for God. Now as our patron St. Francis de Sales said: 'you catch more flies with a spoonful of honey than with a barrel of vinegar'.

1. Fr Macey's letter 1.11.1904 enclosed a letter from the Irish Bishop referred to by Don Rua, which is no longer present in our archives (ASC), but Fr Macey in his letter described the Irish as "traditori" which suggests some misconduct was involved. See ASC E 988 Inghilterra, mc. 3653 D3.

2. Kalinoschi (sic) presumably means Kalinowski. See biographical details.

3. The chapel being referred to is the one at East Hill, which Fr Macey felt was too small. ASC E 988 Inghilterra, mc. 3653 D3.

4. McCarthy: see above.

5. Virginio Campana, was born in Brescia in 1873, entered the diocesan seminary in 1891, entered and was professed as a Salesian in 1893 and came to England in 1900 being ordained in 1901. Macey removed him from St George's Home, to Battersea, and he seemed to be working well. He later became ill and left the society and priesthood. See Dickson, op.cit., p. 159 ff.

6. James Simonetti (1880-1961), was born at Polignano in Italy, he entered the Salesians in 1897, did his philosophical studies in Rome at the Gregorian University and came to England in 1900. He was already Novice Master of the coadjutors and Macey wanted him promoted quickly as Fr Brown did not get on with Fr de Bary. Fr Simonetti became Novice Master as a sub-deacon in 1905 and was ordained that year. He remained in that office for the next 53 years. He died at Melchet Court, the Salesian theologate, in 1961. See obituary.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

[Turin], 3 November 1904

Dear Fr Macey,

We are in urgent need of a good coadjutor or cleric to deal with matters relating to the English Bulletin - addressing, distribution, etc. He must have a good hand-writing.

I ask you to let me have someone as soon as possible.

I give you my greetings for a happy, holy and joyful name-day and send you my best wishes.

Yours affectionately in Corde Jesu.
 Fr Michael Rua

P.S. Thank you for sending on the letter from the Irish Bishop. When you write to him thank him for passing on the information. Although it was painful, we were glad he got in touch with us. We shall use the information supplied for the good of the person concerned; let the Bishop know that, if ever he has anything else to tell us about our men, he should not hesitate to do so.

If Fr Kalinowski allows his triennial vows to expire while he is in Russia, let us leave him to do whatever he judges best in the Lord; unless he takes the initiative, we need not write to him again. In the meantime, we are looking around for another Polish priest to help Fr Domanski.

There would be no problem about building the Chapel you speak of; in keeping with our rules, however, the right thing to do is to get the plans drawn up together with the estimated costs. We shall study them and if we see no difficulties, we shall return your plans together with approval and express permission to build. Thank you for your news about Fr McCarthy and of the two priests at the Novitiate. It would be fine if you can gently persuade your Rector to stay at his post for this year. Thank you for the good news about Fr Campana. As for the Cape of Good Hope, I am sorry to say that, up to now, we have been unable to find either priests or coadjutors to send there.

Encourage the cleric Simonetti to study his treatises on theology: as soon as he has passed a fair number of his exams we shall admit him to Minor Orders, then to Major Orders; then, as soon as he has finished his theology, we shall admit him to the priesthood.

Carissimo Don Macey Carlo - Londra,

Rispondo alla tua ultima del 27 corr.te ringraziandoti delle notizie. Per Don Tozzi¹ speriamo di spedire presto un prete, un chierico ed un cuoco. Sono persuaso che egli ha bisogno di aiuto non solo, ma di molto aiuto attesoche è ammalato secondo che annunzia un telegramma che di là abbiamo ricevuto. Hai risposto bene a Don Kalinowski dicendogli che se vuol ritornare in Inghilterra si disponga ad andare con Don Domanski alla missione polacca². A proposito, avete forse assunto una missione polacca o trattate di assumerla? Scrivendomi dammi informazioni di questa missione dicendo se è già cominciata o quando incomincerà, con quali condizioni, possibilità, speranze ecc. Non è possibile poi che Don Nai³ possa assumersi l'incarico della casa di Cape Town perché è troppo lontana; pazienza pertanto e vedi di provvedere nel miglior modo che potrai ai bisogni di quella casa quand'occorre. Il chierico Barry Patrizio⁴ ha solo 23 anni, conviene pertanto che finisca il suo triennio

- P.S. Riguardo alla missione Polacca fammi sapere specialmente se, chi vi è destinato, deve dimorare colà formando una nuova residenza. Forse si è presentato a te certo Conte Marchetti di Muriaglio²: so che non è in vostra casa; non so il motivo per cui non fu accolto: se me lo farai sapere ne sarò contento. Ora i parenti (nostri Benefattori degni d'ogni riguardo) mi pregano di nuovo a volerlo ricevere se si presenterà.
- 25 Penso sia meglio riceverlo a St. George's home, donde può uscire più regolarmente ogni giorno. Perciò lo raccomando a D. Giltinan. Naturalmente pagherà la sua pensione. Raccomandalo anche tu a quel caro Direttore. Se però potessi alloggarlo in codesta casa, sarei contento egualmente.

1. Fr Tozzi's illness was probably the not surprising result of the heroic efforts he had made to repay the debts incurred in Cape Town and that had led the Salesians to bankruptcy. He was of a tense and nervous disposition and found the isolation of the Cape from Italy a real penance. Born in 1875, it was a personal meeting with Don Bosco that drew him to the Salesians. He was ordained in 1897 and came immediately to England as Novice Master. In 1902 he was sent as Rector to Cape Town where he remained till 1926 when he became Provincial of the English Province on the death of Fr Scaloni.

2. Fr the Polish mission See Dickson, op.cit., p. 219.

3. Fr Luigi Nai (1855-1932) was born in Italy and entered the Salesians in 1872. He was ordained in 1877 and became Prefect and later Rector at S. Benigno Canavese. In 1902 he was appointed Provincial in Palestine. (DBS)

4. Patrick Barry, born in Co. Clare, Ireland in 1881 and ordained in 1908.

5. Conte Marchetti, evidently relative of some important benefactors.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 29 November 1904

Dear Fr Charles Macey - London,

I am replying to your kind letter of the 27th of the month. Thank you for the news. We are hoping to send Fr Tozzi a priest, a cleric and a cook, shortly. I am convinced that he not only needs help but a lot of help, seeing that he is ill, as we have been informed by the telegram which we received.

You did well to reply to Fr Kalinowski that if he wants to return to England, then he must be prepared to help Fr. Domanski in the Polish mission. On this point, have you actually taken on responsibility for a Polish mission, or are you simply engaged at this stage in negotiations to that end? When you write let me have some information: if it has already begun, or when it will; with conditions, possibilities, hopes, etc.? Now I must tell you that it is not possible for Fr Nai to assume responsibility for the house in Cape Town, for it is too far away. Be patient for the time being, and do what you can to relieve the needs of that house whenever necessary. The cleric Patrick Barry is only twenty-three, so the proper thing for him to do is to finish his triennium and then begin the study of theology. I am happy to offer you these guidelines, and glad too, to offer you heart-felt greetings, and not only you but all my dear friends and sons in Jesus Christ, both Salesians and boys, sending my blessing to all of you. Goodbye. Pray for me, and believe me, I am ever yours

Affectionately in Jesus Christ,
Fr Michael Rua

P.S. Regarding the Polish mission, let me know especially if those who are to take it on have to live there, constituting a new residence. It seems that a certain Count Marchetti di Muriaglio called to visit you: I know he is not living with your community. I do not know why he was not made welcome; I should be glad if you can enlighten me. His relatives (benefactors of ours and worthy of every esteem) have been along to see me, and have asked me again if we could offer him hospitality should he call. I think it might be better to receive him at St. George's Home; if he were there he would be able to go out more often every day. So I recommend him to Fr Giltinan. Naturally, he will pay for his keep. Will you too recommend him to our dear Rector there? However, I shall be equally pleased if you can put him up in your house.

The third was a novice Antonio Zechel, from Schonwald, Bohemia. The three confreres who bring you this letter are on their way to the Cape of Good Hope. Do what you can to tell them all they need to know for the journey, and while you are at it, it would be good if you can get them a reduction for the sailing. We have given them a little money, but if it is not enough, try to make good the deficit to save them from embarrassment during the voyage. Fr Tozzi sent us a wire to say he is unwell, so the sooner they can leave, the better.

Dear Fr Macey,

Fr Brownrigg, the Rector or Chaplain of the Sisters at Chertsey has asked me to bring him out here so that he may devote some time to Church studies. I would not have any objections to this, in fact I think it is a good idea. If he were over here he would be able to do more than simply attend to his studies; he could learn a little Italian, he could get to know the Superiors at first hand (as well as the Mother House), and he could help out with the English Bulletin where another helper is needed especially in the administration sector. What do you think?

I hope the new confreres on their way to the Cape of Good Hope have safely reached their journey's end. I should like to hear something about their stay with you and their departure, Happy Feast-day! May Christ enkindle the fire of his love in our hearts.

1. The Chertsey priest, it seems was to be sent down each week from Battersea, but according to the 'elenco', the official year book, there was a Salesian there from 1903 alone, till 1911 when there were 2 resident. One suspects that he was present only on paper till 1911. (see Dickson p. 180)

2. The 'grave condition of Burwash' in the context seems to suggest the financial situation was bad. Fr Macey reported they were £ 300 in debt, something which was untenable unless all the houses paid the quota.

3. Meliapor (sic), Mylapore, near Madras, was not opened as a Salesian house until 1909. The first Salesian presence in India started at Tanjore, in the diocese of Mylapore, in 1906.

Thank you, too, for the prayers offered on my behalf. They have been answered for I am completely restored.

I must also thank you for the news about Fr Brownrigg; let him stay where you have sent him; I shall pray for his success. I am also in agreement with your sending a priest to Chertsey from Battersea, assuming that he does not lose too much time in travelling and that the expense incurred is not too heavy.

Congratulations on the good number of confreres you sent overseas this year.

I am convinced that the situation in the Novitiate at Burwash is serious. However, in my opinion, the different houses should help in its upkeep. Insist as much as necessary.

If you are unable to send two priests or clerics to New York, never mind; but try to prepare two for Mylapore, in India, next September. We are to open a mission there; and it is a British colony.

All the Superiors sincerely return your greetings, and especially

Yours affectionately in Jesus and Mary.

1. Devine, John (1882-1934) was born at Killishill, Co. Tyrone N. Ireland, entered the Salesian College, Battersea in 1902 to study for the Civil Service exams, went to the Novitiate in Burwash in June 1903, volunteered for the Missions and was sent to Chile where he was ordained in 1911. He returned to go as a pioneer of the foundation at Limerick and in 1927 went out to Cape Town where he died, known for his generosity and deep piety. (Obituary).

2. Triennium: the period of practical training undertaken by Salesian students for the priesthood marked them out as different from both diocesan students and most other religious. Don Bosco's own practice was that clerics or students for the priesthood lived with him and helped with the 'work of the Oratories' while they continued their studies at the seminary. A special period of practical training or tirocinium was introduced formally at the General Chapter of 1901, though the project had already been mooted in 1890. (see M. Wirth: Don Bosco and the Salesians, 1982, p. 303ff.). Though no mention is made of the period of practical training in the (pre-Vatican II) Constitutions, a clear definition of its length, purpose and organisation and that only the Rector Major could dispense from it, is clear from the Regulations 51ff. (Constitutions and Regulations of the Society of St Francis de Sales, 1967, Madras).

3. Laconic: Don Rua's comments on the House reports was later echoed in the Visitation Report of Fr Virion, 1908. (see Dickson, op.cit., p. 1661ff.).

Dear Fr. Macey,

Happily, the two clerics have arrived. We hope to admit Devine to Profession before his departure for America.

I am sorry to hear what you have to say about the three years of practical training. Try to make your clerics understand that this is to their own advantage. However, if there are solid reasons for exceptions, let me know, sending details of age, conduct and ability, and let me know also if part of the three-year period has been done. I shall gladly send on the necessary dispensation if the situation warrants it - just as I have done for others in the past.

I enclose a letter for Brownrigg, I hope he will understand it. Do me the kindness of passing on all the enclosed and pray for

Yours affectionately in Jesus & Mary.

P.S. I have looked over your Visitation Report and found too many gaps in it. I noticed that there are items missing in several houses, such as the companies (sodalities), archives, chronicles, etc. All these should be introduced in the course of the current year.

Dear Fr Tozzi,

Your letter of the 15th February brought me a lot of joy. I see that God's blessing is over your house. You have my permission to buy both iron and wood at the Exhibition, provided you don't incur any debt. So keep an eye on your expenses.

I share your joy in the winning of an award in the special furniture-making competition. I hope the money you receive in consequence, plus that from your pulpit appeal, together with the money promised by the bishop, will allow you to go forward without being weighed down by debts.

I am pleased that you have succeeded in forming the ladies' committee. If you can get them together from time to time to encourage them in their charitable zeal, it will be much to your advantage. In the first meeting you call together please give them, as well as our benefactors, my heartfelt thanks and assure them of my prayers and blessings above all.

I am pleased to authorise:

A. a weekly Mass during all the time of the fund raising, and the offering of your practices of piety and good deeds for the spiritual welfare of those who contribute to the building of your new house;

B. an offering of one lira to the Hospice of the Sacred Heart for every donor you find;

C. the enrolment of all contributors in the Archconfraternity of Mary Help of Christians;

D. to make them entitled to all the indulgences of the Co-operators, once you despatch to us their names and addresses so that they may be enrolled as Co-operators if they are not already.

I am pleased too that health and time permitting you intend to publish an annual financial report to encourage your contributors. I assume of course that this is because you cannot do so in the quarterly you planned last year, of which we gladly received the first issue, but none afterwards. I certainly commend your efforts to gain as many co-operators as possible. Be of good heart and forge ahead.

I shall write to Don Marengo asking him to obtain the papal blessing you ask for. I trust he will be successful.

As for your aspirant Farnell, given your assurance that you sent the testimonial letter of the Bishop of his diocese of origin, and that the latter was favourable, I shall put his name forward as soon as the Chapter meets. I trust we shall obtain his admission.

May St. Joseph take you under his protection and help you to extend far and wide the Kingdom of Jesus Christ in that part of the world, and may he intercede on your behalf and on mine that we may have God's special blessings.

Car.mo D. Tozzi,

Mentre rileggo il programma dell'Opera di S. Giuseppe¹ ti verrò facendo le osservazioni che mi pajono opportune.

1. Ti notai una croce subito in principio perché non vedo a che verbo si riferisce 5 quel soggetto "the subscribers"
2. Per essere ammessi a partecipare a tutti i favori spirituali da te indicati bisognerà
 - a) che diano piu di una lira, giacché questa è la limosina richiesta per partecipare anche solo all'opera del S. Cuore;
 - b) che tu ci mandi poi la lista degli offerenti per inscrivere come Cooperator 10 quelli che nol fossero ancora, e come membri dell'Arciconfraternità di M. Ausil., eccetto che sia già eretta o si eriga in seguito tale Confraternità nella vostra cappella, il che riesca molto facile.
3. Da ciò che dissi sopra puoi ricavare che non sarebbe sufficiente l'offerta di 15 mezza corona²; ci vorrà almeno un scellino, che vale più di una lira essendo questa richiesta per partecipare alle 6 messe quotidiane del S. Cuore.
4. Mi pare che ciò che dici in questo periodo limiti ciò che hai detto in principio e che possa condurre in confusione.
5. Spero D. Macey non avrà difficoltà se si limita la modificazione da te proposta 20 soltanto ai Bollet. diretti al Sud Africa, Australia e India. Gli scriverà in proposito e spero si contenterà.

1. Fr Tozzi wanted to encourage those who subscribed to the work of the Institute by offering them spiritual benefits associated with the various Salesian Confraternities. Mary Help of Christians, the Sacred Heart, St Joseph.

[148]

To Fr Enea Tozzi

Turin, 13 May 1905

Dear Fr Tozzi,

On re-reading the policy for your projected Association of St. Joseph, I would like to make a few suitable comments:

1. I have put a cross right at the start of your document as I cannot see which verb governs the words 'the subscribers'.
2. For admission to a share in all the spiritual favours you indicate, it will be necessary:
 - a) that the offering should be more than one lira, for that much is required for a straightforward enrolment in the Association of the Sacred Heart;
 - b) to send us the list of donors so that we can enrol them as co-operators if they are not already such, and in the Archconfraternity of Mary Help of Christians, unless you have already set-up the same in your chapel or have it in mind to do so, which would be a simple matter.
3. From the above you will have gathered that an offering of half a crown would be inadequate; you would have to ask for at least a shilling, which is worth more than one lira, the offering we ask for from those who wish to have a share in the six daily Masses in the Sacred Heart Basilica.
4. It seems to me that what you say in this period cuts back on what you say at the start and lends itself to confusion.
5. I hope Fr Macey won't have any objections if we limit your modifying proposal only to the Bulletins sent to South Africa, Australia and India. I'll write to him about the matter and trust he will be happy enough.

Keep cheerful: look after your health, for which you have the prayers of

Valsalice, 31 d'agosto 1905

Carissimo D. Macey,

Ho sotto gli occhi la gradita tua del 12 corr.: La proposta che fai di mandare co-testo caro sacerdote tedesco¹ al Capo di Buona Speranza sarà discussa quando si tra-terà della formazione del personale: avendone però già parlato agli altri Superiori ho visto che non la si crede quasi opportuna. Sarà meglio ch'egli continui dove era prima e possibilmente si mandi colà qualche d'un altro. Studieremo attentamente la cosa coram Domino e vedremo d'aggiustar tutto pel meglio. Credo non vi sia alcuna probabilità che D. Eugenio venga cambiato. Toccherà a te pensare al modo di aggiustarlo bene da poter continuare a rendere buon servizio come faceva pel passato.

Probabilmente fra qualche giorno ti manderemo due o tre dei nostri preti desti-nati alle Missioni della Cina e dell'India, affinché possano per un mese od anche due imparare ed esercitarsi nella lingua inglese². Sono persuaso che tu li accoglierai da

Valsalice, 31 of August 1905

Dear Fr Macey,

I have before me your welcome letter of the 12th. When we come to discuss the allotment of the personnel we shall consider your proposal to send our good German priest to the Cape of Good Hope. However, I have already spoken to some of the Superiors about it, and I can see that they do not consider it opportune. It might be better if he stays put and you send someone else. However, we shall give the matter our close attention before the Lord, and try to work out everything for the best. It does not seem at all probable that Fr Eugene will be changed. You will have to find a way to adjust his situation so that he can go on giving good service as in the past.

In a few days' time we shall probably send you two or three of our priests who are on their way to the Missions in China and India, in order to let them learn and practise English for a month or two. I am sure you will give them a good fraternal welcome and that you will help them as much as possible.

Thank you in advance, I pray that the Lord may reward you. On your part please pray for

Yours affectionately in Jesus & Mary.
Fr Michael Rua

P.S. Please tell Fr Tomatis that the Bishop of Mylapore was here and was anxious to have a word with him: however, he spoke to the cleric Balestra who has been appointed to accompany him and will be able to pass on the information in due course.

1. Fr Klepl may be the German priest; he certainly was at Battersea in 1905.

2. The problem of the Lithuanian chaplaincy in London continues. There is a gap to enter the name after "se non è" for entering the name. It was Don Rua's habit to fill in the names of persons or places when the secretary wrote the body of the letter. In fact, Cleric Adalberto Gancek was at the Oratory in 1905 and then for 2 years at the Polish Community, London. In 1908, he disappears from the Elenco, probably at the end of his vows.

Car.mo D. Macey,

Sono alquanto in ritardo a rispondere alla gradita tua del 21 Settembre: tu facilmente ne comprenderai la ragione. Quanto all'individuo¹ che penseresti mandare in quella lontana casa non si può inviavelo, giacché è già fisso alla precedente sua destinazione in Ascona, dove non si saprebbe come supplirlo. 5

Quanto al prete Lituano che vi occorrerebbe in codesta città, son proprio dolente di non sapertelo indicare: non ne conosco alcuno ad eccezione di colui che già fu costi negli anni scorsi.

Hai fatto molto bene mandando il caro [...]² al noviziato: spero renderà buon servizio. Ieri abbiám veduto con piacere i due vostri pellegrini, che stamane partono alla volta di Roma: spero il Signore benedirà quest'atto di devozione a S. Pietro ed al suo vicario. 10

Dear Fr Macey,

I have been a little bit slow in replying to your welcome letter of the 21st September: you will have no difficulty in understanding why. As for the person you were thinking of sending to that remote house of your Province, I am afraid this is not possible for he is firmly established already in Ascona and we can see no way of replacing him.

You need a Lithuanian priest for London, but I am really sorry I am unable to suggest anyone. The only person I know is the one who was there for the past few years.

You did well to send dear [...] to the novitiate: I hope he will be a good help. We were pleased to see your two pilgrims yesterday. They leave for Rome this morning. May the Lord bless their act of devotion to St. Peter and his Vicar.

Give my greetings to everyone. But especially to our missionaries who will be leaving for India and China. While on this subject, will you kindly tell the Rector of our house in India that we still lack just the mechanic or metalworker to complete the team of coadjutor brothers. If you can help in any way by finding a young man for the purpose in your country, it would be a blessing.

All too conscious of the financial straits of the St. Francis de Sales Oratory, I wanted to see what credits it had compared with the various Provinces. I discovered that if each house paid its debts promptly, the Oratory would be in a much less uncomfortable position.

I want to draw your attention, therefore, to the fact that your house in Cape Town, in particular, owes a great deal. As Provincial, do what you can to urge the Rector to pay off his debt now, at the end of the school year or at the beginning of the new year, thus fulfilling a duty of justice and fraternal charity thereby making the condition of the Mother house less trying.

My dear Fr Rabagliati,

In your letter of the 20th of the month you come back to the question already raised by your Provincial, to send Fr Federer to the Cape of Good Hope. Were it possible we would gladly accede to your request but Father Federer teaches German at Ascona as well as being confessor. It is true, of course, you are offering us, in return, a young priest Fr Robin, but I imagine he has not got his confessional faculties yet and wouldn't know German, so I cannot see him taking Fr Federer's place. - It would be better to persuade Fr Robin to go: I know that he does have a flair for languages and literature so he would be able to help out considerably in the Cape. If he is willing to go, then it would be wise to send with him the cleric you were keeping in reserve for this purpose. They could set out as soon as possible. Have a word with Fr Provincial, and if it can be arranged, let me know. I shall send my heartfelt blessing that they may have a safe journey and a fruitful stay. - As for Fr McCarthy it would be helpful if, like a good brother, you were to remind him of the poverty he came from before entering the Society, pointing out at the same time that he ought to live the poverty he promised by vow; if he receives any money, he should hand it over to the Provincial or else send it to us; in this way he will avoid incurring the punishment that befell Ananias and Sapphira. I hope the Lord will bless your novitiate and that it will produce good fruit.

We were very pleased to receive your two dear pilgrims. Give them and all the others the kind regards of

Dear Fr Macey,

Thank you for your welcome letter of the 15th of the month, and even more so for all your kindness to our missionaries for India and China. They were highly satisfied.

As for Fr Robin, if you can persuade him to come here, assure him that, in the event of his not being assigned to accompany Fr Tomatis who needs a priest, he will receive another appointment. In the case of Bannan, we shall be quite happy to have him in one of our Italian novitiates providing you have already sent someone to Malta or intend to do so shortly; if not, we shall have to send Bannan, for the contract requires us to send a British subject.

As for defraying the expenses incurred for sending the confrere to Malta, I think the Rector of that house will have no difficulty.

It would be a help if in the future you sent some of your candidates for the novitiate to Italy. Once they have completed their novitiate we can consult together to see whether you need them or whether it might not be convenient to let them finish at least their philosophy course over here.

1. Mass offerings involved a serious obligation on the part of the priest to ensure the Masses were said and since a priest could only offer one Mass each day, frequently Mass offerings had to be transferred to another priest as in this case. Don Rua clearly sees this enquiry from Tozzi as an indication of a state of excessive anxiety.

Dear Fr Tozzi,

I haven't yet replied to your welcome letter of the 27th September in which you referred to Masses sent to us on the 26th April. You were under the impression that you had overlooked the matter. In fact the secretary found that everything was in order: you sent us 83 masses, divided as follows:

for the souls in purgatory	54
for the deceased	23
for special intentions	6
Total:	83

Be at peace then and don't worry any more. We have taken note of your request for a printer, and as soon as possible we shall comply with your request. In the meantime, we are hoping to send you soon a priest to help you out.

Caro Don Macey,

Attendo tuttora la risposta alla domanda fattata riguardo all'invio a Malta di un chierico inglese e riguardo a Don Robin.

5 Mi da ora occasione di insistere presso di te per questo affare, che è piuttosto urgente, una lettera del Ch.co Patrizio Barry¹ indirizzata a Don Cerutti. Il detto chierico esprime appunto il desiderio di andare all'estero e preferibilmente a Malta. Orbene, dato, come credo, che egli sia di origine inglese, sarebbe proprio quanto occorre per Malta.

Dear Fr Macey,

I am still waiting for your reply to my enquiry about sending an English cleric to Malta, and then about Fr Robin.

Fr Cerutti has just received a letter from the cleric Patrick Barry, and this offers me the opportunity to return to the subject as it is a matter of some urgency. This cleric has asked to be sent overseas, preferably to Malta. If his background is English, as I think it is, he might just be the answer.

Will you take steps to arrange his journey out here as soon as possible.

2. Dispensation was the process required for a member of a religious order to be released from his vows. Don Bosco himself recognising the difficulties that youngsters might have with perpetual commitments wanted to be able to dispense them himself, but the Commission revising the Constitutions in Rome insisted on dispensations from final vows having to be granted by the Holy See. Hence Don Rua's questions about motivation.

assenze d'ufficio del Direttore. Il Sign. D. Rua quindi m'incaricò di scrive[r]ne a te

1. Fr Barni struggled on for 7 years in Jamaica before the mission was closed, and in 1909 he was sent to the USA. Don Foglino was born at Nizza Monferrato 22.12.1858, he was professed at Lanzo 27.9.1876 and went as a cleric first to Uruguay where he was ordained in 17.2.1883. He became Provincial of Venezuela 1902-1908 (hence his connection with Jamaica), and died in Italy 26.10.1938, having suffered ill health for many years.

2. Don Francesco Cerutti was born at Saluggia, Vercelli, 28.4.1844, professed at Turin 14.5.1862, ordained 22.12.1866 and served as General Councillor for Schools on the Superior Council from 1885. He died at Alassio 25.3.1917.

Nizza Mon[ferra]to, 5 February [19]06

Dear Fr Macey,

Fr. Foglino has been to visit the house in Jamaica which is under his care. While he was there he sent us a report and some specific recommendations. In a meeting of the Chapter on January 20th just past, Fr. Rua shared both the report and the recommendations with us. Among the latter, there was one which is gravely urgent: namely, the despatch of a priest to help poor Fr. Barni - someone who knows enough English to take care of the confreres and the young people whenever the Rector has to be away from his post. Fr. Rua entrusted me with the task of writing to you so that you may set about making provision as soon as possible for we are concerned about Fr. Barni's health. I know you are hard up yourself but the need in Jamaica is too serious.

Fr. Rua left for Paris and Belgium last Friday. I know that his journey will take him south to Spain and Lisbon, but I have no idea whether he intends to call in at London as well. I thought it well to inform you, so that you may write to him at Liege if necessary.

Frederico Barni had been the first Rector in Cape Town and had taken over from Don Riccardi (who had arrived in Kinston in December 1901), who having seen how difficult the situation was for founding an agricultural college, refused to sign the legal deed and retired to Mexico. Fr Barni arrived to take over the nascent School and Mission in 1902 and Fr Biebuyck joined him. The agricultural school was plagued by natural disasters in 1903 and 1904 and by an earthquake in 1907. In 1906, the Jesuit Bishop Mgr Gordon, who had invited the Salesians, retired and he was succeeded by Bishop John Collins who is probably the new Bishop referred to in the letter. (See E. If he is unable to do so, I shall look around for someone else.

As for the travelling expenses, you will have to take this up yourself. You can always claim re-imbursement, of course, for the expenses incurred on your part for the journey of Fr Biebuyck.

As for your young pupils. I have no intention of insisting on your increasing the number of your boarders. You are the best judge of when and how it would be prudent to do it. In the meantime take good care of your young day pupils: train them in prayer, in the frequent reception of the sacraments, in reading and writing, just as you do for outdoor work.

Dear Fr Macey,

I am replying to your welcome letter of the 29th May. Regarding Jamaica, who knows, whether the climate there cannot be good for Fr Flower's health? Seeing that he was the one who asked to go, and that his ailments no longer allow him to render service in any of your houses, why not consult the doctor and find out if the climate would be beneficial for him. I say this in the supposition that his illness is not too far gone. Neither of the two persons you suggested feels up to going to this distant island. I hope you received the dimissorial letters for the cleric Noonan, and that he can be ordained priest this week, to which end I pray that the Lord may grant him every blessing.

The news you give me about Cape Town causes me pain: would that we had many coadjutor brothers to send them. But alas, we are short of personnel. However, I shall recommend the matter to Fr Bertello. On my return to Turin, I shall see that the cleric Bannan is sent there, together with a priest, and we shall send a brother if we can find one. As for the cleric Quinn, we have made provision according to his own wishes. About the proposal from Ireland: you may reply that we are unable to accept it, if the aim is exclusively as you indicate, to say nothing of the fact that we have not had the personnel for a few years now. Ci fa pena il vedere il cambio così frequente di personale, specie dei Coadiutori. Oltre la difficoltà che s'incontra per la scarsenza del personale, per codesta casa s'aggiunge l'altra grave difficoltà della distanza, per la quale non si può trovare chi si disponga a partire. Vostro studio dev'essere di cercare modo di fare star volentieri il personale che avete in guisa che ci stiano almeno dieci anni, come avviene per l'America, senza bisogno di ritornare. Comprendiamo che non si possono così facilmente indurre a rimanere, quando non ne hanno più voglia? ma è appunto per questo che vi esortiamo a studiar il modo di mantenere nel personale un po' di entusiasmo, pel quale diventano leggieri le fatiche ed i sacrifici. Se avessimo abbondanza di personale, si potrebbe fare dei cambi di tratti in tratti; ma siamo proprio stremati di forze? quindi se potete anche trovare costi dei capi d'arte che vi occorrono sarà cosa molto buona. Milan 4 June 1906

Dearest Fr Tozzi,

I have here in front of me your welcome letter of the 9th of May in which you ask for help with personnel: I hope shortly to be able to send a priest with the cleric Bannan. It pains me to see the so frequent change of personnel especially of coadjutors. Apart from the difficulty which occurs because of the shortage of personnel, for your house there is the added difficulty of the distance for which reason we can't find anyone willing to go. You must study how to find a way to make those you have stay willingly so that they are there for ten years, as they do in [South] America, without the need to return. We understand that you can't make them stay when they don't want to, but for this reason we exhort you to see how to sustain in your staff a little enthusiasm, through which the fatigue and the sacrifices become light. If we had an abundance of personnel it would be possible to make changes by turns but we are really extremely stretched; hence if you could find out there master craftsmen who could work with you that would be really good. In everything, recommend us to the Sacred Heart of Jesus so that he will provide both for us and for you whatever we need to accomplish our mission.

Kindly pass on our greetings to all your collaborators and pupils and believe me that I am always yours most affectionately in Jesus and Mary.

Dear Fr Macey,

We have a priest, a cleric and a tradesmaster ready to set out for Cape Town. Let me know if we should send them to embark from England, and when we may send them. In similar cases in the past, I remember rightly, we found no better way than to send them from England.

In our Chapter meeting we discussed what might be the best thing to do for Fr Brownrigg's father, who, he says, needs more help than in the past. It was decided that it is not right to let a confrere leave the Society on such grounds: it would be better if he could get his father to come and live with him, providing the latter is free to do so; or, alternatively, increase by £ 50 or £ 100 the annual allowance you are already giving him.

About Jamaica, do not be upset if I exhort you once more to look into the possibility of Fr Flower going there, to provide Mass for the Community and for the people when the Rector has to be away. I do not think he will have too much to do. But he would be able to render great service. Look into the matter personally. Have a word with the doctor to see if there is any way Fr could meet the need.

May the Lord assist you and help you to form many good Salesians. To this end I pray to him.

1. It is difficult to establish for certain who these confreres were, but in 1907 Fr Leon Peze joined the community as did John Hoey, a cleric in temporary vows, who may have come as a novice.

2. The mention of China shows the breadth of Don Rua's concern, it was the last new country to receive the Salesians during Don Rua's life in 1910.

To Fr Enea Tozzi

Turin, 20 June 1906

Dear Fr Tozzi,

We are sending you three helpers: a priest, a cleric and a coadjutor. The priest and the coadjutor are both perpetually professed, but the cleric hasn't made his vows yet, although he has finished his novitiate. I hope after few months he can make his Religious Profession there. The only reason why he was not admitted to vows was that he hardly ever spoke to the superiors or to his companions at Lombriasco. He will be able to speak in English down there, in his own tongue, and he may be more open, in which case you may be inclined to grant his request. The coadjutor is a master-binder. I trust he will do much good, as he has promised he will. May God enable them to help you perseveringly for at least 20 years in your house; at a later date one or other of them might like to go on to the missions in China. - Many greetings to you all from

Dear Fr Macey,

I received your welcome letter of the 21st June in which I found £2 sterling and your greetings for the feast of St. John. Sincere thanks for both greetings and gift.

I pray the Lord may increase your financial resources, enable you to make both ends meet and help your little boat to sail ever onwards. Even more so, I pray that he may give you all the graces you need to go forward on the way of perfection and help all your confreres to do the same.

I must also thank you for your news about Fr Flower, although it is not quite what I would have desired. Let us pray for him. In view of your inability to provide personnel for Jamaica, we shall do our best to make provision in some other way.

We trust the three confreres we sent arrived safely. Greet them affectionately once more in our name, and assure them that our prayers go with them.

My greetings to everyone.

1. Again Fr Macey seems to be responding to the needs of the Polish Mission. His letter is not in the ASC.

2. Don Rua's attempt to respond to the needs of the whole society was to ask the Provincials to declare their hands, without too much success, one suspects.

3. Don Campana: (See Dickson, op.cit., pp. 159-60) for his crisis of health and subsequent departure.

4. The nature of the sacrifice for Fr Austin is difficult to establish unless it was to go abroad.
5. The 1906 Law for public instruction in Italy obviously caused Fr Rua some concern. The Daneo-Credaro Law of 1906 proposed that the control of elementary education be removed from the local communes and taken over by the State at Province level. Catholics saw this as a first stage in the exclusion of religious influence from elementary schools and resisted it strongly, eventually forcing a compromise with the help of those who feared extreme socialist influence in education. See E. De Fort: La scuola elementare dall'Unità alla caduta del fascismo. (Bologna, 1996) pp. 266ff.
6. Fr Sutherland, Aloysius Stanislaus Berchmans (1882-1958), born in Shankiel, Co.Cork, he entered Battersea and made his novitiate in 1899. He was ordained in 1907, became Rector at Burwash, Farnborough, Battersea and Bolton and became the first Rector at Pallaskenry, Co. Limerick. He was well-connected by family links in Ireland, his brother being the lawyer attached to the Land Commission in the new Irish Government, 1919. He founded the Salesian University Hostel in Crumlin Dublin, where he died (obituary).

Dear Fr Macey,

I am replying to your letters of the 21st and the 29th July. You ask for a Polish cleric and a priest, and say the priest should be able to assume the office of Rector.

We have the best will in the world, but we can only deal seriously and decisively with such matters when you and the other Provincials let us have the list of your personnel drawn up in the way I indicated in my Circular on this point, and for this list give some thought to the advisability of putting an Italian or an English priest in charge of that house, providing they are able to acquire a smattering of Polish.

We shall write as you have suggested and invite Fr Campana to come and make his Retreat here. I hope we see him. (He arrived this morning. Deo gratias!).

I am also writing to dear Fr Austin, encouraging him to accept the sacrifice you speak of, for there is so much good at stake in such sacrifice. In the meantime you must pray for a change in the law on public instruction, which is so detrimental to us. I hope that if he gives this good example, Fr Sutherland will imitate him.

I am sorry you are not letting me have the man I asked for to go to Jamaica; In fact, not having seen him for some days now, I don't know how to explain his absence: if you can enlighten me I shall be grateful; why do you want to make him Parish Priest at Chertsey, since Fr Brownrigg is presumably still in residence? Perhaps the latter returned to be with his sickly father, in spite of the advice I gave to the contrary when I wrote to you? I await information about this.

Who are you thinking of appointing as Military Chaplain to replace the person who has recently withdrawn? As for Fr McClear, we shall be happy to see him if he is willing to come here. And we shall find an assignment for him.

About the Polish mission, perhaps you would have already received the names of those who have been appointed. In any case, I hope they will be at their post at the end of the present month or at the start of the next.

Dear Fr Rabagliati,

I received your welcome letter of the 27th September and I am saddened by what you have to say about the individual destined for the mission of Jamaica. Generosity is called for on your part; you should not be swayed by the fact that he can render service in your own province, since it was precisely because he is that kind of person that he was chosen for the mission where there is a notable absence of prudent and hardworking people. As your Provincial has already pointed out, it would be easy for him to be replaced in your Province, whereas we have no one else we can send out there where they desperately need someone. As for the possibility you allude to of his not hitting it off with the priest who is already there, I think he is virtuous and educated enough to get along in any house.

As for Fr MacClear if you cannot make use of him in the Province, by all means let him come out here; we shall do all we can to help him.

1. Fr Macey's request to step down and Don Rua's reply mark the problem of how to find a suitable successor which was to bedevil the development of the Province for many years to come. (See Dickson, op.cit., pp. 167-171). Who he proposed, we do not know.

2. Fr Muldoon took Fr Marsh's place as Rector of Farnborough (1906-1910).

3. Fr McAleer had been a military chaplain which brought in a not inconsiderable salary (£ 350 p.a.) to the financially struggling community at Farnborough. Paid RC Chaplains in the British Army, by a Decree of Propaganda in 1906, came under the spiritual jurisdiction of the Archbishop of Westminster.

4. The decision on whether to keep or sell the house at Farnborough depended on a cool, financial decision on the value of the property and the need to provide for the orphans. As usual Don Rua recommends the resource of Divine providence.

5. The two priests promised are Frs Bertoni and Bujara. (See the next letter).

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 27 October 1906

Dear Fr Macey,

I received your welcome letter of the 18th of the month and another, undated, which arrived later. You ask to be relieved of your present office; you have my sympathies and I am anxious to relieve you as much as I can. But it would be inappropriate to think of a change at this time, especially as you yourself acknowledge that there is no one to take over from you. The person you suggest is too timid, in my opinion, and would never do.

If you really cannot let Fr Marsh go, very well. Since you have already appointed someone else to take over his job, it does look, however as if he could be released more easily; but if this presents you with a problem I have no intention of asking a big sacrifice from you.

On the financial side. I think the Provincial under whose jurisdiction he would come, would be willing to reimburse you in some way. However, I hear that Fr. Marsh is now ill; if this is the case, then it would be unwise to send him.

Fr Mac Alear has not yet arrived. When he does arrive, I shall do everything possible to follow your advice.

I am sorry in a way that the post he held as Military Chaplain has been given to another, for this will mean the loss of income to the house. It would be good if you could find a way of avoiding this loss by appointing someone who will suffer no moral harm through association with soldiers, someone in fact who will do them good.

As for the suitability of keeping the house of Farnborough or disposing of it, the comment in our Chapter meeting was that if the price received is so considerable that the interest on it would be enough to maintain the orphans elsewhere, then you could sell it, but otherwise it would be inadvisable.

We are confident that providence will never fail us, As for the improvements that the Bishop wants made, perhaps you could make provision for these gradually. Take heart and let us place our trust in Mary, Help of Christians. I pray to her for you.

1. Francesco Bertoni: born at Varese, Como in 1877, he entered the Salesians at Foglizzo 1892-3, made final vows at Liege 1895, and was ordained there in 1899. He remained in Belgium till 1904 when he spent a year in Florence, then was at Alassio in 1906 from where he came to Burwash in 1907. He left Burwash without explanation in 1907 and was subsequently dismissed; but later, it is remarked that it was not known whether he entered a diocese, (ASC Registry).
2. Pietro Bujara: was born in Upper Silesia in 1878, entered at Ivrea in 1899, was professed at Folizzo in 1903, made his final vows that year, and was ordained in 1905. He came to London in 1907 and returned to Poland in 1913 at Przemsyl. He was at Oswiecim from 1917 to 1922, when he left the Salesians and entered the diocese of Katowice 1921. (ASC Registry).

Turin, 27 October 1906

Dear Father Macey,

With this letter come our two dear confreres Fr Bertoni and Fr Bujara, the latter for the Polish parish and the former for the novitiate and studentate.

See how much I love your Province in giving up my secretary for Polish letters so that I can send him to you, as I said, for the Polish parish.

Fr Bertoni can teach singing and other things in the studentate of philosophy at Burwash. Both of them are excellent confreres, full of good will. Both have passed their examination for hearing confessions. Fr Bujara can begin straight away in the sacred ministry, and Fr Bertoni can still wait a bit longer, because he is still quite young.

I know I am making you a fine present in the person of each of these confreres, and I am sure you will look after them well.

May the Lord bless you, all those who depend on you, and

Turin, 19 November 1906

Dear Fr Macey,

I am replying to your welcome letter of the 29th. I hope that the two helpers who left here on Sunday have arrived safely. All the same, I should like some news in their regard.

I await news about your new church, about the opening solemnities. I hope you will have a report sent on to me, for it would be good to publish it, especially in the Polish Bulletin. Fr Rab. (Rabagliati) sent me a few lines, but a fuller description would be needed. Fr MacAleer arrived safely this morning. After having tried him out here with us, I shall see whether it is worth the expense of sending him to the Venezuelan Province or not. For the time being we shall see if he can spend some time on the Bulletin, taking care, of course, in keeping with your wise advice, that he does not follow the example of others who have misused their knowledge of the addresses.

I find your observation very wise, about the need to let you have some Italian confreres over there: we shall do that as soon as possible. On the same lines, it would be good if you could send here or to Rome, some good clerics for the study of philosophy and theology. If you can spare one right now for the Bulletin, it would be good to let us have him, provided that he isn't the kind of person likely to misuse his knowledge of the addresses.

May the Lord shower you with his graces. In your prayers, remember the holy souls in purgatory, without forgetting

Dear Father Macey,

We were distressed to learn from your telegram and your letter of the 13th the news of the fire which has destroyed our schools. We await further news and, in the meantime, we ask the Lord to console you and provide the means to enable you to quickly repair the damage and not leave so many young people deprived for long of the benefit of our schools. It might be a good idea to prepare an article for the Bulletin to obtain help from generous souls; think about it. We do not know whether the schools concerned were insured against fire; if they were, little would be required by way of supplement. On our side we shall not fail to help you, but our small resources and the many needs and requests prevent us from providing the total that is needed. Have courage and put your trust in God; and may the Divine Child enable you to have a happy festal season, bringing you peace and every blessing.

1. Tozzi's concerns about what the coadjutor confreres who had left might have said about him are put to one side by Don Rua. It has to be said that Cape Town had more than its fair share of such 'defections'. In 1914 Fr Scaloni, in his Visitation Report wrote: "It is certain that this house finds itself in a very difficult situation. The virtue of the Rector is uncontested; but his health is deeply compromised. It seems that his back and more especially his heart are affected; moreover, it is a result of a nervous excitability which makes him suffer and at the same time alienates the hearts of the less virtuous confreres". (ASC F 419 Cape Town, Scaloni Visita 13 Fevrier 1914).

2. Regarding the defections of fully-qualified master-craftsmen, Fr Tozzi was clearly in a difficult situation in Cape Town where, when they left, they could earn a very substantial wage in an economy which lacked skilled craftsmen.

3. Cl. Schutte: Joseph Schutte was born in Dortmund in 1878, he entered Penango in 1901, made his triennial vows in 1904, renewed them in 1907 and made final vows the same year. He was ordained in Cape Town in 1912 and died at Essen in 1961, (ASC Registry).

Many thanks for your welcome letter of the 30th January. I have no idea what those who left you said to others: to me they said very little. In any case, we are all well aware that these kind of people don't ordinarily admit to being in the wrong and so they usually cast the blame on others. However, superiors are accustomed to weighing up situations. The thing that grieved me was how easily at such a distance, they sought to get away, despite all the problems of finding replacements. Certainly our coadjutor confreres need a lot of care and more particularly our master-craftsmen. You should see that they put into practice to the best of their ability the Chapter of the Regulations addressed "To Our Coadjutors" which can be found on page 36 and also the following one on piety. I hope in the future you will not have to bewail about frequent defections. Mind you, I am convinced that you did all you could in the past both for the clerics and the coadjutors.

By now you will have heard about the fire which broke out in our school in London. The Provincial wrote to me saying that, as a result, he will have to defer his promised visit to you.

As for the cleric Schutte: I see that he finishes his triennial vows next October. If you judge him worthy, have him admitted in time to perpetual profession. In view of his age, I have no difficulty in admitting him to the study of theology. I am very pleased you are representing our school before the government. May the Lord bless you all and with you

Circular letter regarding the Catholic readings (Letture Cattoliche)

Carissimo Direttore di London (Battersea)¹,

Dall'esame del Catalogo degli abbonati alle Letture Cattoliche di Torino rilevo che in cotesta casa non si chiese l'abbonamento per questa 1^a pubblicazione periodica di D. Bosco, la quale stava tanto a cuore al nostro caro Padre.

Io non voglio ora imporre nessun obbligo, ma mi permetto esprimere il mio desiderio, il quale si è che nessuna casa Salesiana sia priva di almeno una copia di tale pubblicazione. Meglio poi sarebbe se si potesse procurare più abbonamenti, per esempio una ventina od almeno una dozzina anche fra gli allievi e persone esterne.

È vero che costà non si parla Italiano: ma (prescindendo, che sempre vi è qualche emigrato cui si potrebbero regalare, o si potrebbe far associare) con tali letture | si può dare ai nostri confratelli non italiani un mezzo di esercitarsi in questa lingua, secondo i desideri di D. Bosco. Riguardo poi al pagare le quote, si potrebbe versare all'Ispezzore, il quale a sua volta trasmetterebbe quà all'ufficio centrale.

Sicuro che prenderai in considerazione questa mia, ti auguro dal Signore le più elette benedizioni su di te e sulle opere da te dirette. E tu, non tralasciando di dare una risposta a questa mia, continua ad avermi

To the Rector of Battersea

Turin, March 1907

Dear Fr Rector (Battersea, London),

Looking through the register of subscribers to the "Letture Cattoliche di Torino" I noticed that your house had not sent in an order for this first publication of D. Bosco, which meant so much to our dear Father.

I do not wish to impose any obligation; but let me express my desire, which is that no Salesian House be deprived of at least one copy of that publication. It would be better if about twenty or at least a dozen more subscriptions could be obtained from among the pupils and externs.

It is true that over there they do not speak Italian; but besides the fact that there are always some immigrants to whom it could be gifted or who could be made to subscribe, the 'Readings' would offer our non-Italian confreres an opportunity for practising this language, according to the wishes of Don Bosco. Payment could be made to the Provincial who in turn would pass on the money to the central office.

Confident that you will give due consideration to this letter of mine, I wish the Lord's choicest blessings on you and everything you do. Please do not fail to send me a reply to this note of mine, and continue to remember me as

Carissimo D. Rabagliati,

Ho ricevuto la gradita tua del 27 Febbraio colla sterlina che vi era unita¹ tante grazie. Ho pur ricevuto la traduzione delle Costituzioni. Siccome mi dici che è ancora la medesima che era stata corretta da D. Bonavia, temo non corrispondano al bisogno 5 attuale essendosi ora aggiunti gli articoli organici². 1. Fr Rabagliati was probably sending the subscriptions for admission to one of the Salesian Associations elsewhere referred to.

2. A new Translation of the Constitutions was made necessary by the pioneering work of the Tenth General Chapter of 1904 which added 110 'pertinent Articles' to the Rule of 1874 and drafted the Regulations besides. These received Rome's approval in 1905 and were published in 1906. Obviously the text translated by Fr Bonavia was now outmoded because of the amount of new material and separation of the Constitutions (Don Rua's Organic Articles) from the Regulations. See M. Wirth: Don Bosco and the Salesians, pp. 288-289 (Don Bosco Publications, New Rochelle, New York 1982).

3. Storace was a Neapolitan visitor, son of a Benefactor staying in London. See previous letter.

My dear Fr Rabagliati,

I received your welcome letter of the 27th February together with the one pound sterling you enclosed; many thanks. I also received your translation of the Constitutions. Since you tell me it is still the version that was corrected by Fr Bonavia, I'm afraid it will not be in keeping with our current needs, now that we have added the Organic Articles. However, don't worry for the moment; I shall get someone to go over them and if they are all right I shall be only too pleased to grant approval. In the meantime I have nothing but praise for the promptness you show in providing this rich heritage for all the English-speaking confreres.

Forge ahead with courage in the Lord, doing all the good you can in spite of the difficulties and opposition you encounter: at the end of the day they will only serve to increase our merits.

Thank you for the news about young Storace and our young tailor: I hope both will prove successful. It would be wise to get the former to write to his father with news, especially if he has not yet done so. I was sorry I was away from Turin when he passed through: give him my greetings. - Believe me I am always

Carissimo D. Macey,

Di questi giorni ho ripassato i rendiconti delle tue visite ispettoriali dell'anno 1905-6; ed ora ti fo alcune osservazioni persuaso di farti piacere¹:

1° le trovai un po' troppo laconiche e mi parvero redatte alla svelta forse tutte contemporaneamente e non subito dopo la visita mentre è più fresca la memoria di ciò che si è visto e udito; 5

2° parmi opportuno generalizzare in po' di più lo studio del latino, in guisa che possibilmente in ogni casa vi sia qualche d'uno che vi attenda, specie qualche figlio di Maria² che contemporaneamente si occupi in qualche lavoro della casa o della chiesa; 10

3° vedo che a varie case manca la cronaca; converrà incaricare il Direttore a redigerla anche | per gli anni passati fin dalla fondazione di ciascuna casa, nel ché potrai aiutarli efficacemente tu, che tutto conosci; f/v

4° non ho trovato nessuna menzione della casa e parrocchia di Chertsey.

Dear Fr Macey,

In these last few days I have been going over the Reports of your Provincial Visits for the year 1905-1906; and I offer you a few comments which I know will please you:

1° I found them rather short, and they gave me the impression of having been written up hurriedly and at the same time rather than immediately after your visits while the things you had seen and heard were still fresh in your mind;

2° I think the moment is right for extending the study of Latin so that if possible every house will have some students of the subject, particularly some Sons of Mary who may be engaged at the same time in some work in the house or in the Church;

3° I see that several of the houses keep no chronicle; you should lay this duty on the Rector, to write it up even for the years gone by, right back to the foundation of each house; with which you could help them effectively, as you know the full story.

May St. Joseph help us to cope with the enormous expenses involved, be it for your Province as for so many other reasons. Pray and get others to pray to him for this intention, without forgetting to recommend even

A few weeks ago I received a letter in German with an accompanying sheet which I now attach. I am sending it to you to find out if leaflets like this originate in your community as I fear that someone may be making use of D. Bosco's name to procure their own advantage. If, indeed, they are sent out with your consent, I would like to know to whom you send them, since it would not be appropriate to send them to the Salesian Co-operators who receive the Bulletin from us. A letter mostly concerned with the repayments made to the Oratory from Cape Town.

Mio caro D. E. M. Tozzi - Cape Town,

Rispondo alla gradita tua del 6-8, in cui mi informi della visita dell'Ispettore a cotesta Casa, e del bene che esso apportò consolando, confortando ed aiutando a seconda del bisogno. Sono molto contento dell'esito di tale visita, e vi scongiuro tutti a voler trarne profitto, facendo tesoro degli avvisi, dei consigli ed ammonimenti ispettoriali¹. 5

Quanto poi al debito coll'Oratorio, da riscontri minuziosi fatti risulta quanto segue:

- Il debito della Casa di Capetown verso l'Oratorio era di L. 11264,57 nel 1° Dicembre 1905: scese nel 1° Settembre 1906 a L. 1189,65, e si è ridotto nel 31 Maggio 1907 a L. 1152,30². 10

Il Cap. Sup. ha fatto a conto di cotesta Casa i seguenti pagamenti:

Nel 14 Novembre 1905	L. 250
" 15 Maggio 1906	" 5000	15
" 18 " "	" 5000
" 19 " " a ? D. Bertello	" 251,50
" 30 Novembre "	" 147
	Totale L. 10648,50

f1v Ora questi pagamenti - e bene notarlo - sono stati tutti portati in conto dell'Oratorio, come deduzione del debito. 20

Quindi si avrebbe: L. 11264,57 - L. 10648,50 = L. 616,07.

Le Messe che l'Oratorio ha ricevuto da cotesta Casa, e che le ha assegnato a credito sono le seguenti:

Nell'anno 1904 - N° 42 25

" " 1906 - " 147 che sono state pagate dal Capitolo Superiore il 30-11-06. Nell'anno 1907 - Messe di Sett.bre, Dicembre 1906 e Gennaio 1907 N° 113 [;]

(1) Già conteggiate a credito, come sopra, e quindi da non considerarsi l'operazione indicata dal tratto di linea.

Degli aumenti che riceve il conto potrai aver ragione delle ordinazioni fatte e delle relative fatture. 30

f2r Il Cap. Sup. dichiara di non aver registrata nessuna Messa celebrata a favore del medesimo, che anzi si aspetta il certificato delle 25 Messe che tu avevi promesso per la Biografia del nostro V. P. Don Bosco e che ti fu richiesto con lettera del Sig. D. Rinaldi in data 16 Agosto 1906. Anzi in quella lettera ti si dichiarava che le L. 10.000 pagate all'Oratorio non erano un'offerta ricevuta da una Signora, ma un sussidio del Cap. Sup. per cotesta Casa. Il Cap. Sup. non aveva ricevuto che L. 170 da un certo Isormi. 40

Questo è quanto risulta, come ti dissi, dai registri del Cap. Sup. e da quelli della Prefettura dell'Oratorio. Quindi bisogna supporre, o che siavi stato smarrimento di lettere, o siano avvenuti degli sbagli. Osserva bene attentamente, e riferisci, affinché si possa scoprire l'errore.

Ed ora che, solo per amor di precisione, ti feci redigere questo stato di cose finanziarie nei riguardi di cotesta Casa coll'Oratorio, mi piace concludere questa 45 mia, augurando a te ed ai cari confratelli di riportare il più grande vantaggio possibile dalla visita dell'Ispettore conservandone a lungo nel vostro cuore i salutarî ricordi.

Vi benedico tutti, e vi prego da Dio ogni | bene.

P. S. Oh quanto sarei contento se voi, nei limiti del possibile, vi occupaste dei poveri neri che mi dici quasi abbandonati: o almeno vi adoperaste che dei volenterosi e generosi si occupassero di cotesti infelici³!

1. This was the first Provincial visitation carried out it seems by Fr Macey which Fr Tozzi had been complaining about since he took over. Don Rua makes the point that he should listen to the advice that he is offered.

2. There is no doubting that Fr Tozzi had an amazing capacity to get support and raise money and here he reduced the debt very considerably in three years after the end of the Boer War. However there is clearly some disagreement about the detail.

3. Perhaps the most significant line in the correspondence with Fr Tozzi which treats of the situation of the 'poor blacks', whose needs were not really addressed by the Salesians till much later.

To Fr Enea Tozzi

Turin, September 1907

My dear Fr. E.M. Tozzi - Cape Town,

I write in answer to your welcome letter of 6th-8th in which you inform me of the Provincial's visit to your community and of the good that it brought, strengthening and helping according to need. I am pleased with the outcome of the visit and I urge everyone to benefit from it by treasuring the Provincial's suggestions, advice and corrections.

Regarding the debt to the Oratory: from the detailed check that was made, the following seems to be the case:

- On 1st December 1905 Cape Town's debt to the Oratory was 11264.57 Italian lire; it fell to 1189.65 lire on 1st September 1906; and on 31st May 1907 it was reduced to 1152.30 lire.

The Superior Chapter has credited the following payments to your house:

In 14 th November 1905	250	lire
" 15 th May 1906	5000	lire
" 18 th May 1906	5000	lire
" 19 th May 1906 by means of Fr. Bertello	251.50	lire
" 30 th November 1906	147	lire
Total	10648.50	lire

Now, these payments, it should be noted, were all paid into the Oratory's account and deducted from your debt.

It works out, therefore, as 11264.57 lire - 10648.50 lire = 616.07 lire.

The Masses received at the Oratory from your house and which were credited to your account are the following:

In 1904 - N° 42

“ 1906 - “ 147 which were paid by the Superior Chapter on 30th November 1906. For 1907 - Masses for September, December 1906 and January 1907: 113 [.]

(1) These have already been credited, as above, and are not therefore to be considered as the operation shown by the line.

Considering the increase in the account, you may be right about the orders you made and the relative bills.

Check your own ledgers and if there are discrepancies, let the Oratory know.

The Superior Chapter says that no Mass celebrated on its behalf has been registered and in fact, it is waiting for the certificate of the 25 Masses you had promised for the biography of | our Venerated Father Don Bosco which Fr. Rinaldi requested in writing on 16th August 1906. In fact, in that letter, it was stated that the 10,000 lire paid to the Oratory were not an offering received from a benefactress, but a subsidy from the Superior Chapter for your house. The Superior Chapter had only received 170 lire from somebody called Isormi.

As I said, this is what emerges from the ledgers of the Superior Chapter and those of the Prefect's Office at the Oratory. We can only suppose, then, that either letters have gone astray or some mistakes have been made. Check things over carefully and let us know, so that the mistake may be discovered.

And now - that just for the sake of precision - I made you draw up this financial statement, I am pleased to end this letter by wishing you and our dear confreres to draw the greatest possible benefit from the Provincial's visit, preserving his beneficial recommendations in your hearts for a long time.

I bless you all, and I implore all good things for you | from God,

Yours aff.ly in J. and M.
Fr. Michael Rua

P.S. Oh, how happy I should be if, within the limits of whatever is possible, you would take care of the poor black people whom you tell me are almost abandoned, or at least you would see to it that generous and willing persons would concern themselves with those unfortunate people!

A letter concerned with a request to allow preachers to be sent to solicit funds abroad

Torino, novembre 1907

Carissimo D. Tozzi,

Ricevei la gradita tua del 23 ottobre. Ti ringrazio delle messe che ci hai mandate lasciandoci la limosina per compenso della vita del N. Ven. Padre¹.

Quanto alla dimanda che ci fai e che pure ci venne già fatta dal prefetto della Casa di Londra ne parlai in Capitolo e trovai il parere contrario sia perché le persone suggerite non paiono guari adatte a tal uopo; sia ancora perché l'esempio del passato ci ha fatto conoscere quanto sia pericolosa alla vocazione una vita randagia di alcuni mesi, sia pure con ottimo fine anche prescindendo da | altri pericoli a cui potrebbero andare incontro i questuanti. Meglio sarà cercar modo di ottenere soccorsi per mezzo di lettere e di lotterie o fiere di beneficenza ecc.²

Spero che colle buone disposizioni che ci si manifestano in codeste parti potrai iniziare (se non subito, almeno un po' più tardi quando sia passata la crisi attuale) i lavori, ben inteso rimandati³ prima del debito permesso dopo averci mandato il disegno della fabbrica da erigersi colla preventiva spesa ed averne assunta da noi l'approvazione.

Fa pena l'incostanza di cotesti capi d'arte: studiate il modo di renderli perseveranti⁴.

1. This is probably the biography of Don Bosco by Giovanni Bonetti called: Cinque Lustri originally serialised in the Bolletino Salesiano and then published in Turin and later translated into English as the Early Aposolate.

2. Fr Tozzi was probably suggesting sending Salesian priests abroad to solicit funds which did not meet with central approval.

3. Central approval of building plans was required and here the Institute building is the one under discussion.

4. Fr Rua had difficulty finding Master craftsmen to go to South Africa and Fr Tozzi had difficulty keeping them.

To Fr Enea Tozzi

Turin, November 1907

Dear Fr. Tozzi,

I have received your welcome letter of 23rd October. Thank you for the Masses you sent leaving us the offering in compensation for the biography of our Venerable Father.

I spoke to the Chapter about your query which had already been posed by the Prefect of the London house. They were not in favour both because the persons you suggest do not seem very suited to the task and also because past experience has made us aware of how dangerous a few months travelling around might be to a vocation notwithstanding its praiseworthy purpose and leaving aside | [f. lv] other dangers that those collecting funds might encounter. It will be better to find a way of obtaining help by means of letters, lotteries or bazaars and so on.

I am sorry I cannot give you a different answer but that's the way it is.

I hope that with the good dispositions in your part of the world, you will be able to commence the works that were understandably postponed before receiving the due permission. You may not be able to do this immediately but at least a little later when the present crisis is past, and once you have sent us the design of the proposed building with an estimate of the cost and have received our approval.

The inconstancy of those master craftsmen is disappointing - find a way to encourage their perseverance.

I shall pray for this intention.

I have now come to know (this is in confidence) that Sante Marcoaldi is also trying for a transfer. I am telling you this so that you may prudently try to find a way to reconfirm him in the good dispositions he had when we sent him out there.

Try to do the same with the lay brothers that are still there. Examine carefully the reasons for their aversion and do your best to remedy it. We have their perseverance and the smooth running of that house very much at heart.

3rd of the this month. When you see this lady, please convey my sincere thanks assuring her that at the Mass we are uniting our humble prayers for her intention.

Turning to other matters, I should like you to tell Fr Provincial in confidence that Fr Campana has gone without saying where he was going; but from what we hear from others, we guess it is likely he will turn up in that city. If you come across him do all you can and kindly to bring him back to his senses lest he go astray. I warmly commend him to you. If you can find out where he lives, let us have his address.

I have been told your Archbishop would like to have a Salesian house in his but if he speaks to you on the subject encourage him to prepare a place for us against the day when it will be possible. In the meantime pray with all your heart that the

Carissimo D. Tozzi,

Ricevo qui la tua cariss.ma del 12 scorso, e ti ringrazio delle notizie che mi dai e dell'opera nostra costì e dell'andamento politico di cotesto paese¹, e faccio voti che tutto succeda per la maggior gloria del Signore. Sono anche lieto che, superate le difficoltà, ti sia dato di presentarmi i piani del locale che si vorrebbe costruire col preventivo della spesa; come pure godo che tu abbia già potuto radunare parte del materiale che occorre.

f1v Posto che le lotterie costì non siano | permesse, non mi oppongo a che tu organizzi uno dei così detti Bazaar, rimettendo alla tua prudenza il tempo ed il modo con cui organizzarlo. Così ti concedo, però non senza mia trepidazione, che si visitino da te o da chi credi dei confratelli le principali città del Sud-Africa, allo scopo di organizzare i Cooperatori e collettare pel futuro Istituto; purché però non si stia troppo tempo fuori di casa, e si cerchi ovunque di attenersi per quanto si può alla vita ed alle pratiche di pietà Salesiane. Invece non sono proprio del parere che si vada elemosinando fino in Germania o nelle Americhe, tanto temo per lo spirituale e per la stessa vocazione dei | confratelli collettori. Potrai metterti in relazione con queste f2r medesime regioni col mezzo di lettere circolari, che già ti consigliai in altra mia, e che tu stesso trovi utili².

f2v In questi giorni non mancherò di fare qualche memento speciale per il maggior incremento | di coteste case e per ottenere a te ed ai cari confratelli abbondanza di benedizioni celesti.

Prega anche tu e fa pregare pel buon proseguimento del mio viaggio, mentre di cuore vi benedico tutti

1. Though the Boer War had ended with the Peace of Vereeniging in 1902, the Boer Republics were promised self-government which was granted by the Liberal Government in 1907. Hence the reference to the improved political situation in 1908. This process of reconciliation reached a high point in 1910 with the Union of South Africa, but as well as uniting systems of law and commerce all the different parts adopted the discriminatory race legislation which excluded blacks and coloured people from the vote.

2. In South Africa the influenc of the Reformed Church forbade 'gambling' so lotteries were illegal hence the idea of a Bazaar which was another way of raising money. As before Don Rua did not approve of wandering Salesians gathering money.

3. Fr Rua had real concerns that Fr Tozzi's health might be undermined by the strain he put on himself.

To Fr Enea Tozzi[Turin], 26th March 1908

Dear Fr. Tozzi,

Your letter of 12th reached me here. Thank you for the news you give me of our work there and the political situation of the country; I pray that everything may turn out for the glory of the Lord. I am also pleased that once the difficulties are overcome, you will be able to present me with the plans of the building you would like to construct together with an estimate of the cost and I am also glad that you have been able to collect part of the necessary materials.

Given that lotteries are not [f. 1v] allowed there, I am not against you organising one of the so-called bazaars, trusting to your judgement the time and manner of organising it. Not without some trepidation, I am also allowing you or the confreres you consider fit for it, to visit the main towns in South Africa in order to organise the Co-operators and to gather funds for the future Institute, provided you do not stay too long outside the community and strive everywhere to keep to the Salesian way of life and the practices of piety. On the other hand, I really do not agree with you going begging as far away as Germany or America as I am very fearful for the spirituality and even the very vocation of the confreres doing the fund-raising. You can get in contact with these regions by means of circulars as I suggested in another letter and which you yourself find useful.

I strongly recommend you to take care of your health and take whatever you find helpful. Above all, only work as much as your frail energies allow, putting off to another day what you can or getting one or other of the confreres to help. In this way you can go ahead without thinking of handing over your responsibility to others.

I shall not fail in these days to offer a special prayer for the greater increase [f. 2v] of the houses there and to obtain for you and our dear confreres an abundance of heavenly blessings.

I also beg you to pray and ask others to pray for the safe continuation of my journey, while from my heart I bless you all.

Avrai a quest'ora saputo la disgrazia che incolse ai giovani Weglia², che perdettero i loro parenti avvelenati dai funghi. In questa loro dolorosa situazione fui pregato di pensar per loro, e quindi li raccomando caldamente a te, affinché voglia continuare a tenerli in Casa e a pensare per un tutore, combinando la cosa colle autorità. 5

My dear Fr John Cerutti - Cape of Good Hope,

I am sure you must know by now of the accident which has overtaken the young Weglia brothers; they have lost both their parents through mushroom poisoning. I have been asked to look after them in their sad plight, and so I warmly commend them to your care, asking you to give them boarding and to find guardians for them, in agreement with the authorities.

Treating this as a blossoming of charity, I hope you will do everything you can to succeed in the holy and generous commitment to make provision for these orphans.

My dear Fr Macey,

In due course I received your welcome letter of the 24th July just past and I thank you for the news. I have taken note of what you say about changing Fr Hawarden. About the other matter you refer to me, I have advised at our Chapter meeting that none of the Superiors are to give letters of recommendation or presentation to all and sundry who come asking to spend some time in your Province.

As soon as I see Fr Tomatis I shall have a word with him and suggest that if possible he should give up the idea of going to London.

I give you my heartfelt greetings and implore the blessing of Mary, Help of Christians and of our venerable Don Bosco on your house and on all the Province. Pray for

I think he had a letter of presentation from one of your Superiors*. He was short of money so we provided him with 16.50 lire to enable him to continue his journey home. If this individual has an account with you then you can debit this sum to him, and credit the same to the Superior Chapter.

Letter about personnel for Malta

Caro D. Macey,

Nella Convenzione fatta col Governo Inglese¹ per la fondazione della casa di Malta c'è un Articolo a norma del quale ci siamo obbligati a fornire, dopo 3 anni, una metà del personale inglese.

Osservando il personale di quella casa, rilevo che di nazionalità inglese c'è solo il Direttore e, se non erro, il Ch.o Smyth². Mancherebbero dunque ancora due a completare il personale inglese che dovrebbe essere di quattro inglesi. Qui non sapremmo come fare a trovar questi due individui, perciò ci raccomandiamo a te. Vedi un poco di trovarli per il pross. Ottobre, tempo in cui comincia ad obbligarci l'Articolo della f/v Convenzione col Governo.

Qui ti unisco un biglietto di risposta alla lettera del Ch.o Goonan³, che farai il piacere di rimmettergli.

1. The Convention with the colonial government of Malta for St Patrick's School involved the stipulation that half the personnel should be of "British nationality". For this reason, Malta became part of the English Province till 1978.

2. Hugh William Smyth: was born in Kilcar, Co. Donegal in 1885, he entered at Battersea in 1899, made his novitiate in 1903 and his first vows in 1904. He was at St George's Home in 1905, then in Malta in 1907. He was described as 'Ascritto' or novice in Malta in 1908, but they were renewed in November 1908. He returned to Battersea in 1909, then to Farnborough in 1910, but left in 1911, (ASC Registry).

3. Thomas Goonan: was born in Sheffield in 1886, entered at Battersea in 1903, made his novitiate at Burwash in 1905 and first profession in 1907, renewed his vows in 1910 in Farnborough. In 1911 he was at East Hill, Wandsworth, as a coadjutor; in 1914 he remained, but without vows and left later that year, (ASC Registry).

Dear Fr Macey,

In the contract made with the British Government for the founding of our house in Malta, there is an article which obliges us, after three years, to ensure that half the personnel are British.

I have been looking at the personnel who are there now, and unless I am mistaken, only the Rector and the cleric Smyth are of British nationality, hence, we would still be short of two confreres to make up the required complement of four British subjects. There is nowhere we could find two such people over here, and so commend this matter to you. Do what you can to make provision by next October when the article in the contract comes into force.

You will need at least one priest and one cleric, or one priest and a coadjutor brother. I hope you can find them without too much trouble.

I enclose a short reply to a letter received from the cleric Goonan; kindly pass it on to him.

Accept my kind regards and remember in your prayers

Londra, 15 agosto 1908

Amatissimo Superiore,

Già varie volte mi ha manifestato Don Solarz² che vorrebbe essere cambiato di casa perché l'aria di Londra non gli fa bene e poi anche il genere di lavoro alla missione non gli va a genio. Don Solarz è molto buono, ma ama la solitudine e la quiete, e non ostante gli sforzi fatti non può adattarsi alla vita di questa | missione che consiste in un continuo visitare i parrocchiani, gli amalati negli ospedali, catechizzare, insomma cercare tutti i mezzi per conservare la fede nei cattolici e a sua volta, aiutare ai protestanti alla conversione. A me pare, che il motivo principale per cui Don Solarz non si sente portato a questo lavoro sia la mancanza di salute. Ad ogni modo, se crede bene, amatissimo padre, di cambiarlo la pregherei perciò di mandarmi a suo posto Don Alessandro Kotula | di Verona, che sarebbe, a quanto mi pare, adattissimo per questa missione. Mi perdoni, amatissimo Superiore, se mi permetto far questa scelta, ma l'assicuro che lo faccio solo per bene della missione e della Congregazione.

La missione fin ora è in un andamento più che soddisfacente; il numero dei parrocchiani aumenta sempre più, così pure la frequenza ai sacramenti non lascia nulla a desiderare. Giorni sono una buona Signora polacca ci ha offerto una casa nella quale intendo fare le scuole ai | polacchi. Probabilmente aprirò anche un asilo per i polacchi, se il buon Dio vorrà ispirare qualcuno ad aiutarmi coi mezzi pecuniarii. - Presentemente stiamo preparando una grande solennità per la benedizione di una immagine di M. SS. per l'altare maggiore per la quale speriamo d'avere l'arcivescovo di Londra. Ecco, amatissimo padre, quel che facciamo e che intendiamo fare in questa missione. - Quanto a me l'assicuro che faccio tutto il possibile per esser sempre degno figlio di D. Bosco. 3. Don Bujara's letter emphasises Fr Solarz's lack of health, but also makes a favourable report on the Polish Mission which was not altogether substantiated during Fr Virion's visitation. He wrote that 'the Director Fr Bujara, was in Poland during the visitation for about two months. Don Solarz is pious and good but his piety seems a bit exaggerated, and it seems he does not get on well with the Director. The life of these confreres is very sad and boring. All week they have nothing to do. They can't (it seems) visit their parishioners because they work all week till 9 o'clock at night ... the poverty of the area surpasses anything that can be seen in other cities and our confreres have no means of relieving the poor', (ASC E 989 Inghilterra-Visite straordinarie, D. Very Rev. and dear Fr Superior,

On a number of occasions in the past Fr Solarz has told me he would like a change of house as the London air does not agree with him and, then also, the kind of work we do in the mission is not to his liking. Fr Solarz is very good, but he loves solitude and silence. In spite of much effort he is unable to adapt to the life of our mission which is one continual round of visiting the parishioners, the sick in hospital, catechising: in short, looking for means of helping Catholics to keep the faith and in turn, helping the protestants to conversion. To me, it seems, the main reason why Fr Solarz doesn't like doing this work would be the lack of health. Whatever the reason, should you choose to move him, dear Father please let me have Fr Alexander Kotula of Verona as a replacement, for it seems to me he would be excellent for this mission. Forgive me, dear Father, for daring to make this request; I assure you I do it only for the good of the mission and of the Congregation.

Up to now, the mission has gone on more than satisfactorily; the number of parishioners keeps on growing, and likewise, the reception of the Sacraments leaves nothing to be desired. A few days ago a Polish lady offered us a house where I hope to run a school for Polish children. I shall probably open a hostel, too, for Polish people if the good Lord inspires others to help us out financially. We are preparing for a big celebration at present to mark the blessing of a picture of our Blessed Lady for the High Altar: we hope to have the Archbishop of London for the occasion. So, Father, there you have some idea of what we are doing and of what we hope to do in this mission. As for myself, I can assure you that I am doing all I can to be a worthy son of Don Bosco. With much affection and gratitude,

Your obedient son in C.J.

2. Eucharistic Congress in 1908, organised by Cardinal Francis Bourne and attended by Cardinal Vanutelli as Papal Legate, provoked a great deal of popular prejudice which prevented the highlight of these splendid celebrations, namely, the open-air procession through the streets of Westminster. The weakness of the Liberal Government in the face of gross religious prejudice and Bourne's highly dignified and responsible attitude won him a good deal of press praise and made Catholicism look like the victim of ignorant and illiberal prejudice, which it was. Dear Fr Macey,

I have gone over your Reports carefully and find them fairly fine. Here are some comments. Apart from their brevity:

1. The report on Chertsey is missing.
2. Do what you can to get that woman away from the Polish mission, and give the Rector of that house every encouragement to introduce the practices of piety in common. You would do well to visit the house more frequently, now that the new assistant has arrived there.
3. Isn't there scope for encouraging vocations there as well as at St. Mary Magdalen's? Together with the Rectors in question, look into the matter.
4. You should also look into the question of getting the Rectors to pay not only their quota for the novitiate and the house of studies but also to contribute to the Provincial for his expenses and those of the Province.

The plans had been printed in August 1908, but obviously Fr Macey was not keen to get involved. Don Rua here clearly does not allow Fr Tozzi's personal relationship to get in the way of the proper process. (see J. Kilcullen: 'Salesian Institute, the Beginnings', Cape Town 1997)

2. What Fr Macey wrote to the Sisters' Superior is not known, but we can surmise that it recorded the new canonical position of the Sisters.

3. One of the most touching aspects of Don Rua's letters, where he deals with a question about one of the pupils who presumably wants to become a Salesian. If his only crime is to have been late returning a bicycle then he can continue. Don Rua shows a characteristic Salesian 'wait and see' policy with youngsters.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 15 October 1908

Dear Fr Macey,

I received your welcome letter of the 8th of this month together with the project relating to the Cape of Good Hope. To our amazement, we have not seen your opinion about the project; this leads us to believe that you are not in favour of it and so we are writing to suggest, for now, the suspension of the work especially in view of the heavy expenses that would be incurred.

Thank you for the news about the Sisters: it is well we let the Superior know of them, and I shall see to it, so that she can personally or through someone apprise those concerned.

If the young lad who spent a few days in prison when he was 12, has nothing more to his discredit than his delay in returning the bicycle, we think he may go forward. However, it would be well to keep him under observation.

We are coming up to the feast of All Saints. Let us commend ourselves to their assistance for our sanctification and that of our dependants; and let us try to imitate their example of love of God and of self-denial.

Greetings to all from

Try and cheer him up by choosing one of your confreres for him, someone who is willing and zealous, endowed with such apostolic spirit as would augur well for his success. This is one of the best things you could do. Father wrote to me some time ago, begging me to let him have such help quickly, and assuring me he would generously reimburse all travelling expenses. Carissimo D. Macey, Rispondo alle gradite tue del 13 e 14 corrente. Mi rincresce che il povero Barry¹ non abbia aspettato la mia risposta: preghiamo per lui affinché possa mettere la sua coscienza in regola. Ti ringrazio del tuo giudizio riguardo a D. O'Leary²; 5 spero gli avrai fatto una qualche risposta da parte mia. L'idea delle Isole Malvine non mi dispiacerebbe; senonché anche là dovrebbe trovarsi sovente solo, dovendo il compagno assentarsi per intere settimane a fine di andare alla visita delle famiglie cattoliche disperse nelle varie isole. Pensa se questo sia compatibile colle sue inclinazioni. - Quanto all'Isola Giamaica ricevetti lettera da quell'Ispettore in cui mi diceva che sarebbe fra breve partito per colà con uno dei suoi preti per lasciarvelo. E 10

f1v questa | lettera mi giunse dopo che io ti avevo fatto dimanda di un prete per quella destinazione. Tuttavia farai benissimo mandando D. De Bar[r]y³, giacché so che quell'Ispettore ha estremo bisogno di personale; converrà pertanto mandare il tuo buon prete a Caracas, anziché direttamente a quella destinazione così quell'Ispettore 15
vedrà come utilizzarlo.

Ho parlato in Capitolo riguardo al Chierico Walsch ma non si poté sormontare le difficoltà che ancora vi sono riguardo alle sue Ordinazioni; tuttavia spero che al più tardi per Settembre vi potrà essere ammesso. Quanto al Ch. Smyth⁴, se hai speranza che venendo qua possa ricavare vantaggio per l'anima sua potrai mandarcelo 20
f2r con un biglietto di accompagnamento. Quanto ai preti e chierici Irlandesi⁵ se ne hai d'avanzo, mi faresti piacere se mi | mandassi una nota di quelli di cui credi di poter fare a meno. Chissà che per le prossime vacanze si possa utilizzarli nelle varie case in cui si desidera qualche insegnante della vostra lingua. Quanto al Vescovo di Kymberley⁶ che desidera averci nella sua Missione per la fondazione di un collegio per la 25
classe un po' più elevata, ne parlai in Capitolo; ma purtroppo malgrado la buona volontà non si trova modo di poterlo contentare almeno per alcuni anni. Forse ti sarà fatta una risposta ufficiale dal Sig. D. Piscetta⁷ in proposito; ma se vi è urgenza, potrai servirti di questa mia informazione. Spero che D. Tozzi venendo costà non mancherà di far pure una visita | a noi: quanto sarei contento se potessimo soddisfare il 30 f2v suo desiderio e bisogno di fabbricare! chi sa che parlandoci non si possa combinare qualche cosa⁸?

4. Ch. Smyth (see above, Letter 203). It has to be said that the traditional way of trying to help a doubtful confrere was to send them to Turin.
5. This reference to the Irish suggests that Fr Macey had suggested he had a surplus of Irish priests and clerics which may well reflect the national antagonism between English and Irish already noted by Fr Virion several times in his Visitation Report.

He joined the Superior Council in 1907 and served on it till his death in 1925, (Dizionario Biografico Salesiano).

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 18 April 1909

Dear Fr Macey,

I am replying to your welcome letter of the 13th and 14th of the present month. I am sorry poor Barry didn't wait for my reply: we must pray that he will put his conscience in order. Thank you for your views on O'Leary; I hope you made some reply on my behalf. The idea of his going to the Falklands would not displease me; even there, however, he would often be alone, as his companion has to be absent for weeks on end visiting the Catholic families scattered over the various islands. Think about whether this would be compatible with his temperament. As for the island of Jamaica, I had a letter from the Provincial telling me he will soon be going there with one of his priests and that the latter will remain behind afterwards. His letter reached me after I had written to you asking for a priest for that destination. All the same, it would be fine if you send Fr de Bary for I know that the poor Provincial there is desperately in need of personnel. The best thing to do would be to send your good priest to Caracas, rather than directly to his destination, so that the Provincial would see how best to use him.

In our Chapter meeting we spoke about the cleric Walsh but we could not surmount the difficulties still in the way of his ordination; however, by September, at the latest, I hope he can be admitted. If you think the cleric Smyth will derive any good from coming out here give him a letter of presentation and send him. As for the Irish priests and clerics, if their numbers are in excess of your own needs, I should be very pleased if you let me have a list of those whom you can spare. Who knows, we might be able to use them in the coming summer in the various houses where teachers of your language are needed. As for the Bishop of Kimberly who would like to have us in his mission to open a boarding for the upper-classes, I spoke about this in Chapter, but alas, with the best of good will, we cannot find a way to satisfy him for some years. You may receive an official reply from Fr Piscetta. But if the matter is urgent you may use this advance notification from me. When Fr Tozzi is visiting England I hope he will not miss out visiting us: I should be very happy if I were able to satisfy his desire and his need to build! Who knows! If we were able to talk things over together we might be able to work out something.

May the Risen Jesus come and reign in our hearts, bringing the peace which he brought to the Apostles on this day. With peace in our families and fraternally united, we can do so much good.

Believe me always

Letter about Military Chaplains

Torino, 2 giugno [1]909

Carissimo D. Macey,

Rispondo alla gradita tua del 27 Maggio, in cui mi dai notizie del cappellano militare¹. Pare anche a me che quell'ufficio sia assai pericoloso pei nostri e che converrebbe meglio fosse affidato a preti secolari, ben fondati nella virtù. Il non potere far vita comune coi confratelli, il non prender parte alle pratiche di pietà, il trovarsi sempre in mezzo a secolari sono cose che infievoliscono lo spirito e mettono a repentaglio la stessa vocazione. Quanto all'attuale cappellano vedi se puoi in qualche modo mantenerlo fermo nella vocazione fino alla scadenza del suo impegno; se in questo frattempo puoi farlo sostituire di quando in quando da qualcun'altro sarà cosa buona e forse gioverà a salvarlo.

Quanto all'individuo che va questuando come Salesiano penso che qualche intelligenza abbia avuto col direttore di Nazaret: ora, trovandosi qua l'Ispettore Orientale, gliene | parlerò e vedremo che cosa si possa fare in proposito².

Quanto a D. Burle insisti quanto basta affinché smetta il vizio di fumare, anche minacciandolo di rimandarlo, se non si emenda³.

This is the first mention of what was to become a major matter of Salesian discipline in the years ahead and indeed became a bar to office or promotion, namely the 'vice' of smoking which had become an almost universal habit in Britain's industrial society since it was first imported from Virginia by Captain Drake.

4. The dedication to the Sacred Heart reflects not only Don Rua's personal devotion to this popular piety but also an interesting link with the spirituality of St Francis de Sales, whose coat of arms for the Visitation Order he founded, consisted of two pierced hearts and the motto 'Cor ad cor loquitur'.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Turin, 2 June [1]909

Dear Fr Macey,

I am replying to your letter of the 27th May, in which you give me news of the Military Chaplain. I agree this post has its dangers for our men, and it would be better entrusted to diocesan priests well-grounded in virtue. In our case, absence from the community life of the confreres, lack of attendance at the practices of piety, coupled with constant association with outsiders can only lead to the weakening of religious spirit and even to vocational doubts. Do what you can to keep the present Chaplain resolute in his vocation, right up to the end of his present commitment; in the meantime, if you can substitute him occasionally, it would be a good thing and might even be his salvation.

As for the individual who goes round begging posing as a Salesian, I take it he has some understanding with the Rector of the house in Nazareth; as the Provincial of the Middle East is over here, I shall have a word with him and see what can be done.

As for Fr Burle, insist as much as necessary that he give up smoking, even threatening to dismiss him if he does not amend his ways.

May the Lord be with you. In this month of the Sacred Heart try to kindle a fire of love for his divine heart among your dependants and parishioners; and pray too for

1. Farnborough is in the Diocese of Portsmouth.
2. Don Rua is anxious to avoid problems with the ecclesiastical authorities who had laid down a prohibition on the clergy visiting theatres at the Synod of Westminster. The problems associated with the ban were that it was not very discriminating about what kind of performances might be suitable. The bishop of Portsmouth was J. B. Cahill, an Irishman and the keenest supporter of Francis Bourne for promotion to Westminster in 1903.

Turin, 19 August [19]09

Dear Fr Macey,

A circular letter from the Bishop of Portsmouth has come into my hands. I notice that there are several points in it which particularly concern you - I mean, the Salesians in that Diocese. I am referring particularly to the theatre and the use of bicycles. If you are unaware of the document, it would be wise to make enquiries. It bears the date of June 7th of the current year. Reference is made in it to various synods over there, so both yourself and the Rector of our house in the Diocese should make a point of studying the synods, with particular reference to the points that concern us. Instruct that Rector to conform to these rulings as soon as you can.

May the Lord bless you and assist you in your Retreats, making them truly fruitful. To that end he is invoked by

A note about correspondence with the Bishop of Cape Town

Carissimo D. Tozzi,

Dopo il telegramma, che già conosci, del tuo Vescovo con cui ci annunciava di non poter farci l'implorato prestito, in data 28 Luglio mi scrisse una bella lettera, colla quale dimostra l'impossibilità di tale favore. Io ti notifico la cosa affinché tu, andando a rimborsarlo delle spese del telegramma, voglia pure ringraziarlo di questa lettera e presentargli i nostri rispettosì omaggi¹.

Ti rinnovo gli auguri di buon viaggio e di ottima riuscita nella tua grande impresa al qual fine non mancherà di pregare²

1. Fr Rua's concern to sustain good relations with the Bishop is explained by the early history of the Salesians in Cape Town when the bishop's actions pushed them into bankruptcy.
2. This seems to be a note for Fr Tozzi's return journey to Cape Town.

Dear Fr. Tozzi,

Following the telegram from your Bishop, that you already know about, in which he declared himself unable to offer us the loan we had requested, on 21st July he wrote me a lovely letter explaining the impossibility of granting us that favour. I am letting you know this so that when you go to refund him the cost of the telegram, you may also thank him for his letter and pay him our respects.

Once again I wish you a safe journey and the best possible outcome of your great undertakings. I shall pray for this.

Yours aff.ly in J. and M.

VGMG Seminario delle Missioni Estere, Via Valsalice 39, Torino, Egregio Signore¹,

- La carità di nostro Signor Gesù Cristo, mi ob[b]liga a presentarmi con questo scritto alla S.V. dalla cui pietà spero un benigno compatimento. Alla S.V. non tornerà
 5 ignoto il nome del Sac. D. Giovanni Bosco di Torino, il quale colle sue opere di carità e di fede, seppe guadagnarsi la stima e l'ammirazione di tutte le persone dabbene e la fama di un grande benefattore dell'umanità. La sollecitudine di questo grand'uomo, fu specialmente rivolta a sollievo dei fanciulli più poveri ed abbandonati. Coadiuvato da una pia società di suoi discepoli, che intitolò da S. Francesco di Sales, egli li rac-
 10 coglieva in apposite case, li ammaestrava nella religione e nella virtù e in pari tempo, applicando gli uni allo studio, gli altri ad una arte o mestiere, li rendeva capaci a guadagnarsi | onestamente il pane della vita, con grande vantaggio delle famiglie e della civile società. Nel corso di quasi 50 anni ascendono a più centinaia di mila, i fanciulli che per mezzo suo, tolti dalle vie e dalle piazze e seriamente educati ed istruiti, di-
 15 vennero e sono tuttavia uomini dabbene, buoni padri di famiglia, onorati cittadini, ed illustrarono e illustrano la società col senno e colla mano. Morendo nel 1888 D. Bosco lasciava in eredità al sottoscritto, quasi 300 mila giovanetti sparsi nelle varie Case di Italia, Francia, Spagna e d'America, ai quali, mediante le limosine di persone caritatevoli, si provvede tuttora il pane materiale, intellettuale e morale.
- Un'istituto consimile ai 200 e più altri, D. Bosco divisava di aprire eziandio nella città di Londra. Nel 1887 coll'approvazione del Sommo Pontefice Leone XIII, egli si incaricava di una Missione nella regione detta Battersea, dove abbondano fami-
 25 pei fanciulli, manca però una casa per accogliere i più poveri ed abbandonati. Egli stava per mettere mano altresì alla fondazione di un'Ospizio od Orfanotrofio, quando la morte glielo venne ad impedire.

- Dopo la sua morte si poté ampliar la scuola e la chiesa parrocchiale che venne fabbricata in muratura in proporzioni molto più vaste per soddisfare ai bisogni della 30 crescente popolazione e per supplire la capella antica che, essendo di ferro e legno ed ormai cadente, per ordine municipale dovevasi demolire: fu mediante imprestito acquistato un vasto terreno, ove diedesi principio ad un orfanotrofio. In esso già son raccolti in piccoli fabbricati poveri fanciulli in numero da 60 a 70.

- Pare ora giunto il momento per eseguire il disegno e incoronare l'opera del
 35 Sant'Uomo. Si tratta appunto di aprire una casa più spaziosa con laboratori di arti e mestieri nel luogo suddetto, allo scopo di raccogliere molti altri giovanetti, che poveri orfani od abbandonati hanno bisogno di uno che li accolga, li avvii a guadagnarsi onestamente il pane della vita e insieme loro impartisca quell'istruzione, che li possa rendere utili a se stessi e alla società. Ma mancano i fondi per ampliare il caseggiato e

- Io ed i miei aiutanti siamo disposti a consacrare ogni fatica ed anche la vita, per 45 assistere, istruire, educare i fanciulli, che ci saranno affidati; ma del nostro non abbiamo un soldo per incominciare la fabbrica. Tutto io aspetto dalla carità delle persone di buon cuore, tra cui sono lieto di computare la S. V. Qualunque offerta che ella mi faccia pel nobile fine, la riceverò con riconoscenza e gratitudine, e mentre terrò registrata la S. V. tra i benefattori dell'opera pregherò il buon Dio che gliene conceda il centuplo su questa terra, e scriva il nome di lei nel libro della vita. 50

Vorrei addurre più ragioni per muovere la S.V. a prestarmi aiuto efficace nell'opera indicata, ma alla sua esimia pietà, basta il ricordare la predilezione del divin Salvatore pei fanciulli, il gran numero di poveri orfanelli, immersi in tanta miseria, che ad ogni animo ben fatto ispirano la più viva compassione, e il riflesso che ricoverati e saviamente educati non solo diverranno buoni cristiani e pregheranno per noi, ma fatti uomini gioveranno eziandio al benessere della civile | società e saranno un'arca sicura di buon ordine e di moralità. 55

Nella fiducia che la S. V. non vorrà rigettare quest'umile mio ricorso, le prego da Dio ogni felicità temporale ed eterna, mentre ho l'onore di professarmi con pie- nezza di stima e profonda gratitudine 60

Di V. S.

Obbli.mo Servitore

Seminary of the Foreign Missions, Via Valsalice, 39 Turin

Distinguished sir,

The love of our Lord Jesus Christ obliges me (in this letter) to present myself to you from whom I hope for kind tolerance. The name of Fr John Bosco of Turin will not be unknown to you for his works of charity and a faith that gained for him the esteem and admiration of all good people and the reputation of being a great benefactor of humanity. The concern of this great man was devoted particularly to poor and abandoned children. Assisted by a pious society of his disciples, under the title of St Francis de Sales, he gathered them in suitable houses, taught them religion and virtue and at the same time by encouraging some to study and others to learn arts and trades, he made them capable of honestly earning their daily bread, to the great advantage of their families and of civil society. Over the course of about 50 years, the number of children has grown to hundreds of thousands who have left the streets and squares and now, educated and instructed, are becoming and already are honest men, fathers of families, honoured citizens, who embellish society with their intelligence and with the work of their hands. When he died in 1888 Don Bosco left the undersigned about 300 thousand youngsters spread across various houses throughout Italy, France, Spain and America, for whom we continually provide food for body, mind and heart through the alms of charitable persons.

Don Bosco also wanted to open in the city of London, an institute similar to more than 200 others. In 1887, with the approval of the Holy Father Pope Leo XIII, he assumed a mission in the region of Battersea, where there were many poor families and a multitude of poor children in need of instruction and many even of recovery. There now already exists a church for the adults and day schools for the children; however, what is still missing is a home to welcome the poorest and most abandoned. He had put his hand into setting-up a Hospice and Orphanage, when death intervened to halt his labours.

After his death, it was possible to enlarge the school and parish Church which were rebuilt in brick on a much larger scale in order to satisfy the needs of the growing population and to replace the old chapel which had been made of iron and wood and, as it was falling down, had to be demolished by order of the Town Council. We were able, by means of a loan, to acquire a large property which we gave over, first of all, to an orphanage. Very poor children, numbering between 60 and 70, are already gathered there in small workshops.

Now, it seems, is the hour to act upon our plan and to crown the work of that saintly man. We are negotiating now to open a more spacious house with workshops for arts and trades on this site with the aim of gathering more youngsters who, as poor orphans or having been abandoned, need someone to welcome them, and guide them to earn the bread of life honestly and, at the same time, impart that teaching which will make them useful to themselves and to society. But we lack the funds to extend the accommodation and the Orphanage. It is my desire to prepare a place for two or three hundred poor children for which the necessary sum is not less than 200 thousand francs. Knowing how in these circumstances the late lamented Don Bosco used to act, and following his example I turn to your kindness.

My helpers and I are ready to consecrate every effort and even our lives to assist, instruct and educate the children who are entrusted to us, but of our own resources we do not have one penny to spend on beginning the building. I await everything from the charity of people of good-will among whom I am delighted to count yourself. Whatever offering you make for this noble purpose will be welcomed with deep gratitude, and while I will register you among the benefactors of the work, I will pray the good God to grant you the hundred-fold on this earth and write your name in the Book of Life.

I would wish to offer more reasons to move you to come effectively to our aid in this work, but knowing your outstanding piety, I know it is enough to recall the love our Divine Saviour had for children, indeed the great number of orphans immersed in such misery which in every good soul inspires the most vivid compassion, and that as a result of being recovered and imparted a healthy education they will not only become good Christians and pray for us, but will also become men ready to work for the good of civil society and a sound support for good order and morality.

Confident that you will not reject this humble request, I pray God to grant you every happiness, temporal and eternal. In the meantime I have the honour to express to you my profound esteem and gratitude.

Your most obedient servant.

1. Offerings in money can be sent by postal order or by registered secure letter to Fr Michael Rua at Via Cottolengo No. 32, Turin, or alternatively to Fr Charles Macey, Parish Priest, Battersea, London.

2. Those who charitably decide to make offerings are kindly asked to write their name and address clearly so that, as soon as we receive their offering, we can send them a thank-you note for their peace of mind.

3. If anyone from the town or from your district would like to better contribute to the aforesaid building by providing some part of the materials such as bricks, stone, mortar, or similar, let me know by the ordinary means and I can assure them that their work will be most welcome.

4. If anyone would like to visit the orphanage as it starts, they would be most welcome, the entrance is in Street.

My dear Fr Rabagliati (Burwash),

I was very pleased to have your letter of the 6th of the present month. I suppose you are aware that several times we have sent different sums of money to Fr Macey for the extension of your house in Burwash. We shall go on doing so as long as Providence continues to provide the means. I was sorry to what extent you had to go to get rid of that Sicilian priest; but you did very well in obeying even though it was painful for you. - You must be careful not to accept such reckless priests, for the problems and risks they bring, outweigh the advantages. - If you see Fr Agostino give him my regards and tell him I am very pleased at his new situation and thank God for the same. - Keep cheerful. Letter about various questions of personnel

Oratorio di S. Francesco di Sales, Via Cottolengo, 32 Torino,

Carissimo D. Macey,

Comincio a rispondere alla tua per quanto riguarda la proposta che vorresti fare di tre dei tuoi chierici alla professione religiosa. Non avrei difficoltà posto che
5 l'Ispettore ed il Capitolo delle varie case li giudicassero degni - ma v'è altro che non dipende da noi.

1. Malloy ha fatto i voti triennali solo il 6 Ottobre 1904
2. Walsh il 5 giugno 1903
- 10 3. O'Shannesoy è iscritto dal 27 settembre 1904 e solamente jeri il Cap. Sup. l'ammise alla professione triennale.

Come sai non dipende dai Superiori dispensare dalla prova della Professione religiosa¹. - Roma dopo insistenze mi ha concesso di poter dispensare di due mesi dei

Se siamo ancora a tempo crederei meglio che tu mandassi qua il ch.co che volevi destinare per D. Tozzi. Qui si potrà aggiustar meglio chi dovrà andare al Capo 20 di Buona Speranza e chi a Malta. Per altra parte ci fa anche piacere poter conoscere personalmente i cari confratelli destinati a quei lontani paesi.

Va tanto bene che tu mandi un chierico a Malta: se non vi è troppo aumento di spesa, sarà meglio farlo passare di qui venendo con D. Robin, a cui potrai dire che non lo manderemo fuori di Europa, eccetto il caso che egli stesso lo desiderasse².
25 Quanto al ch.co Bannan sarà molto opportuno che possa finire il suo Noviziato, avendo inteso che mancano ancora parecchi mesi al compimento.

P.S. Mentre mi trovava in procinto di spedirti³ le presenti arrivò il caro D. Robin.

1. The right to admit candidates to Profession obviously still lay with the Superior Chapter in Turin but they were constrained by Canon Law which had been tightened up considerably in 1906. The right to dispense up to two months from temporary triennial vows in order to allow candidates to make final profession had been secured from Rome, but with difficulty.

2. Clearly, too, Don Rua liked to get to know those who were being sent out to far away places.

3. From the internal evidence, the date of this letter must be some time before the triennial profession of O'Shannessy which took place 1.01.1906.

To Fr Charles B. Macey

Oratorio di S. Francesco de Sales Via Cottolengo 32 - Turin,

Dearest Fr Macey,

I begin by replying to the proposal which you wish to make regarding the religious profession of three of your clerics. I have no difficulty, provided the Provincial and the Council of the various houses judge them to be worthy - But there are other factors which do not depend on us.

1. Malloy has made triennial vows only on 6th October 1904.
2. Walsh on the 5th June 1903.
3. O'Shannessy was inscribed as a novice only on September 27th 1904, and only yesterday did the Superior Chapter admit him to triennial profession.

As you know it does not depend on the Superiors to dispense from the trial period of religious profession. Rome after some insistence has granted me the power to dispense two months from triennial vows and I will willingly use this faculty in favour of your clerics. It is necessary, however, that each one of them make a declaration that they wish to make use of this indult. There will be some time, however, until they are to finish their triennial period.

If there is still time I think it might be better to send here the cleric you intended for Fr Tozzi. Here we can better judge who should go to the Cape of Good Hope and who to Malta. As well as that, it is also a pleasure to know personally the dear confreres who are being destined for those far away places.

It is great that you are sending a cleric to Malta; if it does not add too much to the cost, it might be better to make him pass through here, coming with Fr Robin, to whom you can say that we will not send him outside Europe, unless he himself should desire it. As for the cleric Bannan, it is necessary that he finish his novitiate, granted that he still lacks several months for its completion.

The sooner the two above mentioned can arrive, the better. The Lord bless you all.

Yours affectionately in Jesus and Mary,
Fr Michael Rua.

P.S. While I was about to send this letter, dear Fr Robin arrived.
